He remained there until his doctor advised him to be quiet for a few days to help heal the wound.

Accidental Death

That the death of Leonard Curtis of Richmond Hill, who was killed by a Metropolitan radial car near Thornhill on June 11, was purely accidental, was the verdict of Coroner W. L. Bond's jury, which sat at an inquest at Thornhill, Tuesday evening. The motorman in charge of the car which killed Curtis, was exenerated from all blame. According to the evidence of several witnesses. Curtis drove his motor in front of the car, and the motorman was unable to stop in time to advert an accident. Gilbert Ramsay who was driving with Curtis, was severely injured, but was able to give evidence at the inquest.

This Letter Will Warm Your Heart

143 Cambridge Guelph, June 21, 1025. Miss F. M. Brown, Sec'y. Old Boys' and Girls' Reunion Com, Richmond Hill, Ont .:

Dear Miss Brown,-By a somewhat circuitous route your very kind invitation to the Reunion reached me a few days ago, and so delighted am I that I am not going to lose any unnecessary time in answering and most heartily accepting the same, Within a few months of half a cer.

tury has elapsed since I first saw light of day in the precincts of Richmond Hill -in the well-known "Honeypot"-I trust its name has kept me sweet ever since. So you see your village and I are "twins"-both at the half century mark.

One of your famous old medical men-Dr. Langstaff, a man whose name will ever live in your community for his noble work-started me out on life's journey with a healthy body. And from one of your pioneers-Robert McNair, a kind and good friend of my parents-I got one of my

Not one of them has slipped out of memory. assure you, too, that my sweetest recollections of over thirty years of teaching are those connected with the term spent in your village school.

So you can understand what a close place Richmond Hill has to my heart. As the shadows of the eventide of life begin to creep quietly down on us, we I Monry to Loan at Our. o it Rate are inclined to live a great deal in the past-in the memory fields of the morning of life. How the friends, and the scenes, and the pleasures of that glorious springtime grow fonder and sweeter! Thank God for the sweet memories of life! And so with me, memory is now holding sway.

I, therefore, shall greatly enjoy returning to the old haunts once again, to meet some of my old pupils, to associ- BATHS, BASINS, W. C's., SINKS, ate with some of my old friends, to pay a tribute to the memory of the departed, whether from civil or military life, and especially to pay my homage to the grand old men who were Trustees of the school when I was teaching - Trench, Glass, McConachy, Newton, Naughton, Boyle, Switzer, and others-most of them sleeping in your beautiful cemetery, -only a few left to uphold the old traditions.

Words are entirely inadepuate to express the feelings of the heart, but I trust that the Reunion will be a real "old-time get-together," and that old friendship will be renewed, and cemented more strongly than ever.

Sincerely yours, GEO. R. COOMBS, Miss Brown is the secretary of the Association's Census Committee, and has been an indifatigable worker from the commencement of arrangements for the Reunion. But she has not been alone-others have given unstintingly of their time, and are doing so still. There's room for YOU, and a time and place to do something towards making the affair the success it is going to be. Attend the Tuesday meetings in the Council Chambers. Six weeks from to-day (Thursday) and the Reunion will be a thing of the past and many of the Old Boys and Girls will have returned to their place of abode again.
