Reading News of Wellington's Victory
at Waterloo

When Wellington Met Napoleon at Waterloo

the news did not reach London until a week later, and it was four months before it was known in New York.

But when Queen Victoria died, the news was known in Toronto and New York several minutes before it was known in London.

This was due to the enterprise (although a slight breach of etiquette) of one of the correspondents whose press service we enjoy.

When the owners of The Empress of Ireland sued the owners of The Storstad for the ramming of their vessel, the "Toronto Daily Star's" covering of the trial was commented upon in one of the big Liverpool Daily newspapers as the finest handling of a Big Trial Story that ever was known.

When, recently, the Pope proposed peace, the text of his message was more fully presented on the day of its issue by The Toronto Daily Star than by any other paper in Ontario.

This enterprise in handling Big News Events has caused The Star to be recognized as one of the great newspapers of the World; ranking with such papers as the "New York Times," "Chicago Tribune," "London Times," and "London Daily Telegraph."

A Few of the News and Special Features Exclusive to The Toronto Daily Star

Cable service from The Star's own staff men, notably E. A. McKean, our London resident correspondent, a veteran war writer. In Italy, Miss Rosemond Boulton, the only Canadian woman writer for any of the war zones. In Britain, Thomas Gale, late Serjeant Major K. O. S. B., now on regular Star staff. He has been in regular camp for 40 years. In Canada, special staff men in Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec, Winnipeg, and other important centers. United Press, London only, exclusive to The Star, covering world news and including special war cables. Special correspondents in each Allied country. All the Chicago Daily News' special cables from a staff of specially trained war correspondents in various theatres in Europe. All the news of the Daily Star's special cables from Windermere and Staff. Frequent special contributed articles from best writers in the world. The Daily Star also receives all regular news services taken by other Canadian dailies, such as Canadian Press, American Associated Press, and Canadian Associated Press. Exclusive rights to the pictures of the London Daily Mirror, also from Underwoods, Daily Mail, Topical, general Canadian Official War Records, Sports, etc.
