Not James McLean

We understand that Mr. James McLean, the well known plowman, has had several phone messages recently from friends anxiously inquiring if he will sell the trotting horse referred to in last week's Liberal. His horses are more adapted for turning over the sod, and for other farm purposes.

Collision

About midnight, Monday, Mr. Henry Burnett while driving north near the Elgin Mills on Yonge street claims that he was run into by an automobile going in the opposite direction. Mr. Burnett says he was driving on the right side near the railway track when the collision took place. The buggy was pitched over the track into the ditch, but Mr. Burnett kept hold of the lines and stopped the horse. His face was scratched and bruised, and the buggy was badly damaged. Mr. Burnett was driving alone, and besides the driver the auto car contained women and children. The chauffeur did not give his name, but as the number of the car was taken this matter will in all probability be referred to again.
