

Are Popular West of the Great Lakes

Mrs. W. J. Vale Talks of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Also Tells How Her Dyspepsia Was Cured By Using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Pandora, Alta., Feb. 25th—(Special)—“We are never without a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house.” That's what Mrs. W. J. Vale, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place has to say of the great Canadian kidney remedy. “My husband suffers from lumbago, and they always help him,” is the reason that she gives.

“I must also tell you,” Mrs. Vale continued, “what Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did for me. They cured me of a very bad attack of dyspepsia. I have also derived great benefit from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.”

It is evidence like this that proves that the Dodd's remedies have gained a permanent place in the family medicine chests of the West. Dodd's Kidney Pills are particularly popular. The success with which they have been used to treat all kinds of kidney ills from backache to rheumatism and Bright's disease have earned for them the gratitude of thousands of people on this side of the Great Lakes.

A TALKING COCOANUT.

Philippine Natives Were Frightened By Clever Artifice.

“While in the United States government employ in the Philippines,” says a writer in the Electrical Experimenter, “I was stationed on the Island of Sulu, which is a small island in the Sulu Archipelago.

“We frequently had the natives entertain us with their native dances, and in turn would fill them with wonder and awe with a phonograph which we had in our outfit. We found it necessary to put up a telephone line between two buildings that were a little distance apart, using two magnet sets.

“One day I found a rather large cocconut under a tree near the bamboo hut we were living in, and conceived the idea of making a cocconut talk. So I emptied its contents and hung it on the outside of the house opposite the phone, so arranged that we could put the receiver through the grass wall and drop it into the cocconut.

“We invited some of the natives to see the wonderful cocconut that we could make talk, and with the aid of an interpreter at the other phone who understood their language we had a lot of fun. Some of the natives were so frightened they left the village. Next day a delegation returned and directed us to destroy the talking cocconut, under penalty of immediate attack. They did not like to have so uncanny a thing around. There was much rejoicing when we consigned it to the flames.”

Bacon contains about 7 per cent. bone, dressed beef 20, mutton 20 and veal 25. That is one reason why bacon is so much desired for shipment to Europe under present conditions of shipping.

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Make a beauty lotion for a few cents to remove tan, freckles, sallowness.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Squeeze the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle, then put in the orchard white and shake well. This makes a quarter pint of the very best lemon skin whitener and complexion beautifier known. Massage this fragrant, creamy lotion daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and just see how freckles, tan, sallowness, redness and roughness disappear and how smooth, soft and clear the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless, and the beautiful results will surprise you.

ANIMALS THAT CALCULATE.

It is Claimed That Many of Them Have Clear Idea of Number.

That most animals have the ability to calculate and that many have quite a clear idea of number is the contention of M. H. Coubin in La Revue, who cites many instances to prove his statement. A bird notices whether an egg has been taken from its nest of four or five, and a bee or a wasp always makes cells with six sides. A squirrel, jumping from branch to branch, calculates his spring according to the distance to be travelled; and a dog, playfully jumping in front of his master's carriage, appreciates its speed with surprising accuracy so as not to be run over. The Literary Digest adds other more remarkable examples of animal calculation.

In the mines of Hainault horses that travel back and forth over a certain road exactly thirty times each day go to the stables of their own accord after their last trip, and refuse to take another step. In Montaigne's Essays we read that the oxen employed in the royal gardens of Susa for turning the wheels to which the water pails were attached, refused to make more than the hundred rounds that constituted their daily task.

Romanes assures us that he taught a chimpanzee of the London Zoological Gardens to have exact notions concerning the numbers one to five. He ordered him to take up one, two, three, four or five straws, and did not accept them unless the number was correct. Within a short time the ape understood, and rarely made a mistake.

Like produces like, and to get good crops without planting good seed is next to impossible.

A LITTLE FRENCH HEART.

“Madame la Presidente:—

Permit a little French heart to come and present to you his wishes the most sincere. My parents join with me in sending their best compliments for the New Year, and in thanking you for your great kindness. I thank you all, dear good ladies, for the nice things you have put in with the clothing addressed to my dear Papa. Every evening in my prayers I ask God to spread his blessing over you. Receive again Madame la Presidente and all the ladies, the best wishes of your little protégé.—Charles Opdebeck.”

This little letter has just been received in Toronto, by the President of the “Friends of France,” who knows what interest it will have for many people in every part of Canada, who have so generously sent help to the hospitals and refugees. Charles and his mother were repatriated from the North of France not long ago, and find themselves with little or nothing to live on. During their captivity the mother was struck by a shell, and lost a leg. The father is an ambulance-driver for a hospital in Calais, and this is what he says: “Dear and Good Ladies:—I thank you so much for the parcel that has just come. It contained 4 pairs of socks, a flannel shirt, chocolate, sugar, soap, cocoa and soup. If you knew how happy we are to have these things, for now it is so hard to live that my poor wife can never get anything nice. She is so happy to be near me at Calais, but unfortunately the ‘cochons de Boche’ come often to bombard us. On Monday they threw a dozen bombs, there was only material damage happily, but since my wife was struck, she has such a terrible fear. We hope that the Boches will soon have finished their crimes, and we can be happy again in our dear country. God watches over us and will protect us. Receive, good ladies, my affection and thanks the most sincere. Le Soldat Arthur Opdebeck.”

The “Friends of France” heard of this family through one of the hospitals that they help near Calais, which is visited daily by scores of refugees. The nurse in her last letter says: “Without Canadian and American help we could not exist. Many hospitals have had to shut down. The cost of living is so high and the government can give us so little. Many of our wounded are very ill, and need nourishing food. One egg costs 13 cents and butter and meat are $1.00 a pound. Just how enormous numbers of refugees are arriving from the North of France, in a state of exhaustion of which you can truly form no idea. It is especially at the beginning that these families need help, when they are so weakened and demoralized. It is a question of material help to revive their morale, because after a time they pick up wonderfully, and in a few months gather together a little home less sad. All the second-hand clothing you send, which is so good, finds owners immediately.”

The “Friends of France” is an incorporated society under the War Charities Act. Its headquarters are 216 Poplar Plains Rd., Toronto, and the President, Mrs. Wells, will gladly receive and acknowledge gifts in money or kind, such as clothing, food and hospital supplies.

The War in Africa.

The war has from the first been brought right home to Africa. The four German colonies, over which the war extended, have an area more than four times as great as Germany; and there has been long and hard fighting in all of them except in Togo. Outside and within these areas of actual warfare live thousands of whites who are intensely interested in the European struggle. Many of these whites, even in the depth of Africa, are receiving the essence of the news every day. Even the Sahara desert is now partly belted by a telegraphic line, a French enterprise, with wireless extension in Timbucto. Thus this once mysterious city of Sudan is now in touch with the great events of the day. The Belgian Congo is efficiently served by the French cable to Libreville and the land line to Stanley Pool, where navigation to the upper Congo begins. The news is then wired up the Congo to the mouth of the Congo, and then by wireless to Stanley Falls, 870 miles above the Kasai.

WOMEN! IT IS MAGIC! LIFT OUT ANY CORN

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without pain or soreness.

A Cincinnati man discovered this ether compound and named it Freezone. Any druggist will sell a tiny bottle of Freezone, like here shown, for very little cost. You apply a few drops directly upon a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off.

Freezone is wonderful. It dries instantly. It doesn't eat away the corn or callus, but shrivels it up without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Hard, soft or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses, lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards. If your druggist hasn't Freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—“I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

“My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them.”—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.
