

PROVINCIAL POLICE REPORT

During Half Year 70 Per Cent. of the Cases Were Convicted

A despatch from Toronto says: In the half-yearly report of Superintendent of Provincial Police for the period from November 1 to April 30, some 820 cases were handled, which is a decrease of twenty-nine over the corresponding period of a year ago. Of these practically seventy per cent., or 577, were convicted, 107 persons were discharged, in the case of ten the charges were withdrawn, and ninety-six stood awaiting trial. Of this latter number most of the cases have since been disposed of by Judges on circuit. There were 220 persons prosecuted under the liquor license act, which is an increase of fifty-nine; 186 convictions were secured, an increase of forty-five; seventeen charges were dismissed and three withdrawn. The seizures show an interesting collection, viz., 5,334 bottles of whiskey, 111½ gallons of whiskey in various receptacles, 14,280 bottles of beer, 172 barrels and cases of beer, forty-eight bottles of wine, thirty-eight bottles of brandy, sixty-eight bottles of gin, and forty-two gallons of wines in different receptacles. Under the offensive weapons act, the sale of 514 revolvers and pistols has been registered with the department. Under the game and fisheries act there were seventy prosecutions, forty-seven convictions and thirteen cases discharged. Only ten remain to be dealt with at the present time. During the half year officers stationed at frontier points have handed over 346 persons to the Immigration Department for deportation, or 183 more than in the corresponding period last year. Mr. Rogers emphasizes the fact that this is an important branch of the police work, and points out that the charges of vagrancy have been reduced nearly fifty per cent.

As a result of the prosecutions instituted some $14,000 has been collected in fines.

He was hurried to the City Hospital in an unconscious state, but recovered consciousness during the afternoon. Jealousy is the cause of the tragedy.

ROYALTY WATCH CAVALRY

King and Queen's Interest in the Manoeuvres at Aldershot

A despatch from London says: King George watched the cavalry manoeuvres at Aldershot from horseback on the hilltop, whither the Queen had gone in an automobile to join him, on Thursday. The Queen came out of the automobile, but was hardly able to stand the boisterous gale. She was obliged to grab her hat to hold it from the wind and the dust of the galloping horses, which together raised smothering dust clouds which often hid the soldiers. Afterwards the was an arduous mimic artillery battle. The airmen tried to co-operate in the manoeuvres, but were prevented by the terrible gale. King George purposes spending four or five days in the field with the troops manoeuvring at Aldershot about the last week of this month. Except that he will lodge at the palatial Royal pavilion, the visit will be informal. The King will spend the days in the saddle like an ordinary trooper. He will also thoroughly inspect the army aviation school and factory.
