

Is Fatal Catarrh in Your Family?

It Runs Hand in Hand With Bronchitis, Weak Throat,
Pneumonia, Consumption.

Doctors state that 95 per cent. of the Canadian people suffer from Catarrh. Few escape it. You can easily recognize it from the bad taste in the mouth and from lack of appetite in the morning. In bad cases the mucous drops from the throat into the stomach and causes nausea. The throat fills with phlegm, the patient sneezes and coughs continually, not infrequently there is lassitude and chilliness and aching in the limbs.

Doctors recommend Catarrh-zone, it is nature's own cure. It drives out the germs, heals sore spots, cleans away every vestige of Catarrhal taint.

You send the soothing vapors of the pine woods, the richest balsams and healing essences, right to the cause of your cold by inhaling Catarrh-zone. Little drops of wonderful curative power are distributed through the whole breathing apparatus by the air you breathe. Like a miracle, that's how Catarrh-zone cures bronchitis, catarrh, colds, and irritable throat. You simply breathe its healing fumes, and every trace of disease flees as before fire.

So safe, infants can use it, so sure to relieve, doctors prescribe it, so beneficial in preventing winter ills that no person can afford to do without Catarrh-zone. Used in thousands of cases without failure. Complete outfit $1.00, lasts three months, and is guaranteed to cure; smaller size 50c; all dealers or the Catarrh-zone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

DOGS FOR SENTRY WORK.

British Officer Tells How They are Used in Balkans.

Lecturing in London, Major E. H. Richardson, who has just returned from a visit to Montenegro, strongly urged the use of dogs in the army for scouting and sentry work, for searching for the wounded, and as messengers and ammunition carriers.

In peace times the dogs could be crained at a central establishment and drafted to the various regiments, where, as is done abroad, they could be used with the sentries in forts, aeroplane sheds, magazines, etc., and incidentally reduce the number of sentries required.

Major Richardson also gave his audience the very latest details of the employment of dogs by foreign armies. The whole of the Bulgarian frontier is guarded by dogs, which are with the pickets and detached posts.

The French Government has built a training establishment at Fontainebleau, and the dogs are largely used for messengers.

The Other Doctor.

An old negro, taken ill, called in a physician of his own race. There being no signs of improvement he at last asked for a white doctor. The doctor came, felt the old man's pulse and examined his tongue. "Did your other doctor take your temperature?" he asked. "I don't know, sah," replied the negro; "I ain't missed anything but my watch so far."

ED. 7. ISSUE 9-'13.

DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH.

Despite the efforts made by influential persons to heal the breach between the Duke of Marlborough and his wife, no success has been achieved in this direction, and the Duke's sister, Lady Lillian Grenfell, acted as hostess. Their two sons, who are rapidly growing out of boyhood, spent their Christmas at Blenheim and then joined their mother on the Continent.

The Duke is the head of the powerful Marlborough family, to which Mr. Winston Churchill is related. The first Duke was the famous soldier who gained the great victories of Blenheim, Ramillies, Oudenard, and Malplaquet, and the family have always figured conspicuously in military annals. The present Duke was born forty-two years ago at Simla. In 1895 he married Consuelo, the daughter of Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, the New York millionaire. He served with the Yeomanry in South Africa, and acted as A.D.C. to Lieutenant-General Ian Hamilton. He has always maintained a keen interest in politics, and from 1903-1905 he was Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Pat's Remedy.

Irish wit is a well-head that has never been known to run dry. Pat Maguire had been misbehaving, and appeared before his commanding officer, charged for the third time with drunkenness. Pat stated his side of the case with all the eloquence at his command, but the colonel was unmoved.

"Eight days in the guard-house!" he said, sternly.
But in writing the "8" on Pat's defaulter-sheet the pen spluttered. Pat noticed this, and leaned forward.

"Thry if 'twill make a '3' anny aasier, sorr," he suggested, in a persuasive whisper.

Few of us are perfectly happy, and few of us deserve to be.

AFTER EFFECTS OF LONG ILLNESS

SPEEDILY VANISH WHEN YOU
USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Loren G. Ladd only found complete relief after using the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Ladd's Mills, Stanstead Co., Que., Feb. 24 (Special).—That the seeds of disease left in the body after an illness are sure to cause trouble is the experience of Loren G. Ladd, a well known young man in this community. Mr. Ladd has also learned that those seeds can be cleared out of the body and perfect health restored by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"At the age of six I had Scarlet Fever," Mr. Ladd states. "At twelve I had Typhoid Fever, and at fourteen I had Measles. About a year later I began to be troubled by swellings of the face, feet and hands. The doctor told me I had Kidney trouble. He gave me medicine but the swellings continued to come at intervals of a week to a month.

"Two years ago one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills stopped the swellings. Last winter the swellings returned and again I was cured by using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Healthy Kidneys strain the seeds of disease out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy Kidneys.

SUICIDAL TELEPATHY.

Sisters Kill Themselves at Same Time Though Separated.

Is there such a thing as "suicidal telepathy" at work amongst us? An incident which has just occurred near Geneva, Switzerland, certainly suggests that this force may be at work in certain countries and lead to most disastrous results.

Thus Mme. Simon, a Swiss widow, aged 50, became greatly distressed on account of the removal of her sister, who is five years younger, to a hospital. Seven days afterwards, a number of persons, who had ascended the Saleve, 4,290 feet high, by the funicular railroad, were horrified to see a woman walk out onto a ledge overlooking a sheer precipice of 300 feet, and, after carefully wrapping a shawl round her head and face, jump into space. The woman was Mme. Simon, and she was found on the cliffs below in a mangled condition.

At the same time, Mme. Simon's sister, who had not seen or communicated with the former for the week, became hysterical, saying that her sister was dead, and that she did not want to survive her. During the temporary absence of the nurse, the woman got out of bed, opened the window, and jumped into the road from the first floor.

The news of the death of Mme. Simon was only known at the hospital nine hours later, and caused a great sensation amongst the doctors on the staff.

SLUMBER SALOON NOW.

German Firm Is Building One with Sixty Bunks.

An attempt to counteract the evil effects of the "hustle" of modern business life is about to be made by an enterprising Berlin (Germany) company, which will shortly open a "Slumber Saloon" for Berlin workers.

The German, despite the tremendous amount of work he is able to get through in the day is very fond of his afternoon nap. Until quite recently practically every business firm in Berlin although the working hours were from eight in the morning until eight in the evening, allowed its employees two and a half or three hours for lunch. Everybody from the chief to the office boy had time to journey comfortably to his home in the suburbs, partake of lunch in the bosom of his family and enjoy a sound "forty winks" before waking up for coffee and cakes and returning to his labors in town.

But with the adoption of what is generally known here as the "English lunch hour" the beloved siesta became a thing impossible, and the clerk and his chief after eating lunch in a restaurant could only spend their spare half hour in a crowded cafe or on the streets.

The "Slumber Saloon," however, is to give the Berliner his beloved midday nap again, in spite of his shortened lunch time. In a quiet little side street in the heart of the city the Palace of Morpheus is being erected. The building will contain sixty little cells or cubicles, each one furnished with a broad ottoman and a freshly covered head cushion for each visitor. The floors of the building will be covered in thick noise-muffling carpets and deep and unbroken silence will be the imperative rule of the place.

For Croupy Children Keep 'Nerviline' Handy

It Positively Brings Children Out of Danger and Relieves at Once.

A MOTHER TELLS HER EXPERIENCE.

"Bringing up young children has its responsibilities under the best of circumstances," writes Mrs. E. G. Fagan, of Holmes' Corners, "but croupy colds add considerable to the worry. My little family of four all went through the croupy era, but I always had Nerviline on hand and never felt nervous. I just followed the directions, and I can tell you that nothing I know of is surer to cure croupy colds than Nerviline.

"In our home we use Nerviline frequently. For cold in the chest, pleurisy, hoarseness, etc., it is simply wonderful. My husband uses it for rheumatism, and I often employ it for neuralgia and sick headache. Nerviline has so many uses that no mother can afford to be without it."

The large family size bottle, which sells at 50c., is the most economical; trial size, 25c. Your storekeeper or druggist sells Nerviline, which is prepared by The Catarrh-zone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Sure He Did It.

While carrying a ladder through the crowded streets of a busy city a big Irishman had the misfortune to break a plate-glass window. Dropping the ladder he started off at a run. The shopkeeper, who had witnessed the mishap, dashed after him and caught him by the collar. "See here," he cried angrily, "you have broken my window!" "Sure I have!" assented the Irishman. "And didn't you see me running home to get the money to pay for it?"

The man who is busy never gets lonesome.
