

HE COULD NOT SLEEP AT NIGHTS

TILL HE FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Fred. Swanson, of Saskatchewan, sends a message of cheer to those who feel the weariness and discouragement that comes from broken rest.

Macklin, Sask., Jan. 13 (Special).—Those who suffer from sleepless nights and get up in the morning feeling tired and discouraged will find renewed hope in the statement made by Fred Swanson of this place. He could not sleep at nights. He discovered the cause. It was kidney trouble. He discovered the cure. It is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Yes," Mr. Swanson says in an interview regarding his case, "I was troubled with my kidneys for over a year, so bad that I could not sleep at nights. After using one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I found great relief. Four boxes removed all my pain and now I sleep well and I am as strong in my kidneys as any man."

If the kidneys are wrong the blood becomes clogged with impurities and natural rest is an impossibility. Strong, healthy kidneys mean pure blood, new life all over the body and that delightful rest that is the sweetest thing in life. Dodd's Kidney Pills always make strong, healthy kidneys.

MUSICAL LEGS AND WINGS.

How Katydid's Fiddle and Seventeen-Year Locusts Drum.

Many of the little folks of field and forest have fine musical instruments and play them night and day for three or four months of the year. The long-horned grasshopper, or true katydid, is the leader of the band.

He has two sets of wings, the outer ones used for flying, the inner ones making up the bow and fiddle. Near the base of these inner wings is fastened a set of strong veins. When he moves them so that the veins on each wing rub together it makes a funny little wry sound, and that is what is called "grasshopper's fiddling."

Our common little green grasshopper is another fine player. His fiddle is attached to one wing, and he uses his hind leg for a bow. On this leg is a line of little beadlike lumps, from each of which grow a number of fine hairs. When Mr. Grasshopper draws this leg back and forth over his wings his love songs thrill out on the summer air.

His poor little mate tries hard to make the same kind of music; she goes through the same motions, but can never produce a single sound. She never grows discouraged, but keeps it up night and day, and I suppose her lover takes the will for the deed and loves her just the same.

Another first-class fiddler is the cricket. His tune is loud and shrill. One tune by night, one by day, is his rule. He has even been known to change his note when the clouds darkened the sun for a while in the day. Some insects beat little drums when they want to make music.

The seventeen-year locust has two tiny drums fastened to his abdomen. They are fixed firm and tight, and to each one is attached a strong muscle which the insect can tighten or relax at will. It makes a sound something like beating on a tin pan and will drown out every other musical note of the summer day.

Another queer player is the death-watch beetle. He burrows into old wood, and makes a tap-tap as he pushes along.

The longicorn beetle produces a rattling sound by the friction of his scaly neck. Many others of our fairy-like friends have musical arrangements that make us think of fiddles. In fact the violins of our own use were probably suggested by these little fiddlers of nature.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S TACT.

In the bright days of her reign at Buckingham Palace it came to the knowledge of Queen Alexandra that one of the housemaids, who had for some years been in the Royal Service, had suffered severely over an affair of the heart.

Queen Alexandra sent for the girl, and after learning all about the matter, consoled her and sent her off to Sandringham for a change.

Then her Majesty summoned the errant lover, who also held a domestic position in the Palace. After a kindly and tactful homily, Queen Alexandra, with humorous tact, sent the young man also to Sandringham.

Very shortly thereafter the couple returned to town, and there was a wedding sequel, with the Royal blessing.

Had Pains in Back, Side, and Chest

Suffered for Weeks, But Finally Found a Quick, Sure Relief.

Cured Quickly by "Nerviline."

No stronger proof of the wonderful merit of Nerviline could be produced than the letter of Miss Lucy Mosher, who for years has been a well-known resident of Windsor, N. S.

"I want to add my unsolicited testimony to the efficacy of your wonderful liniment, 'Nerviline.' I consider it the best remedy for a cold, sore throat, wheezing tightness in the chest, etc., and can state that for years our home has never been without Nerviline. I had a dreadful attack of cold, that settled on my chest, that fourteen different remedies couldn't break up. I rubbed on Nerviline three times a day, used Nerviline as a gargle, and was completely restored. I have induced dozens of my friends to use Nerviline, and they are all delighted with its wonderful power over pain and sickness.

"You are at liberty to publish this signed letter, which I hope will show the way to health to many that need to use Nerviline. (Signed) 'LUCY MOSHER.'"

All sorts of aches, pains, and sufferings—internal and external—yield to Nerviline. Accept no substitute. Large family size bottles, 50c.; trial size, 25c., at all dealers, or the Catarhzone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Smoked Longest Pipe.

Though few have heard of it, there is an English pipe smoking championship, though meetings do not seem to be held regularly. The last contest was held at a hall in Holborn two years ago, when a new English record was set up for the length of time a pipe could be made to last. In these contests exactly one-eighth of an ounce is weighed out by the judge, the use of adulterants being strictly forbidden. The winner, a barber from Southampton, who had won the medal twice previous, coaxed his pipe into delaying its final puff till two hours and ten minutes had elapsed from the time it was lit. These smoking contests are very popular in Belgium and Holland.

MAY SOLVE LIVING PROBLEM.

A Fruit Tree Called the Avocado Grows in Mexico.

Meat is still going up in price, but this fact need not worry housewives much longer, for a new food product has been discovered by some agricultural experts, says Pearson's Weekly.

This new product, which it is claimed will help to solve the question of the increasing cost of living, is a fruit tree called the Avocado, growing in Mexico.

The fruit of the tree is pear-shaped, but the queer part about it is that it is composed of the substances which are to be found in meat.

It contains about 20 per cent. of fat and many other ingredients of great food value, and it is said that one good-sized "meat" pear is quite sufficient to make a meal for the average man.

Some experts have grown quite enthusiastic about it; it is far superior to the banana, they say, and is, in fact, "the most valuable fruit known."

The natives of Mexico live almost entirely on the Avocado, and it is hoped that with a sufficient supply of the trees the world could do away with meat entirely.

If this does happen how vegetarians will welcome it!

The reason why the fruit is so little known at present is because it is grown nowhere on a large scale, what few trees there are grow round the huts of the natives, where they flourish with little care, and afford easy meals for the indolent owners.

To Aid China Agriculturists.

The republic of China has established a department of agriculture and forestry on modern lines, and this institution has begun publishing an agricultural journal (all in Chinese), which appears three times a month. It is understood that a national meteorological service will be established as a branch of this department, and that it will be under the direction of Dr. Hing Kwai Fung, who was educated at Cornell University, and who for the year past has been attached to the bureau of plant industry in Washington as an agricultural expert. Dr. Fung has started for China by way of Europe, where he will make a round of visits to meteorological observatories.
