-An Aiderman's Opnortunity-Lodal Option-A Bright Newsboy. The visit of Gaby Deslys presented a ourious study in pycchology. In ability and appearance this famous young wo an has little to distinction her from thousands of other actreases. She is net-ther a great singer nor a great dancer and her beauty is of the not unfamiliar doll type. But the fact that, according to a report, she was once the favorite of a king is her great asset. The theatre hours before the doors opened each after noon and evening a string of men ex-bourgeois girl who has taken the name of Gabrielle of the Lilies, must be put of Gabrielle of the Lilies, must be put of Gabrielle of the Lilies, must be put which is curious about everything per tatification in knowing that Toronto is hy no means alone in this weakness. Mr. O'Nelli's Success.

Mr. O'Nelli's Success. The surprise of the Municipal election in Toronto was the phenomenal vote polled by John O'Neill in the race for the Board of Control. Mr. O'Neill is a Liberal Roman Catholic who in Orange Tory Toronto polled the second highest vote of the eleven candidates. This is just one of those unusual events which control. Mr. O'Neill is a monetimes vary the monotony of voting in this comewhat unusual ofty. Mr. O'Neill is a man of no little per-sonal strength. He has a human, affec-tionate element in his make up which makes friends easily and holds them fast. He is also a man of wealth, being largely interested in real estate and in several hotel properties, one of which, the St. Charles, is a well-known down-town Droperty controlled by his brother. Some criticism has been offered azainst that he spent too much money. There is no suggestion that any of this money was spent for corrupt purposes, but he used printing and advertising very er-that his election cost him not less than $5,000. His ealary as Controller will be $5,000. The argument is that such a scale of or penditure makes it impossible for a provented to get his necessary expenses by which are on the form of the boart of Con-trol, or if he does run, that he will be wraft or other improper means at the utimate expense of the city. It is likely that the movement to require the publica-tion of all election expenses and perhaps o limit the will assume considerable proportions

Ald. Wickett's Opportunity.

Ald. Wickett's Opportunity. At' the Council Board there are many new faces, including Dr. Morley Wickett, the "high brow" caudidate who headed the poll in his ward. Dr. Wickett now has an excellent chance to put his theories of Municipal Government into practice. His friends say he will make good. If he does he will have little trouble in be-ing elected to the Board of Control in the may of schair, especially as during the last year or two the calibre of Conser-vatives offering for the highest positions in the oity has not been, in some instanc-es, nearly up to the standard of the party in Toronto. For this reason the path of Dr. Wickett, who is a prominent Conser-vative, ought to be easier than it other-wise would be. Interest in Local Option.

Interest in Local Option.

Municipal elections throughout Municipal elections throughout the Province have now come to be oversha-dowed, as far as interest in Toronto is concerned, by the local option campaign. With the results this year both temper-ance and liquor men profess to be satis-fied. To the Temperance forces the fact that they held practically all of the muni-cipalities where repeals of the act were attempted is proof that in no section of the province has sentiment begun to turn against the cause, and the fact that to those municipalities already held they have been able to add a considerable number of others is particularly encour-Skidegates to Have Electric Lights and Sewers.

While the Indians of the Queen Charlotte Islands have already a national reputation for enterprise the Skidegates, whose village lies at the southern end of Vancouver Island, have in view the most ambitious undertaking ever projected by a coast Indian nation.

During this year they propose installing an electrical system for lighting their village and furnishing power for a variety of industrial enterprises to be carried forward on co-operative principles. They will also put in a modern sewerage system, waterworks and complete fire protection equipment.

The Skidegates are just a little ahead of the whites of British Columbia in the encouragement of a love of art, offering a tribal prize annually for the best specimen of original composition. Their band enjoys the reputation of being the best Indian band in America. Its honorary president is H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, Governor-

DREADED TO EAT.

A Quaker Couple's Experience.

How many persons dread to eat their meals, although actually hungry nearly all the time!

Nature never intended this should be so, for we are given a thing called appetite that should guide us as to what the system needs at any time and can digest.

But we get in a hurry, swallow our food very much as we shovel coal into the furnace, and our senses of appetite becomes unnatural and perverted. Then we eat the wrong kind of food or eat too much, and there you are-indigestion and its accompanying miseries. An Eastern lady said:

"My husband and I have been sick and nervous for 15 or 20 years from drinking coffee-feverish, indigestion, totally unfit, a good part of the time, for work or pleasure. We actually dreaded to eat our meals. (Tea is just as injurious, because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.)

"We tried doctors and patent medicines that counted up into hundreds of dollars, with little if any benefit. "Accidentally, a small package of Postum came into my hands. made some according to directions, with surprising results. We both liked it and have not used any coffee since. "The dull feeling after meals has left us and we feel better every way. We are so well satisfied with Postum that we recommend it to our friends who have been made sick and nervous and miserable by coffee." Name given upon request. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

THE KAISER'S DAUGHTER.

The apple of Kaiser William's eye is his only daughter, the Princess Louise Victoria, about whose matrimonial future speculation is rife.

She is already a prominent figure in Berlin society, having never been kept in the seclusion which has been the lot of many princesses. She has frequented, since her debut, the select theatres and concert halls of the German capital, and drives deftly her own pony-cart almost daily in the Thiergarten, where she has ridden from the time she was quite a tiny girl.

The princess is of distinguished presentment, and as full of pluck and spirit as any one of her six brothers—which is saying a good deal.

Dressed in superb white satin, and wearing a simple ribbon wound

TO KEEP THE DEVIL OUT. Curious Scheme of English Parson to Make People Good.

Some of the more out-of-the-way parts of Cornwall, England, can offer many singular sights to the visitors. None of these is more curious, however, than that which is to be seen in the small Village of Veryan, in the southern part of the county.

On each side of the main roads which lead to the group of cottages clustered around the church there are to be seen certain queer looking round houses, each surmounted by a cross. These cottages, according to a writer in the Wide World, were built with the object of keeping the devil out of the village.

More than a hundred years ago the vicar of the parish was a cer-tain Jeremiah Twist, a parson who seems to have been a most worthy man, though curiously superstitious. In spite of all his endeavors to make his parishioners good it seems that the village folk did not improve very rapidly, and he decided that something must be done to right matters.

Accordingly, after much cogitation, the famous round houses were built. With these in position, protected by their crosses, it was urged that the Evil One would not dare to enter the village and therefore all would be well in Veryan. Whether the good vicar's hopes were realized it is unfortunately impossible to say, but the houses stand to-day as a singular instance of an attempt to baffle the powers of darkness.

That Played-Out Feeling Was Quickly Remedied and Health Restored.

Story of a Merchant Who Almost Lost His Business and His Health Through Neglecting Early Symptoms of Disease

"My life for years has been of sedentary character," writes T. B. Titchfield, head of a well-known firm in Buckingham. "Nine hours every day I spent at office work and took exercise only on Sunday. I disregarded the symptoms of illhealth, which were all too apparent to my family. I grew thin. then pale, and before long I was jaundiced-eyes and skin were yellow, my strength and nerve energy were lowered, and I was quite unfitted for business. In the morning a lightness in the head, particularly when I bent over, made me very worried about my health. Most of the laxative medicines I found weakening, and knowing that I had to be at business every day I neglected myself rather than risk further weakness. Of course I grew worse, but by a happy chance I began to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills.] was forcibly struck by the fact that they neither caused griping nor nausea, and it seemed incredible was a baby. She looked absolute- that pills could tone, cleanse and regulate the system without causing mind. After the meal we went into plosion of a shell, and his identification card destroyed.

The vast majority of the hundreds of thousands of Japanese and Russians killed in the Russo-Japanese war were identified. After the battle of Sha-ho River, for example, over 13,000 Russian dead were bus every one being recognized by means of the little metal ikons, of sacred picture images, found on the bodies. On the back of these ikong was stamped the name, regiment and rank of the wearer.

Each Japanese soldier carried a tiny aluminum tag worn inside the waistbelt and bearing a number corresponding with his number in the regimental list. So terrible was the fighting and so many soldiers were literally blown to bits by hand grenades, that orders were is sued that the tags should be placed inside the soles of the boots. It was found that even if a shell actually struck a man and blew him to atom his boots were always found intact.

Germany, like Bulgaria, has more than one way of identifying its dead after a big battle. Each soldier carries three metal disos about the size of a half-dollar, stamped with his number and corps. One disc is sewn inside the collar of the great coat, another in the waistband of the trousers, and the third in the heel of the right boot.

How well this system works was shown at Vionville and Gravelotte, two of the worst battles of the war of 1870. These battles were fought in front of Metz on August 16 and 18, the Germans losing over 40,000 officers and men. Yet complete casualty lists were received in Berlin two days later.

In the Spanish-American war the badges of the American soldiers were stolen by the Filipinos. These metal badges were very elaborate and were looked upon as great finds by the enemy. As a result, how-ever, the United States Covernment discarded this metal badge for a cloth tab, in which was woven a number and letter identifying the owner.

During the Abyssinian war hundreds of the zinc name-plates carried by the Italian soldiers were carried off by Menelik's warriors, who wore them as charms. Consequently to this day the fate of many of the Italian wounded and prisoners is not known.

A Wise Dog.

A party of sportsmen on their way home after a successful day's shooting passed the time in telling dog stories, each one being an effort to "cap" the previous one. Here is the last story told.
