

"SYRUP OF FIGS" CHILD'S LAXATIVE

Look at tongue! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver and bowels

Accept "California Syrup of Figs" only—look for the name California on the package, then you are sure your child is having the best and most harmless laxative or physic for the little stomach, liver and bowels. Children love its delicious fruity taste. Full directions for child's dose on each bottle. Give it without fear.
Mother! You must say "California."

In Spite of Things.

You might think from the way some people talk that Nature and Fate spend their time making the rough places smooth for particular favorites, while the rest go to perdition with the malevolent connivance of blind forces.

But nobody for any price can purchase an exemption. We all live under the operative hand of inviolable natural laws. The rules of the game admit of no exceptions. The immunities we think we see are phantoms and not facts. The world and the welkin are as good to you and me as they are to anybody.

You carry some trouble, and you imagine none ever transported a burden so complex and so woeful. It is a form of misery so mean and so peculiar that it seems to have been invented especially for your torment. "The heart knoweth its own bitterness."

But how foolish it is to imagine that any of us has a patent, a copyright, a monopoly in problems grievous and fearful! This man who smiles and is calm may be confronting large questions that concern the ongoing of a great industry, the management of a whole city, the welfare of the millions inhabiting a nation. Everybody who has an opinion to offer is talking at once and saying how much better he could do if the matter were left to him. But the leader, shouldering the responsibility, stands in his place, holds his ground and when the time comes moves on.

No fight is finer than the courageous, persistent battle against circumstances. It is a battle good for the soul, and a man was forever meant to be the victor. He is never alone as long as he struggles and will not give in. Carlyle tells us of the mighty host of all past time, who rise up and surround us with their voices of encouragement and exhortation if we are worthy. They went the same way that we are walking now—a while ago. They knew every black shade of bitterness in our abysmal desperation. We brought to the earth no news of human life; those who were here before us had to lift and carry the load that is now upon our shoulders. If they could do their duty, we can do ours.

A SMILE IN EVERY DOSE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Baby's Own Tablets are a regular joy giver to the little ones—they never fail to make the cross baby happy. When baby is cross and fretful the mother may be sure something is the matter for it is not baby's nature to be cross unless he is ailing. Mothers, if your baby is cross; if he cries a great deal and needs your constant attention day and night, give him a dose of Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which will quickly regulate the bowels and stomach and thus relieve constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers and make baby happy—there surely is a smile in every dose of the Tablets. Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

England is Prosperous, Says Financier.

"They are in for a big industrial boom in England. British capitalists are buying interests all over the world. We are going to be stronger than ever before," said Sir William Wiseman, who is visiting Toronto to attend to business interests he has in the city. "Conditions in England are extraordinarily good. We are the only manufacturing country in Europe which is doing business. Our manufacturers have two or three times the amount of business they can handle. Things are naturally disturbed, but they are gradually righting themselves. As soon as the exchange situation improves there will be plenty of British capital for Canada."

Speaking of the exchange situation, Sir William said: "It is improving and it will improve."

Sir William, during the war, acted as liaison officer between the War Cabinet in London and the Government at Washington, during which period he crossed the Atlantic fourteen times to discuss with Lloyd George and President Wilson matters which were too complicated or too important to be trusted to writing.

During the Peace Conference he acted as advisor to the British delegation on American affairs.

Sir William thought that the German situation was not alarming. "I think the German situation will work itself out if we do not give them a grievance. The worst thing possible is to leave a conquered people with a grievance. Provided they do not start building armies and navies again we want to see them do well and get back into the world's trade."

Sightseers Carried on Hospital Trains.

Hospital trains still bearing their Red Cross emblems will tour the French battlefields next summer, but instead of wounded heroes they will be loaded with sightseers. The plan is part of the general scheme of the French office of national tourism, which intends using ambulance trains to relieve the hotel congestion, each train being arranged with all the necessities for a week or ten day tour of the British, French and American fronts.

The transport companies and hotel proprietors will urge the public not to visit the districts simultaneously, five districts being arranged for selection by visitors. The office is under the Ministry of Public Works, which will prevent hotels in the larger towns and cities from charging excessive rates, but the biggest problem was to care for thousands in the districts where there is no accommodation whatever and the Red Cross train plan promises success.

The French Government points out that it has information that a half million Americans already have asked for passports and also thirty thousand Canadians, and France has only 12,000 hotels. Other French associations plan to defeat schemes to exploit the battlefields, one promising to devote all the profits from its tours to relieving the distress of needy veterans of the world war.

Overfeeding is not the part of wisdom. What is too much for one cow may not be enough for another.

BITS OF HUMOR FROM HERE & THERE

Willie's Choice.

"Now, Willie," said a generous father, as he and his little son were gazing into a tailor's shop window. "I am going to buy you a new pair of trousers, and you shall choose them. Which pair do you want?"

After a moment's hesitation, the little boy said: "Please, father, may I have that pair, marked 'Cannot be beaten?'"

Elizabeth Remained Single.

Little Elizabeth Tilton had attended school only a few days when she fell ill. When she returned she brought a note from her mother, signed, "Mrs. Banes." The teacher asked for an explanation.

"It's this way," said Elizabeth, leaning toward the teacher with quite a confidential air: "my mother got married again, but I didn't."

Caution.

The teacher had been explaining fractions to her class. When she had discussed the subject at length, wishing to see how much light had been shed, she inquired:

"Now, Bobbie, which would you rather have, one apple or two halves?"

The little chap promptly replied:

"Two halves."

"Oh, Bobby," exclaimed the young woman, a little disappointedly, "why would you prefer two halves?"

"Because then I could see if it was bad inside."

MONEY ORDERS.
