RICHMOND HILL, ONT., DEC. 23, 1915

Next Monday, nomination day, will decide where municipal elections will be held throughout the Province. There appears to be a feeling in some quarters that this being war year and almost everybody busy in patriotic work much time and money could be saved by returning the present municipal members by acclamation, unless the Reeves or councillors express a desire to retire, or where there is good reason for desiring a change. Nomination meetings, however, should be well attended next Monday, and programmes discussed for 1916.

An evening paper stated that in Euclid Avenue Methodist Church last Sunday evening the pastor, the Rev. John Coburn, "asked all women in the congregation who were willing to pledge themselves to be active recruiting agents to stand up, and that practically every woman in the church arose." The preacher then asked for young men to stand up if they were willing to enlist, and only two stood up.

We believe that "standing up" is a time-honored custom in the Methodist Church, but we submit that it is scarcely fair to place mothers and young men in such an awkward position. We know that many mothers in all parts of Canada have consented to allow their sons to risk their lives in fighting for King and country; but it is a hard thing for a mother to pledge her word in public that she will urge them to go into the trenches.

Special Service

A special car service will be operated between Toronto and Newmarket on December 22, 23, 24, 25, 31, and Jan. 1. ### Presentation

Rev. F. and Mrs. Elliott returned home from the City last Thursday after a month's absence. Mr. Elliott underwent a painful operation at the Western Hospital, which appears to have been eminently successful. He has nothing but praise for the nurses and attendants at the Hospital, and feels grateful to his friends who made many inquiries about his health and welfare.

St. Mary's Catholic Church

On Christmas morning there will be High Mass at 8.45. The music on this occasion will be of a very special nature. Leonard's Third Mass in B. flat will be rendered, preceded by the chorus, "Angels We Have Heard on High." The musical programme will also include a quartette, "Adeste Fideles," and a Bass Solo and Quartette "Incline Ad Me."

Men's knitted silk mufflers; colors, dark green, navy, grey, white, cardinal and black, from 50c. to $1.25. President suspenders, in fancy boxes, for 50c. Filled elastic arm bands, all shades, nicely boxed, 25c. Men's silk ties, at 25c. and 50c., neat patterns—Atkinson & Switzer.
