One of the transformers burned out Saturday evening about nine o'clock, leaving a section of the town in darkness. Mr. Stirling, our electrician, was busy a good part of Sunday, assisted by a number of men sent up from the Hydro. Mr. Stirling's assistance was again called into requisition in the Methodist Church Sunday evening, when a couple of fuse-plugs burnt out. Mr. Stirling is not a man looking for bouquets, but let us say here he is one of the most capable, useful, and obliging men in the town.

Women's Institute Hold Live Meeting

"How to make the most of Life," "Thrift," and "Help or Hindrance of Habit," were three live topics discussed at a joint meeting of the Women's Institutes of Richmond Hill and Aurora, which took place at the residence of Mrs. H. Stirling, Wednesday afternoon of last week. This was the first meeting of the 1923 season and was just the beginning of what promises to be an interesting year. It was a largely attended meeting as some twenty Aurora members under the presidency of Mrs. Conover were guests of the local club which turned out strongly to welcome them and to listen to the excellent programme of papers and music offered by the visitors from the sister Institute.

Miss Moyle, president of the Richmond Hill Institute, in welcoming the Aurora guests, spoke of the benefits of closer knowledge of each other and of cooperative effort in reaching their common aims. She then put the meeting in the hands of the visiting Institute whose programme for the afternoon included a thoughtful paper read by Mrs. Charles on "How to make the most of Life," a practical exposition by Mrs. Dicker on "Economy and waste in the Home," and a careful analysis of the "Help or Hindrance of Habit," read by Miss Hancock, secretary of the Aurora club. Musical numbers were offered by Miss Josie Barker, a piano solo; by Miss Helen Bryan on the Hawaiian Guitar; and a vocal number by Mrs. Bryan.

At the business meeting preceding the presentation of the programme, a letter was read from the Board of the Children's Hospital, pointing out the great need of that institution for a generous supply of canned fruit for the winter season. Acting on this appeal, a motion was carried to ask each member of the Institute for a jar of fruit. Other business included the presentation of the printed programmes for the season's meetings, announcement of a forthcoming lecture by the Rev. W. A. Cameron, of Bloor Street Baptist Church, who is to speak about his recent trip to Europe, in a local hall on October 10th, and the appointment of a special committee to see to ticket and other arrangements for this affair which is sure to attract a large audience.

After the programme was over a pleasant social hour was spent over the tea cups when Miss Moyle and Mrs. Stirling were assisted in looking after the guests by Mrs. J. Innes, Mrs. Plewman, Mrs. Comisky and Mrs. I. Ramer.

METHODIST CHURCH Pipe Organ Opening

The trustees, the ladies aid and the congregation generally had for a long time hoped and looked forward to a large patronage and a good time at the Dedicatory services in connection with the opening of the new Pipe Organ, but the great success which attended their efforts last Sunday and Monday evening must have exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic.

In the morning when the service was taken by Rev. Salem Bland, former pastor of Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto, the auditorium of the church was well filled, as well as a few front seats in the gallery, and in the evening with Rev. Wesley Dean in charge, the auditorium as well as the gallery was crowded. Neither of the able ministers preached what might be called a sermon, but their very practical talks to congregation and choir along the lines of good fellowship, union and human betterment were listened to with marked attention, and every word was thoroughly enjoyed. The pastor, Rev. H. S. Warren, read the dedicatory service in the morning, and Mr. W. A. Wright, secretary of the Trustee Board, presented the new organ to the church. With the organist, Mr. Melecci at the new instrument assisted by his 36 choristers good music was supplied morning and evening. Messrs Alfred Gray and Frank Robb of Toronto, rendered valuable assistance in duets at both services, and in the evening Stanley Hatt, gold medalist, and soprano soloist of St. Matthew's Anglican Church choir, sang a solo to the delight of all present. Mr. Melecci also gave a short organ recital at the close of the evening service.

Monday evening at the Organ Recital, the auditorium and gallery were again well filled after a splendid supper had been served in the School Room by the Ladies Aid. After extending a welcome to the large audience, and thanking all who had helped to make the opening such a grand success, the pastor, Rev. H. S. Warren, asked Dr. Willan of the Toronto Conservatory of music, to take charge of the entertainment. Dr. Willan congratulated the Methodist church on the magnificent pipe organ, manufactured and installed by the Casavant Company—an instrument which would give the best of satisfaction in the hands of the organist, Adelmo Melecci. During the evening Dr. Willan played several difficult selections by noted musicians, and vocal solos were rendered by Miss Edith Champion, and violin selections by Mr. Geoffrey Waddington.

The proceeds of the supper and entertainment were $238.65.
