Don't Sign a Paving Petition

Niagara Falls, Oct. 8, 1923. Editor Liberal, Richmond Hill: Dear Sir,—With your kind permission I would like to reach the ratepayers of our village once more through your valued paper on the subject of road paving.

Ratepayers: If you value the home you own enough to want to keep it—Don't sign a paving petition.

If you plan to save something in future years from your hard earnings to put away or spend as you perfectly well please—Don't sign a paving petition.

If you calculate that you should have some say about how you are going to spend your cash instead of having it taken from you in taxes you cannot evade—Don't sign a paving petition.

If you think the price of merchandise in our stores is high enough and don't want the merchant to raise his price to recover from his customer's share of the ridiculous cost of a road for the Joy-Rider—Don't sign a paving petition.

Our Ratepayers' Association has saved us some thousands of dollars. Do you want to hear some interesting facts? Come to the Ratepayers Meeting on Friday evening. No dull moments. Yours truly, W. A. DUNCAN.

What Two Dollars Will Buy

In each of its many departments, catering to all classes and all ages, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, has continued to improve each year over the last until now it would seem perfection were reached. Yet for the coming season that remarkable farm and family journal again promises—and the promise will surely be fulfilled—still further improvements in all departments. It is a profound mystery to publishers the world over how the Family Herald and Weekly Star can continue to publish a 72-page weekly paper containing such a wealth and variety of reading matter for a subscription price of only $2.00 per year.

If this were not enough, we hear, that, added to the amazing value of the paper itself, each subscriber this season who remits in time will receive free a most beautiful picture in colors of a lovely and heroic woman, whose remarkable life story has been published in booklet form and can be obtained without charge from the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal.
