Builds and Binds a Nation

Truly national in character is the exhibit of the Canadian National Railways in the Railway Building at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto. The ensemble is most striking and the electric lighting of the dome, combined with most artistic draperies, lends a spacious character to the whole exhibit, while the arrangement of the display in general permits of freedom of movement to view the various exhibits in detail.

The frieze decorations show typical landscape views of the nine provinces, with the coat of arms of each the connecting link bearing the highly significant reminder that this is an exhibit of "a line that builds and binds a nation."

Three sides of the octagonal building are occupied by a huge topographical map of the Dominion, on which are shown in brilliant illumination the names of the principal points reached by the Canadian National Railways, "the great steel strand that threads the land" being indicated by a broad band of red.

No better or more comprehensive plan could have been adopted to demonstrate that 14,000 miles of railway are now under Canadian National management, and that the Canadian Northern, the Intercolonial and Transcontinental railways have been amalgamated into one vast system. To further demonstrate the fact that the system traverses every Province of the Dominion and reaches every Provincial capital, the observer by an ingenious arrangement of flashing lights, is taken in fancy right across the continent from Halifax to Vancouver and Victoria, stopping momentarily at the principal points enroute and then brought back again.
The map should prove of much educational value in telling just what the Canadian National Railways are and the territory they reach.

BEAUTIFUL TRANSPARENCIES.

A rustic centrepiece and several rustic lanterns contain some really beautiful photographic transparencies which do not fail to call attention to Canada's innumerable scenic gems, while the hunter's log cabin with its sporting trophies is also utilized for the projection of dissolving views and moving pictures of scenic and sporting and industrial life.

Forestry, pulp and paper, minerals, Indian trophies and agricultural features complete an exhibit on which there has evidently been much careful preparation and considerable forethought. Nor has the royal visit been forgotten, for on top of the pyramid devoted to a beautiful display of British Columbian fruit stands the Prince of Wales' crest, the three feathers worked in grain with the motto, "Ich Dien". Altogether it is an exhibit which every visitor should see if he would learn of Canada's national system of transportation.

MAPLE

A special service will be held next Sunday evening in St. Andrew's church for the unveiling of a memorial tablet in honour of the late Gunner Mons W. Gardiner who was killed at the battle of the Somme. Service in the Methodist church will be withdrawn.

The funeral of the late Michael Duffy of Toronto, and formerly of this village took place here on Monday afternoon. The deceased was highly respected and much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing family in their bereavement.

A sale of home made cooking was held by the Ladies Aid, on Saturday afternoon.

The trustees of this section have secured the services of Mr. R. Martin of Hamilton as principal of the public school.

The Mission Band of St. Andrew's church held a picnic in Mr. George Johnston's woods on Friday afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. C. Norman of Maple, and Miss Walker of Aurora were united in matrimony by Rev. H. S. Lovering. A number of ladies of the village were at the home to welcome them upon their arrival.
During the evening they were given rather noisy reception by the boys.

ROD AND GUN

A splendid series of photos of Canadian Nature Life are now running in
