

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little ones out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little ones healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hand-Darning Machine Works Like a Loom.

Darning is made into a pleasant occupation, it is claimed, when done with a device recently introduced in England. The little darning machine consists of a flat stretcher which is placed behind the hole in the stocking, and over which is slipped a saddle that holds the stocking in place.

One Logical Woman.

Saleslady—"That hat makes you look ten years younger."

Customer—"Then it won't do. When I took it off I should look ten years older."

The Example.

"Go, break to the hungry sweet charity's bread, For giving is living," the angel said, "But must I be giving again and again?"

My weary and wandering answer ran, "Oh, no," said the angel, piercing me through; "Just give till the Saviour stops giving to you."

Fruit Thimbles.

Thimble-like contrivances that fit over the finger ends, to facilitate the hulling of fruits, are the novel invention of Amy Pearce, of Mission City, British Columbia. The thimbles are of light metal and are provided with artificial nails. To each of them is fastened a short rubber tube, which secures it upon the finger.

A Baker's Dozen.

This phrase, meaning thirteen objects instead of twelve, originated in England when the statutes against giving less than the amount paid for were unusually severe, sometimes involving the death penalty. In order to make sure of not giving short quantity the bakers would sell thirteen loaves to the dozen, thus being on the safe side.

Neither the good nor the evil you have done is lost, though you forget both.

Two Prophecies Fulfilled.

Two ancient prophecies of the house of Clanricarde are fulfilled by the marriage of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles. It was the death of the last of the Clanricarde line which gave the bridegroom his independent fortune.

One of the prophecies, which dates back to the middle of the eighteenth century, was that a King's daughter one day would come into the family. The other was that the famous jewels of Clanricarde would one day be worn by the daughter of a sovereign. The most remarkable of these jewels are the "stones of luck" carrying the tradition that should they leave the Clanricardes luck would leave the house. They are seven large and very fine diamonds.

Lizard Skin Leather.

The Island of Ceylon, which sent peacocks, monkeys and baby elephants to King Solomon, for that monarch's zoo, is remarkable for a weird and interesting fauna. One of the oddest of its animals is a huge lizard, called the cabrogoya, which attains a length of four and one-half feet.

The cabrogoya is a very handsome reptile, beautifully marked, and its skin when tanned affords a tough leather of excellent wearing quality and waterproof. It is used for making women's shoes and, with the idea of introducing it into the United States for that purpose, specimen hides have recently been sent to the U.S. Department of Commerce by the American Consul at Colombo.

Everybody Pleased.

"How's the new baby? Last I heard you wanted to call her Pearl and her ma was holding out for Ruby."
"And her grandma wanted to name her Opal."
"Well, how did it come out?"
"Ignored nobody and satisfied everybody."
"Eh?"
"Called her Jewel."

DYSPEPSIA ENDED IN A SHORT TIME

CHAPLEAU SUFFERED SO MUCH HE DREADED FOR MEAL TIME TO COME.

"The Way Tanlac Overcame My Trouble Was the Happiest Surprise of My Life," He Declares.

"About the biggest and happiest surprise of my life was the quick way in which Tanlac brought me complete relief," said Victor Chapleau, 375 Sangumett Ave., Montreal, Que.

"I was in a terribly run down condition for three years as a result of stomach trouble. I actually got to the point where even the smell of food cooking would nauseate me and I dreaded to see meal time come round, as I knew that no matter how careful I was I would suffer agonies afterwards. I was so nervous at times that my hands shook like a man's with the palsy and I could hardly hold a pencil to sign my name.

"I am like a new man in every way now. Everything I eat agrees with me, my nerves are as steady as a clock and I feel just brimful of life and energy all the time."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. —Adv't.

Babies Buried in Sand.

An infant in Guinea is usually buried in sand up to its waist whenever the mother is busy, and this is the only cradle it ever knows.

The little Lapp, on the other hand, fares most luxuriously in its mother's shoe. These Lapp shoes are big affairs of skin stuffed with soft moss, and can be hung on a peg or tree branch safely out of the way.

The Chinese baby is tied to the back of an older child, who goes about its play quite ignoring its burden.

Retaliation.

At a certain University one of the lecturers visiting the college was a professor whose name happened to be Walter Raleigh.

A student was deputed to meet the great man at the railway station. This student did not know the professor by sight, but, walking up to a man he thought looked like him, he said:

"I beg your pardon, but am I addressing Walter Raleigh?"

The man looked at him a moment, and, thinking he must be mad, replied: "No, I am Christopher Columbus. Walter Raleigh is in the waiting-room with Queen Elizabeth."

A New Kind of Fuel.

Successful experiments have recently been made with a fuel composed of a mixture of anthracite dust and an almost pure carbon obtained by distillation of coal-tar pitch. The stuff is pressed into briquets, the coal-tar pitch product serving as a binder. In this shape it is hard, dense and in color silvery to grayish black. The briquets burn like anthracite, not going to pieces like coke.

Agriculture Surveys.

Under a ruling of the Department of the Interior, all Dominion lands south of the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Saskatchewan and Alberta have been withdrawn from entry or grazing lease. This regulation, however, will not affect applications already made.

The southern portions of these two provinces are being subjected to intensive survey of agricultural conditions therein, southern Alberta by a commission of which Mr. C. A. Magrath is chairman, and southern Saskatchewan by a soil survey committee directed by Prof. Roy Hansen, of the Faculty of Agriculture of Saskatchewan University.

The Price of Freedom.

Irish lawyers tell this story of Lord Morris, once lord chief justice of Ireland and before that recorder of Galway.

The last case on the list on one occasion, a dispute over a few shillings, was argued before Morris at great length and with much warmth. Lord Morris was anxious to get back to Dublin, where the courts were in full swing and where he held important briefs. Moreover, the Dublin train was scheduled to start within a few minutes. The recorder looked at his watch, but the wrangle did not seem to be approaching an end. At last he said to the opposing solicitors:

"Pardon me, gentlemen, but I must catch a train. Here is the sum in dispute."

And throwing down the silver, he vanished from the court.

So live that when you die your trumpeter will not be buried.
