The increase of attendance, with the arrival of September is noted with pleasure, on the 28th we expect a full house and that it may be taken as an omen of what we may look for throughout the autumn and winter months.

On Monday that of Mrs. John Ledgerwood formerly of the congregation but now back from Alberta on a visit, on Thursday that of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE

The City of Toronto having asked leave from Judge Winchester to enter upon David Boyle's farm, which is contiguous to the Industrial Farm, in connection with Toronto Jail, Mr. Boyle's lawyer, H. H. Dewart, K. C., may go to the Supreme Court of Ontario for what he regards as proper relief. If he makes an application it will be to quash the by-law under which the city seeks to expropriate, and to enjoin the city from taking possession. According to Mr. Boyle, the present acreage of the Industrial Farm is 500, and the ultimate aim of the city may be 1,000 acres. His grounds will be that the farm is sufficiently large, and that the city has exhausted its authority under the original by-law. The city wishes to acquire 106 acres at Langstaff from Mr. Boyle. When its representative appeared before Judge Winchester to-day, Mr. Dewart appeared for Mr. Boyle. The case went over for a week.—Star

ROD AND GUN

September Rod and Gun contains a list of contents appropriate to the month and to the character of this magazine of outdoor life. The American Scap on the Pacific Coast is Bonnycastle Dale's contribution. "Canuck" gives some practical advice to duck shooters and reminiscences of duck hunting expeditions in days gone by. Shooting over a Dog by "Senex" will be of interest to those sportsmen who find big game hunting too strenuous but enjoy the milder form of sport involved in the pursuit of small winged game. A Day Among the Ducks by a Saskatchewan writer is a very amusing account of the duck hunting experiences of an amateur shot. Amongst the Manitoba Prairie Chickens, The Club Across the Midway, Hunting the Loon, and the Sport of the Red Men, and other illustrated articles make up an entertaining number of this publication which is issued by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

MARKHAM FAIR

There will be trotting races and pony running races both days, and a good band will furnish music on both days.
