

AN UNFAIR CHARGE.

Some Conservative newspapers and speakers are most unjust when they charge Liberals with disloyalty and a lack of patriotism when the latter decline to sanction the handing over of $35,000,000 to be expended by the British parliament as that body sees fit. Mr. Churchill's speech a few days ago makes it plain that in his opinion both political parties in Canada are willing to assist England in time of war, and to help bear the burden of defence, but they merely differ in their method.

The following paragraph is taken from Mr. Churchill's recent speech:—"Although the Naval Aid bill was rejected the question of Canada participating in her own defence and in that of the Empire is by no means dead. Whether we read the speeches of members of the Government or of the Opposition we see that, although there are differences of method, and although the matter is one of party dispute, there is an overwhelming consensus of opinion that action should be taken, and that soon."

Everybody knows the Liberal party stands for the policy that was unanimously carried in Parliament by both political parties in 1909. The Conservatives afterwards changed their policy to one of contribution in order to satisfy the Nationalists of Quebec. The Liberals believe that Canada should handle and expend her own money. The Conservatives are willing to hand it over to England. It is difficult to see that the latter method would be more patriotic than the former.

IS IT PARTY FIRST?

Mr. Rowell's abolish-the-bar policy did not seem to win over many Conservative votes in the North Grey election. Men will attend a meeting of the Dominion Alliance, hold up both hands for a policy looking to the curtailment of the liquor traffic, and on the very first opportunity they will cast a vote against a candidate who is a total abstainer, a sound temperance man, and a man standing on the very platform they helped to erect, on the ground that they must be loyal to their own political party. To close the bars from one side of the Province to the other would be the greatest moral reform of modern times, but it cannot be done as long as men show a determination to vote for their political party before their temperance principles.

News Notes.

Mr. W. D. McPherson, M. P. P., Toronto, was elected Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge of Canada, and Mr. S. A. Luke of Ottawa, Deputy Grand Master.

Mrs. Mary McDougall who passed the century mark a month ago died at her home at Elzeley, Vaughan Township, last Thursday. Interment took place at Maple Cemetery.

George D'Alessandro, a young musician, lost his life Monday morning at about 3.45 by the auto in which he was riding coming in contact with a heavily loaded wagon. Francesco Nicoletti, the driver of the car, was arrested for criminal negligence.

The late Senator Campbell, a former M. P. for Centre York, left an estate of $261,806. Mrs. Campbell, his widow, is made the sole beneficiary.

The first conviction in York County under the new Hanna amendment of April last, for selling liquor to be consumed off the premises, was made in the County Police Court, by Magistrate T. H. Branton. Mark Lippington, a bartender in the Lampton House at Lampton, was fined $40 and costs or thirty days in jail. Lippington paid the fine. Two Provincial Liquor Detectives from Inspector Ayer's staff, swore that they bought two bottles of beer from Lippington on July 3. Lippington could not remember the incident but declined to give evidence. The law covers people who purchase the liquor, but as in this case, two Government men made the purchase, and they are exempt from prosecution.

MISS RUTH RECTOR

Considered to have the most luxuriant and beautiful hair in New York. Miss Rector says: "I find a certain pleasure in recommending Sagine as I know Sagine is a real benefit to women. I had a very hard time trying to dress my hair nice before I used Sagine. It didn't matter what style the hair was being worn my hair was always too dry and lifeless to dress properly. I suffered with dandruff more or less and my hair fell out until it was thin and ragged. My mother urged me to use Sagine as a number of persons had recommended it to her. I used it finally and was only sorry that I had not learned of it long before. Sagine has made my hair just as nice and soft and thick as you see it. I have been commented very much on its unusual beauty. Sagine is now sold in Richmond Hill and costs only 50c. a large bottle. Be sure to go to W. A. Sanderson's drug store—other stores don't have Sagine."
