TO BE CANCELLED

One of Hon. Howard Ferguson's lieutenants has said that the Premier will cancel all the appointments made by the late Drury Government since Election Day, the 25th of June, as he regards the appointments as patronage. The point is well taken though the late Government was only following a precedent established by the last Conservative and previous Governments. Hon. W. E. Raney contends that the appointments be made without delay, but if they were so very important why were they not made before the election instead of directly after.

To say the least the act looks like one of patronage. Probably more than a dozen men have made application, and are expecting to receive a good position. Governments keep them open fearing that in pleasing one man they displease the other even.

The Senate

A good deal of indignation has been aroused in Liberal circles owing to the action of the Dominion Senate in vetoing two or three measures passed by the King Government in the House of Commons. This has led to a discussion in several newspapers as to the advisability of "Reforming the Senate." As long as this country has a Senate it is not for us to say that the members should give their assent to bills passed by the Commons if in their opinion they are not for the good of the people. The complaint, however, is that the bills vetoed are invariably intended to hamper the opposite side of politics.

The members of the House of Commons are liable to make mistakes, but they are responsible to the electors, and can be replaced by a majority vote at any election. The Senators are appointed for life. We need not boast of Responsible Government as long as the Senate is privileged to undo what the Commons have done.

West Maple Union

A family re-union was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Redditt and son, Wilbert, on July 1st. Those of their family present were Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Redditt and daughter of Mount Hope, also their friend, Mr. Gillman; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Redditt and son of Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Redditt of Mt. Pleasant, were unable to be present on account of illness in their family, which all present regretted very much.

Mrs. Redditt's only sister, Mrs. Jos. Sampson, of Shanty Bay, Oro, was present. Other relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Beasley and daughter, of Sheffield, Mrs. Jas. Stoddart and daughter, of Oro. Mrs. Redditt's niece, Mrs. H. Morrow, of Sheffield, was not able to be present as she is suffering from the bad effects of being in an automobile accident some few weeks ago.—Waterford Star.

MAPLE

On Friday a league football game was played here between Edgeley and Maple teams which resulted in a draw, neither team scoring.

The Union S. S. picnic held at Vellore on Wednesday of last week was a great success, quite a number of schools being present. A programme of sports was carried out, and as the weather was ideal everyone enjoyed the outing. Weston Boys' Band was present and delighted all with their selections.

Miss M. Leek, of Mount Albert is spending a few days with Mrs. (Rev.) S. R. Robinson at the Manse.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McMahon, of Richmond Hill, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Saigeon and Mr. and Mrs. T. Keys.

Mrs. J. T. Saigeon attended the funeral of her sister-in-law Mrs. A. Coulter, at West Toronto on Friday last.

At a meeting on Saturday a committee was appointed to secure funds to build a cement sidewalk to the public school, and to make other improvements in the village.

Dr. E. Roulley has gone to Winnipeg on business relating to the Red Cross Society.

NEWSPAPER MEN'S TRIP THROUGH The Maritime Provinces and Quebec City

Annual Convention at Halifax, N.S.

In our last issue we had arrived at King's County. "The Land of Evangeline." This district is redolent with historical romance, and amply blessed with fertility of soil, aided by a moderate and favorable climate. It is one of the Western Counties in Nova Scotia, with the Bay of Fundy to the north and Minas Basin to the east. The North Mountain, jutting out into Minas Basin, gives ample protection from northerly winds to the Valley district lying between this and the South Mountain, extending along the southern border of the county. Kentville, the shire town of the county, is 72 miles from Halifax, the most important Atlantic Port in Canada.

The history of the county takes the reader back to 1671 when the first settlement was made by Acadians on the tidal lands of Grand Pre, and soon after this time Minas became one of the most flourishing parts of Acadia, since named Nova Scotia. These lands fell later into the possession of England, and in 1760 were occupied by English settlers. In the meantime the dykes built by the French to protect the tidal lands from the Fundy tides had been broken by heavy storms, and it was sometime before these could be repaired and the fertile lands shut in from the salt water. That the uplands of the county were naturally adaptable for fruit growing was amply demonstrated to the English settler by the vigorous growth of apple trees brought out by the early settlers from Normandy and grown by them for cider purposes. The great export fruit industry from this part of Nova Scotia to Europe has developed as a result of importations of named varieties of fruits from Europe and the United States made by the early English settlers. There are approximately 18,000 acres in orchards in this county and 11,000 acres for grains and hay. Its resources and possibilities as an agricultural locality are perhaps the most unique of any county, the fertile dyked bay lands, which adjoin areas suitable for field and vegetable crops and fruit growing, make possible any line of farming one may wish. The valley section is particularly adaptable to large and small fruits, vegetables and dairying, and the mountain sections furnishing excellent lands not only for field crop production, but excellent pasturage for stock raising, and ample wood supply. Among the different places visited by the Press party was the Government Experimental Farm at Kentville, where everything was most inviting and in excellent condition.

Evangeline's Land is romantic and beautiful at any time, but in apple-blossom time it is adorable; a riot of blossom everywhere, of purest white, cream and shell pink, and in the midst of it all in a little hollow or dip in the road, we came upon the tiny village of Grand Pre—straggling down a gentle slope to the basin of Minas. Though the scene of so much sorrow and tragedy in the past Grand Pre now seems a peaceful and delightful little spot. Men may d then hds as they stood before Evangeline's monumental figure and the memorial shrine, the counterpart of the chappel of St. Charles at which the Acadians were sipped.

A picturesque row of ancient willows, planted by the Acadians, helped to bring back the pictures and tragedy of that time even now. Probably no other place along the whole line of travel held the crowd like this historic spot did. The train whistle sounded several times and still they lingered around Evangeline's Well, and a new building erected for the purpose of storing records and relics of by-gone days. But the train was finally loaded, and the party sped on their way to Halifax, reaching that city about 10 p. m.
