Mind-reading.

A pretty little young lady of seven had memorized several of the stories in her fairy book and was fond of pretending to read them. One night she was seated upon the lap of a visitor, affecting to read one of her favorite tales about some wooden dolls.

She was proceeding with great enthusiasm for several moments, when the guest interrupted her by saying: "But, my dear child, I don't see anything about dolls on that page."

"I know it," said the small one promptly and sheepishly. "I was reading on the wrong page."

Then turning over several pages, she concluded: "It's over here."

The game of billiards is supposed to have been invented in France in the fifteenth century.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Distemper

The Unknown Warrior.

Buried in Westminster Abbey,
Within the abbey's ancient walls,
There lieth one to whom
The heart of Britain, sadly proud,
Has built a solemn tomb;
Around it lie the royal dead;
Crusaders, knight and peer;
And every name on every stone
Is graven clear.

There lie the noble and the good,
The lights of every age,
The statesman and the patriot,
The poet and the sage.
How comes it, then, that in this place,
Where sleep the great alone,
We find this single monument
To one unknown?

Hast thou forgotten Flanders fields?
This man without a name,
A name to every mourner brings
And sounds the note of fame.
In Flanders fields the poppies blow,
And sunbeams there may shine;
But here is love's own monument
In Britain's shrine.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Close formations are stated to be due to the presence of dust in the air, the particles of dust acting as centres of condensation for the formation of raindrops.

What Is a Boy Scout?

A Boy Scout! He enjoys a walk through the woods more than he does the excitement of the city streets. He learns the facts about the winds, the stars, the trees and all living things—and becomes "master of himself" in the open.

A Scout can tie a knot that will hold, he can swim, he can patch a tent, he can mend a tear in his trousers, he can tell you what weeds are poisonous and what are not; if living near the ocean, lake or river he can reef a sail or pull an oar.

A Scout does not run away when an accident occurs. If a person has been cut he uses his first aid knowledge in stopping the flow of blood; if a person has been burned he knows just what to do to alleviate the sufferings; and should anyone be drowning, his training helps him to meet the emergency, to swim, with all clothes on if necessary, to the person in danger, and to bring him back to safety. And when the drowning person is pulled ashore, he doesn't stand around waiting for somebody else to do something. He knows how to apply artificial respiration and sets to it at once because he knows that not one moment can be lost.

A Scout is kind to everything that lives. He prides himself upon doing a "good turn" every day—for which he, of course, will not accept a tip.

A Scout promises to do his duty to God and his country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Scout law, and at all times undertakes to do his best to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Any boy, twelve years of age or over, may become a Boy Scout by joining a troop that has already been started. In case there is no troop in his neighborhood, or if for other reasons it is advisable to form a new troop, this may be done after consultation with Scout Headquarters in Toronto. But in any case, the consent of the parent or guardian must be shown on the enrollment blank.

The Tsetse Fly.

The Director of Agriculture for Southern Rhodesia says that the tsetse fly, so widely fatal to domestic animals, has invaded new districts of South Africa and reoccupied territory that was infected many years ago, but that has been free since the outbreaks of rinderpest in 1896. The advance of the fly in some places menaces farms and in others prevents the settlement of otherwise desirable land. In areas where big game has been reduced to a minimum, or where the forest has been leveled, the fly has been greatly reduced in numbers. The bite of the tsetse fly causes what is popularly known as the sleeping sickness.

Waterproof Shoes.

The United States Bureau of Chemistry has worked out a method by which anybody can make his shoes waterproof unless they have holes in them.

The chief reason why shoes ordinarily are not waterproof is that the seams admit moisture. Thus the feet get damp and the wearer is liable to catch cold.

An occasional use of castor oil on shoe uppers will help to make them waterproof, but too much should not be used lest it interfere with the "shine." Much better, especially for use in winter, is a mixture of twelve ounces of tallow and four ounces of cod oil. Melted together by moderate heat, the stuff should be applied warm and thoroughly to the edge of the sole and the welt, where footgear is most liable to leak.

The sole can be best waterproofed by letting the shoe stand for fifteen minutes in a shallow pan containing enough of the grease to cover the sole.

Thus protected, one need not wear overshoes, which, while they keep water out, also keep perspiration in. Moreover, they are cold in winter and hot in summer.

Wanted It to Go.
"This is my car," exploded the irate tourist to the garagemen, "and what I say about it, goes—see?"
Just then a dirty-faced machinist crawled out from under the dead machine and said, pleadingly, "say 'engine, mister!'"

Willie—"Ten."
Teacher—"How do you make that out?"
Willie—"Well, I have one at home already."
