

THE POSTMASTER TELLS HIS FRIENDS

WHAT THEY SHOULD USE
DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR KIDNEY ILLS.

He had Backache for a long time but Dodd's Kidney Pills cured it. That is why he recommends them.

Dyment, Ont., May 15, (Special)—John Olberg, postmaster here, and well-known throughout this entire neighborhood, is telling his friends that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the cure for all forms of Kidney Disease. And when they ask how he knows, this is the answer he gives: "I was troubled with Backache for a long time and Dodd's Kidney Pills cured it. That's why I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from Kidney Disease."

And the postmaster is not the only one in this neighborhood who has found relief from their Kidney ills in the old reliable remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. Others there are whose Rheumatism has been relieved, whose Dropsy has vanished, and whose Urinary Troubles have been cured. For if the disease is of the Kidneys, or caused by the Kidneys being out of order, Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure it.

POOR CHAP.

"Poor Riggsley! I met him a moment ago, and he seemed to be terribly depressed. I hadn't heard before he mentioned it that he had lost his wife. When did it happen?"

"His wife? Riggsley hasn't lost his wife. You misunderstood him. I met him just after he'd been talking to you, and he told me he had lost his pipe."

"Oh, his pipe! And I let him pass on without giving him more than a word or two of sympathy."

Why suffer from corns when they can be painlessly rooted out by using Holloway's Corn Cure.

Small Boy—"Pa, what is an optimist?" Pa—"An optimist, my son, is a man who doesn't care a rap what happens, so that it doesn't happen to him."

Mr. Tymid—"I asked your father for his consent over the telephone." Miss Chance—"What did he say?" Mr. Tymid—"He said, 'I don't know who you are, but you can take her.'"

These Pills Cure Rheumatism.—To the many who suffer from rheumatism a trial of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is recommended. They have pronounced action upon the liver and kidneys and by regulating the action of these organs act as an alternative in preventing the admixture of uric acid and blood that causes this painful disorder. They must be taken according to directions and used steadily and they will speedily give evidence of their beneficial effects.

Grease stains on leather may be removed by carefully applying benzine or perfectly pure turpentine. Wash the spots over afterwards with the well-beaten white of an egg.

Husband—"After all, civilization has its drawbacks. People in the savage state seldom get ill." Wife (sweetly)—"I wonder if that's the reason you are so healthy?"

"I may look like a tramp, ma'am, but I ain't. I'm a sailor, I am; I was wrecked and washed ashore." Said the unsympathetic but observant woman: "That must have been a long time ago!"

A FATAL HARVEST.

Green Food Proved as Fatal as the Famine Itself.

One is so accustomed to hearing of China's famines that such news makes little impression. Yet the announcement that at the present time three thousand are dying daily from starvation and cold, and three hundred and fifty thousand are dependent on foreign relief, ought to convey to even far distant intelligence some conception of the terrible fact. It is horrible to think of the slow and torturing death brought on by these famines, yet few realize that with the first harvest comes a danger almost as great as that imposed by the lack of food. Richard Lovett describes this state of affairs in "James Gilmour of Mongolia."

Of all those dead by famine in northern China, the suffering of one class was, perhaps, more distressing than the others. A large number died just as the plentiful harvest ripened. Through all the hard, dreary months, when day after day, month after month, they looked and longed for rain, those I now speak of struggled, kept up hope, fared hard, hoped eagerly, and at last saw the rain come, saw the crops flourish and begin to ripen, and congratulated themselves and others on the prospect of abundant food and better days.

But they were to see it with their eyes, not to eat thereof. The great mass of people was too much reduced in bodily strength by the long period of semistarvation. Summer and the early autumn came, and the rains and attendant age, still more reducing the strength of the already emaciated frames. You can imagine them, then, with lean faces and hungry eyes, tottering about the fields and counting the days which must elapse before the grain should ripen. The rage of hunger was no longer to be borne. They anticipated by a few days the ripening. They took grain still a little green, and put it in the pot.

But here was another difficulty. The fuel used is grain stalks, and famine at once deprives the farmer of food and fuel. Green grain they might cook, but green grain stalks would not burn. Was it a wonder that they fell upon the half cooked green grain, and after months of the slow torture of unappeased hunger, ate to fullness? Disease thus set in, and proved as fatal as the famine itself.

THE LISTENER.

"That woman who lives next door, James," said Eliza, the young married woman, to her husband, "is the laziest, dreadfulest, most gossiping person I have met during my whole life. She does nothing but talk, morning, noon, and night. I am perfectly certain that she can never get any work done."

"Ah," replied her husband, "I thought she was a chatterbox. And to whom does she talk all day long?"

"Why, my dear, to me, of course," was the reply. "She talks to me over the garden wall."

CURED HIS LAME BACK.

West Fort William, Nov. 7th, 1908.—"I have been troubled with a lame back for the past twenty years and have used plasters and Ointments without effect. At last I tried Gin Pills, which proved just the thing, and I would highly recommend them to anyone who has a Strained or Lame Back."

FERDINAND THE FAITHFUL.

Wearily Ferdinand the frayed trudged up the garden path, and took off his hat to the woman at the door.

She eyed him keenly, and a quick flash of recognition passed over her countenance.

"Look here," she said, "you called at this house in the depth of last winter."

"I did, ma'am," he sorrowfully admitted.

"And I gave you a good square meal on condition that you swept the snow out of my backyard."

"That's right, ma'am."

"And when you had the meal you sneaked off without doing it."

Ferdinand passed the back of his hand tremulously over his eyes.

"Yes, ma'am," he said brokenly, "and my conscience smote me for the mean trick. That's why I've tramped all the way back under the scorching sun to finish the job!"

A SURPRISE PARTY.

An Incident of the Early Days of the Northwest.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, it is announced, will open up in the spring fifty new towns situated on branch lines. The great Northwest is becoming one of the settled countries of the world. The necessities for "roughing it" are growing less. To-day the traveller finds a far different country from that described by J. A. Lees and W. J. Clutterbuck in "B. C. 1887." Among some of the anecdotes related by them is the following. It is the old story of the tenderfoot, but with a new ending.

A Britisher, settled out there, appeared one Sunday in a "stove-pipe" hat. The citizens expressed their appreciation by pouncing out of corners and other places of vantage, and bonneting the unfortunate wearer. The first "topper" was thus reduced to pulp. However, the undaunted proprietor appeared the next Sunday with a lovely new one, which one of the "boys" marked as his prey when they came out of church.

The joker was a tall man. He swung his hand aloft and brought it flat down on the hat with wonderful emphasis. The populace yelled with delight. The joker yelled also, but from a different cause.

The worthy stickler for "stove-pipe" hats had skilfully inserted tacks beneath and through the crown of his head-gear in such a way that they stuck upward through the nap. Now, if he chooses to keep his hat on during the service no one remonstrates.

Tramp—"Lady, I'm perishin' fer a drink." Woman—"There's the pump." Tramp—"I said a drink, lady—not a bath."

Trial is Inexpensive.—To those who suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism or any ailment arising from derangement of the digestive system, a trial of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is recommended, should the sufferer be unacquainted with them. The trial will be inexpensive and the result will be another customer for this excellent medicine. So effective is their action that many cures can certainly be traced to their use where other pills have proved ineffective.

The schoolmaster was explaining the circulation of the blood. "If I were to stand on my head, the blood would rush to my head, wouldn't it?" No one contradicted him. "Now," he continued, "when I stand on my feet, why doesn't it rush to my feet?" "Because," the bright boy suggested, "your feet ain't empty!"

WHY?

Mrs. Hashehouse—"Your boots squeak; that's a sign they ain't paid for!"

Slimdiet—"If there's anything in that sign, why don't my coat, vest, pants and hat squeak?"

Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is a speedy cure for dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera, summer complaint, sea sickness and complaints incidental to children teething. It gives immediate relief to those suffering from the effects of indiscretion in eating unripe fruit, cucumbers, etc. It acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to conquer the disease. No one need fear cholera if they have a bottle of this medicine convenient.

REST AND HEALTH TO MOTHER AND CHILD.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEETHING, with PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALLAYS ALL PAIN; CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for DIARRHOEA. It is absolutely harmless. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

"Is your husband even-tempered?" "Yes," answered Mrs. Wuryrd, "he's even-tempered enough. He's just about as irritable one day as another."

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

Algernon—"You say she has only partially returned your affection?" Clarence—"Yes; and that's what I'm grumbling at. She returned all the love-letters, but retained all the jewellery."

Do your feet feel tired, achy, and sore at night? Rub them with a little Hamlin's Wizard Oil. They'll be glad in the morning and so will you.

"What is it, do you suppose, that keeps the moon in place and prevents it from falling?" asked Araminta. "I think it must be the beams," replied Charlie softly.

It Rubs Pain Away.—There is no liniment so efficacious in overcoming pain as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The hand that rubs it in rubs the pain away and on this account there is no preparation that stands so high in public esteem. There is no surer pain-killer procurable, as thousands can attest who have used it successfully in treating many ailments.

Anybody can buy a horse, but it takes a rich man to get it paid for.

SUBMARINES AND WIRELESS.

The British Admiralty has decided to equip certain classes of submarine naval boats with wireless telegraph apparatus. Experiments last year convinced the officials that the plan is feasible. No difficulty was found in receiving messages from a distance of fifty miles in every direction but there was considerable difficulty in sending messages from the submerged vessels. This has been overcome, it is thought, by the plan of giving each boat a mast and gaff for supporting the aerial wires, means being provided for lowering the mast to the level of the upper deck when not in use. Water tight sockets in the upper deck permit the passage of the wires down to the instruments in the hull of the vessel.
