Let Jim Weld It

Did it ever occur to you that many thousands of dollars are wasted annually by people throwing away valuable household utensils and garden tools made of metal which, having broken, seemed worthless? If it is made of metal of any kind, no matter what size, shape, or style, Jim can weld it. Some of the things he welds daily are stove parts, farm implements, baby carriages, washing machine parts, and bicycles.

VICTORIA SQUARE

Edgar, the 9 year old son of Mr. W. B. Heise, of Victoria Square, met with a severe accident a few days ago. He was climbing from the stable door to the barn, when he fell to the cement pavement fracturing his skull. The boy was rushed to the Sick Children's Hospital, and an X ray taken, when it was found that the inside shell was cracked. The patient is expected home in a few days, but he will be kept quiet for a few weeks.

A part of the programme of Rural Trustees Section, O. E. A. on Tuesday April 22, 1924, is a debate on a live subject. Three of the ratepayers from our village are taking part in the debate. "Resolved, that Consolidation is the most practicable solution of the Problem of Rural Education." Affirmative, H. D. Cleminson, Wellington; Lindsay O. Brown, Britannia Heights; Negative, Harvey F. Colard and Louis L. Nicholls, of Gormley R. R. No. 2. The judge for negative E. J. M. Hitchcock, also of Gormley. Debate to take place in Auditorium Central Technical School, Toronto, at 2.30 p.m.

There was a large and representative audience at the church last Friday evening, April 11th, when the league presented the rural drama "Between Two Lives." The stage setting was all that could be desired and Mr. G. Baker, of Gormley, is to be congratulated for the lighting with Caron electric light. Each member taking part in the drama showed ability to sustain the characters he or she represented and are receiving congratulations for their presentation. Just before the third act, Rev. Mr. Warren, on behalf of the young people, presented the director, Mr. E. Hitchcock with a beautiful stick pin. Mr. Hitchcock though taken by surprise made a suitable reply, thanking the young people for their handsome gift. The Drama will be repeated at Richmond Hill on the evening of April 21th, in the Masonic Hall. Be on hand.

Conservative Management and Credit

CREDIT is essential to the normal conduct of business. The clothing manufacturer, for instance, designs his clothes and manufactures them many months before the retailer buys them. If his business is sound he obtains from his banker the money required to carry him over the period of heavy production and light deliveries.

The Sterling Bank enjoys today a strong and stable position due to conservative management. If your business is conducted on the same careful lines as our own, we are prepared to offer you generous financial support.
