ALL ARE FOR THE STATE

A recent number of the Orange Sentinel contained the following paragraph:—"The Irish Home Rule Bill has been signed by the King. Query, would it have been signed had Redmond, Devlin and others shouted for Germany? Ireland might have had home rule long ago had the Nationalists been loyal to the Crown."

We believe the query is uncalled for. There is no reason to suggest that John Redmond, the leader of the Irish party, would shout for Germany. The work of the Irish in the present unfortunate war ought to do away with the irritating talk that Catholics are not loyal to their country. Catholic Irishmen have always taken their part in wars when the Empire was in danger, and it seems unfair to be continually making the charge that they are not loyal to the Crown.

RE CLOSING OF SHOPS

The following is the particular clause of the by-law under which the Village Council has been asked by a number of petitioners to close the shops three nights a week at 7 o'clock:—

"If an application is presented to the council of a city, town or village, praying for the passing of a by-law requiring the closing of any class of shops situate within the municipality, and the council is satisfied that such application is signed by not less than three-fourths in numbers of the occupiers of shops within the municipality and belonging to the class to which such application relates, the Council shall, within one month after the presentation of such application, pass a by-law giving effect thereto and requiring all shops within the municipality, belonging to the class specified in the application, to be closed during the period of the year, and at the times and hours mentioned in subsection 2, as are named in the application."
