An oratorical contest was held in which Miss Helen McCutcheon took first prize, Miss Jean Cameron second, and Miss Helen Mitchell third. A note recently from Mr. L. B. Heise states that he has been visiting for two weeks in Western Manitoba at Mrs. Heise's relatives, the family of the late A. Eyer formerly of Richmond Hill.

Mr. Eyer was at one time owner of the Richmond Hill foundry which was located two miles east of Richmond Hill being burned several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Heise spent a couple of days in Regina with Mr. A. J. Steckly, Mrs. Heise's nephew, who is connected with the Sawyer & Massey Co. of that place. Mr. Heise says the air is a bit sharp at times being 14 above zero one day. Also farmers are wearing fur coats while driving the binders cutting grain. However they say they don't mind it.

Loafing in Stores

The following letter has been sent in for publication. We do not know who the writer is, as no signature is given. We however insert it, not merely because the editor is promised money for doing the job, but believing that the habit of sitting around stores is far too common:

EDITOR OF THE LIBERAL:
Dear Sir,—Now as the cool days have come, we have been bothered with loafers sitting around our stores, who evidently have forgotten about the piece which was put in your paper last winter. They also hang around shops of this town from morning till night, which is a hindrance to business. Please oblige us by renewing this in your next issue.

P.S.—We will send you 25 cents, inclosed in envelope, as soon as this is put in your paper.
