

LA GRIPPE'S VICTIMS

Left Weak, Miserable and Prey to Disease in Many Forms

One of the most treacherous diseases afflicting the people of Canada during the winter months is la grippe, or influenza. It almost invariably ends with a complication of troubles. It tortures its victims with alternate fevers and chills, headaches and backaches. It leaves him an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, and even consumption. Indeed the deadly after-effects of la grippe may leave the victim a chronic invalid. You can avoid la grippe entirely by keeping the blood rich and red by an occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you have not done this and the disease attacks you, you can banish its deadly after-effects through the use of this same great blood-building, nerve-restoring medicine. Here is proof of the wonderful power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over this trouble.

Mr. Emmanuel Laurin, St. Jerome, Que., says: "I was seized with a severe attack of la grippe. I was obliged to stop work and remain in my bed for several weeks, and while I appeared to get over the first stages of the trouble, I did not regain my usual health. I suffered from headaches, loss of appetite and extreme weakness. I did not sleep well at nights, and would arise in the morning feeling tired and worn out. This continued for about two months during which time I was taking treatment, but apparently without avail. Then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a half dozen boxes. By the time I had taken three boxes there was a decided improvement, and actually before I had completed the sixth box I was enjoying my old-time health. I was strong as ever, could sleep well and eat well, and no longer suffered from lassitude and headaches. I have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the pernicious after-effects of la grippe, and can therefore recommend them to other sufferers."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the trouble in the blood, which they enrich and make red and pure. These pills cure all troubles due to bad blood, and if you are ailing you should start to cure yourself to-day by taking this great medicine. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Work of the British Mint.

Some colossal figures demonstrating the enormous industry of the British Mint were given in a recent report of current coinage for 1911, when over 33,000,000 sovereigns were coined. But such extraordinary despatch was even rivalled by the average output of silver during that same period, which amounted to something like 50,000,000 coins, while the bronze circulation followed closely with 44,270,400 pieces. Indeed, so heavy in point of weight was this later coinage that its dimensions had to be taken in tons, reaching 240 1/2, 71 3/5 and 15 1/2 tons respectively for pennies, half-pennies, and farthings. It is also interesting to note with regard to the gold circulation that more than 5,500,000 ounces of bullion was brought into the country for the purpose of transforming it into sovereigns and half-sovereigns. While worn and thin gold coin to the tune of £2,000,000 was received back by the Mint to await recoinage.

Worth Fighting For.

Memmandham—I learned to-day that it has long been a subject of controversy as to whether Scotland or Ireland originated the bagpipes. Hemmandham—Yes; Scotland blames Ireland, and Ireland blames Scotland.

A DUKE'S DUTIES.

The Duke of Devonshire has the heavy, drowsy appearance which was so characteristic of his uncle. But, as in the case of his famous relative, this appearance is deceptive, for it conceals shrewd commonsense and a ready wit.

The Duke on one occasion took a Chicago heiress into dinner. The lady was astonished at his clever conversation and ventured to remark: "I can scarcely believe that in your maiden speech in the House of Commons you paused three times and yawned heavily."

"Oh, but you'd have believed it," was the reply, "if you'd heard the speech."

Despite an abundance of worldly wealth the present Duke has always been a hard-working man, with a conscientious view of his responsibilities. For three years he acted as Treasurer of the Royal Household, and for two he was Financial Secretary to the Treasury. He is High Steward of the Borough of Derby, Chairman of the Board of Trade Arbitration Court, and a vice-president of the Liberal-Unionist Council. He has represented Derbyshire West in the House of Commons, and has acted as Mayor of Eastbourne, and of Chesterfield. In addition he has close upon two hundred thousand acres to look after as well as several magnificent residences in various parts of the country.

CONSTIPATION CURED BY BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can use to relieve her little ones from constipation and all other stomach and bowel troubles. They act as a gentle laxative, are pleasant to take and are absolutely safe. Concerning them Mrs. Philippe St. Pierre, St. Perpetue, Que., says: "My baby was badly constipated and was cross all the time. Nothing I gave her seemed to do any good till I began Baby's Own Tablets. They are the best medicine in the world for little ones and quickly relieved my baby." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AWAKENING IN CHINA.

Great Changes About to Take Place in That Country.

China has always been a moral rather than a religious nation, which means that the family rather than the individual sense has been developed. This may militate against the rapid growth of freedom for woman in public life, but in the end will give her a secure and honored position. Perhaps the greatest problem in that country at present is the struggle which is on between family loyalty and individualism. It is hoped that this agitation will not so shake the moral foundations of the people that it will bring on a demoralization before it has had time to adjust itself to that broad socialism which is founded on individualism rather than is opposed to it. In the trying time that is coming we believe that the women may hold the power to regulate the pace of the change which is inevitable. For the women of China are strongly moral, and the power of women in moral things has been recognized by the Chinese. One writer says: "Purification of morals, from the time of creation until now, has always come from woman."

Lord Byron, in reference to a lady he thought ill of, writes: "Lady — has been dangerously ill, but it may console you to learn that she is dangerously well again."

How to Cure Horse Distemper

An Experienced Horseman Solomnly Declares Nothing is So Satisfactory as Nerviline.

Says Nerviline is Fine Liniment.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and crest three times a day, and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs, and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large size bottles, 50c; trial size, 25c., at all dealers, or the Cattarhoze Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

LAW-RIDDEN GERMANY.

Governor of Prison Says It Is Full of Criminals.

In his recently published book entitled "People Who Have Been Punished in Germany," Dr. Fingelburg, governor of the famous Moabit prison in Berlin, has rather startled the entire world by his revelations. He says Germany is full of criminals, and that it enjoys the distinction of being by far the most law-ridden country in the world—that "if the average of the new laws imposed upon the people of Germany in the last few years is maintained it may soon be that walking across a thoroughfare will be one of the punishable offences under the penal code." Already, he says, every sixth man and every twenty-fifth woman in the German Empire has been punished for some violation of the laws. His statistics are given in the hope that these revelations concerning the number of German "criminals" may contribute to the reduction of the great number of punishments for trivial transgressions of petty, irritating laws. Dr. Fingelburg shows the number of "criminals" in Germany at the present time to be 3,869,000, of whom 3,060,000 are males and 809,000 females. Every forty-third boy and every 214th girl between the ages of 12 and 18 has been punished.

"Well, what long-felt want are you supplying?" "Lady, this is a clamp for clamping the turkey to the table when father carves." He made a sale.

TORONTO CORRESPONDENCE

INTERESTING BITS OF GOSSIP FROM THE QUEEN CITY.

Lieutenant-Governor's New Home—Cooke's Church Pastor—The Roman Catholic Bishop—Indecent Shows.

The new Government House in Chorley Park, North Rosedale, is now taking form, and passersby can get some idea of what will be the general effect of the completed official residence of Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor. Frankly, the impression so far made is not of the best. The residence is located amidst fine surroundings, but the particular spot chosen for the site is a depression which does not seem designed to set it off in any striking way. From the nearby roadway one may look into the brick-making plant, which, at most hours of the day, belching forth great clouds of smoke. When the wind is in the east the future occupants of the Government House, whoever they may be, threaten to be enveloped in coal dust and grime.

These are the current objections of the man on the street. Possibly, as the residence approaches completion, they will be removed, and whether they are valid or not it looks as though they will form the basis of discussion for some time to come.

Cooke's Church New Preacher.

It is hard to say whether Rev. John McNeil, the new minister of Cooke's Church, who was brought from Liverpool to take the charge, is living up to his advance notice or not. In this correspondence some time ago it was stated that what down town Toronto needed in a religious way was a great preacher, who would do what Moody or Spurgeon did in their respective spheres. Those who expected a Moody or a Spurgeon in Mr. McNeil are possibly doomed to disappointment.

For all that, Mr. McNeil will probably have a successful ministry in good old Cooke's, which for half a century has been a beacon light of Christianity in down town Toronto. He is a common-sense Scot (the first minister of Cooke's who has not been Irish), who promises to preach the Gospel and avoid sensationalism or frills in any attempt to gain popularity. He has a keen sense of humor, which breaks into his sermons and illuminates them like splashes of free gold in the flinty quartz. But if he lacks the qualities of a supreme preacher it is because he has not as yet displayed those qualities of fervor and of imagination which grip the hearts of his hearers. Meanwhile he is getting acquainted with life and conditions in Toronto as fast as he can. Frequently he may be seen on the busy down-town streets sauntering along alone, apparently getting his bearings as to streets and buildings and studying human life as he can read it on the faces of the crowd. His own rugged frame and strong face are sufficient to arrest attention. He has already doubtless demonstrated the truth of his remark that while he was in Liverpool he could speak only to the people of Liverpool, he can in Toronto speak to the people of Liverpool, London, Glasgow and practically every city in the British Isles.

The Two McNeils.

It is curious that there should come to Toronto almost simultaneously to important ecclesiastical positions, two McNeils, one from Liverpool, the other from Vancouver. Archbishop McNeil, the new head of the Roman Catholic Diocese, is also sending down his roots into the life of Toronto. Except in the inner circle, however, little has been learned of his personality. So far he has declined to be interviewed by any newspaper representative.

When is a Show Indecent?

The virtual Scotch verdict of "Not guilty, but don't do it again," rendered by the jury in the prosecution of F. W. Stair, who controls a burlesque theatre, on a charge of permitting an indecent performance last winter, gives little satisfaction to the moral reformers. The performance under attack was the one which Rev. B. St. Clair attended and described in a pamphlet which he circulated among fellow workers, thereby incurring a prosecution on a charge of circulating immoral literature. In that case, also, the result was anomalous, for Judge Denton found Mr. St. Clair guilty, but suspended sentence, and found that the performance itself was indecent, a declaration which had the inevitable effect of stirring up the prosecution of the theatre, which has just ended in the unsatisfactory manner described. It is difficult to account for the difference in view between the jury in the Stair case and Judge Denton. It is said that eleven of the twelve good men and true favored an absolute acquittal, and it was due only to the pertinacity of the twelfth that the innocuous rider mildly censuring such performances was added. Some of the jurymen said they had themselves witnessed the performance, and presumably approved of it, or they would not have been there. In any case it is evident they felt less responsibility than do men like Judge Denton and Judge Middleton, who did not hesitate to tell them that their action was a miscarriage of justice. The incident serves to illustrate some of the difficulties the moral reformers have to overcome.

In police circles there is naturally some suppressed chuckling at the result of the prosecution. Censoring theatrical performances is not a job the police care much for, because it is apt to make them enemies whatever they do. Now they are to be relieved of the duty. Wm. Banks, sen., a newspaper reporter of many years standing, is the new censor. He has caution and firmness, but there are not many who envy him the task.

Council Off to Good Start.

With the Council chamber overflowing with the wives and other relatives of aldermen and with flowers and palms, the City Council of 1913 started out in something like a blaze of glory. Good resolutions were in the air. What the performance will be is another story. Mayor Hooken, in an undistinguished inaugural of 40 minutes' length, rehearsed the greatness of Toronto and her undertakings.

Already a somewhat more critical attitude toward his Worship than has been in evidence since he assumed office last autumn is being assumed, and it would not be surprising if it were made the target of attack before long. Some municipal sharpshooters express the belief that he may not prove to be a strong mayor or successful administrator, but as yet they have little to base their opinion on.

HER HEARING RESTORED.

Astonishing Deliverance of Woman Thought to be Hopelessly Deaf.

NEW YORK (Special Despatch).—Fully convinced that her hearing has been permanently restored after years of torture with head noises and almost total deafness, Mrs. B. A. Barry of 555 W. 170th St., N. Y. City, has now been persuaded to tell the story of her wonderful deliverance.

After having spent hundreds of dollars on mechanical devices, medicines and doctors' fees, she decided that this latest discovery, however simple and inexpensive, should be the last she would try before resigning herself to the hopelessness of permanent and total deafness. Those interested in Mrs. Barry's case and the hope it holds out for them may write to her in confidence for full details, which she offers to send gratuitously.
