Local Option made some slight gains on Monday, but the result of the voting in several municipalities indicates that as long as the three-fifths clause is retained further progress will be extremely difficult. The three-fifths clause is unfair to those who are working in the interest of moral reform, and it seems surprising that temperance Conservatives will continue to vote for a party that insists on making two votes for the liquor interests equal to three votes for the temperance cause.

The expression of opinion recorded on Monday by municipal electors favoring the proposal to admit married women on the same terms as single women to the municipal franchise should convince the Ontario Government that the move is popular. It is difficult to show that women should not even have the same right as men to vote at Parliamentary elections. Some people do advance reasons why women should not have the privileges of the franchise, but as a rule, they do not like to see their arguments in print.

TORONTO LETTER

Because the appointments are generally believed to have been made as rewards of party service and not for the public interest, the elevation of T. W. McGarry and G. Howard Ferguson to the Ontario Cabinet is not arousing any considerable enthusiasm with the general public, either Conservative or Liberal. It is generally understood and, in fact, is stated in nearly all the announcements of the change, that these two men have received their Cabinet positions as a result of their active work on the Public Accounts Committee. Everyone knows however, that what they really did on this committee was to lead the blockade in the investigation of Proudfoot and Snider cases as well as in other less widely known instances. On these occasions several Conservative newspapers and many Conservative private members protested loud and long against the methods used by Ferguson and McGarry.

At least three events have proved detrimental to the Ontario Government in the last few months with the result that their prestige is noticeably lower than it was in the summer. Of these the first was the death of Sir James Whitney, the second, the remarkable and unexpected loss of votes incurred by the Government candidates in the bye-elections of West Hamilton and the County of Dundas. To these two is now added this third, the appointment of McGarry and Ferguson to the Cabinet. With these men in the Government with their record as it is, the Government is likely to be involved in a series of increasing troubles.

Raise 300 to 500 Chicks in One Flock

Buy or hatch at one time all the chicks you will need for the year. Then with the Candee Colony Brooder, raise 300 to 500 in one flock in one house—attend only one heater—buy coal for but one fire—and save labor, fuel, chicks and money.

Because it is coal burning and self-regulating and gives the chicks a correct heat all the time, you will raise the biggest percentage of your birds with no worry, no trouble and at an expense of but a few cents a day for coal.

With the Big Coal-Burning Cast Iron Colony Brooder

Every thing about the Candee is big. Its grate is 12 inches in diameter, a safe size; its hover is 28½ inches high—as high as a table or desk—and 13 feet 7 inches in circumference; the section of its hover, that swings around out of the way for tending the fire and cleaning, is 38½ inches wide and gives plenty of room for the operator to get to the heater.

And best of all, its heater is all cast iron, built for real business and to last a lifetime. It comes to you all assembled ready to set up and put to work.

Its guaranteed all-woven-wool felt curtain extends nearly to the floor, and positively directs the heated air down over the backs of the chicks; and it saves fuel because, with the felt curtain, you don't have to heat the whole room to keep the chicks warm.

With the Candee, there is no danger of your buildings catching fire—it has a special safety grate shaker and a sealed base that prevent hot coals falling into the litter. Its coal magazine feeds the fuel to the fire evenly and continuously, and the Candee heater requires attention only once or twice a day.

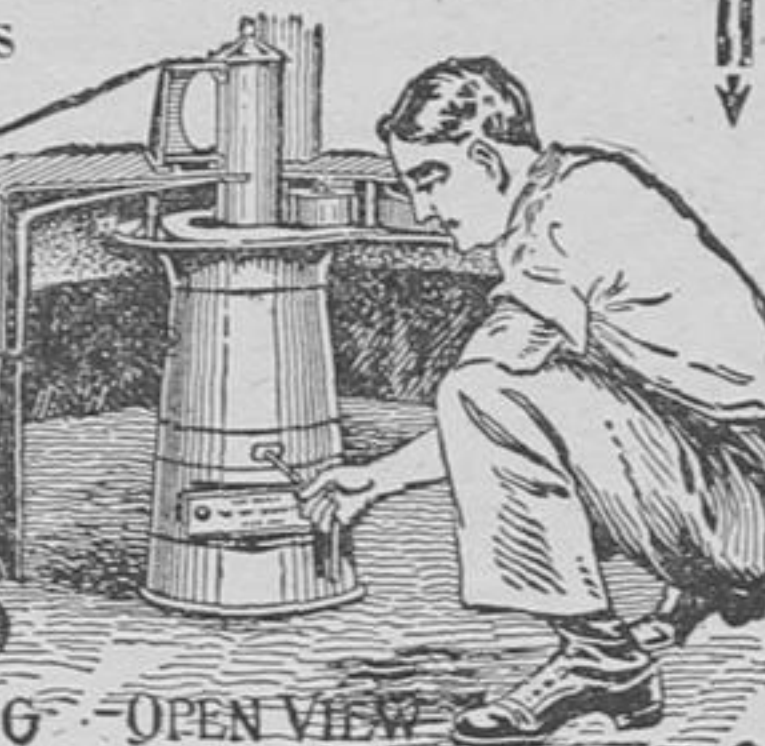

You are invited to visit my poultry plant to see the Candee Colony Brooder, and to see for yourself why it will save you labor and fuel, raise more of your chicks and increase your profits.
