Petty robberies continue to be perpetrated throughout the district. At Keswick, Morson's garage was broken into and $200 worth of motor accessories were stolen. Stevenson's garage at Bellehaven was also entered by thieves, who got away with a considerable quantity of tires and tubes. This makes five garage robberies in a week, and it is thought the same gang of thieves were responsible in each case. Constables Kirk and Thompson are following up some evidence that points strongly to some well-known characters in the district.

MRS. WM. DAVIES
 RICHMOND HILL

Ours is a small organization but thoroughly sound, behind which there is merit and ability, essentials in conducting a successful business.

Various classes of merchandise, which sell in one district, we have learned by experience are unsaleable in another, and by studying the requirements of the locality, we have to-day a stock 100% saleable.

There are many materials, both in piece and made up garments, manufactured with a perfect finish, but an inferior foundation, goods we are very familiar with and which we have no place in our fixtures.

By good judgment in buying and offering only the best at minimum prices, we have gained a deserving confidence and a commendable reputation.
