HEALTH EDUCATION

BY DR. J. J. MIDDLETON
 Provincial Board of Health, Ontario

Dr. Middleton will be glad to answer questions on Public Health matters through this column. Address him at Spadina House, Spadina Crescent, Toronto.

In making inquiries into the cause of the high rate of child mortality or deaths of young children, there must be several factors taken into account. One of these is carelessness on the part of the parent or guardian. Many deaths of children occur from such a simple reason as the mother carelessly leaving a pail of water on the floor while she answers the telephone. The child may fall in and be suffocated before the mother's return. Others give children easy access to tubs of hot water on wash day and death from scalding results. Mortality of children who take poisons by mistake, or medicine at the wrong time, is also traceable to neglectful parents. It is only a short while ago that a child in Toronto died through eating five or six tablets of A.B.S. & C., the common laxative, which has a small amount of strychnine in every tablet, but when several tablets are swallowed at once, become a dangerous poison.

Children are ever on the alert for some new toy, some strange object to get hold of. Everyone knows how young children tire of their toys and playthings and when not watched will grab anything that is novel or new to them. In this connection the "loose gun around the place" always followed up by the "didn't know it was loaded" plea, is so common an occurrence as to barely warrant mention. Then there is the careless habit of parents leaving the door open and allowing little toddlers to find their way out on to the street or road. How often we read about accidents to children occurring on the streets when the thoughtless mother, busy with her duties in the house, did not even know the child had left the room, thinking it was busy with its toys or book. These instances may seem commonplace, and the reader may think that any parent at all careful would never let such an accident occur, yet the annual death rate of children, resulting from accidents due to the carelessness or thoughtlessness of parents is an alarming one.

We read the other day of a 10-months' old child becoming suffocated from stearate of zinc. Stearate of zinc makes excellent powder for toilet use and also for dusting furniture, but while no more harmful than other powders it becomes a real menace if it gets within the reach of a youngster's prying fingers.

The simplicity of the cause of accidents is what disarms many people. "Human carelessness" is a poor excuse for a child's death, but if parents would only be more on their guard for possible accidents, less of these dreaded occurrences would take place.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian Spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery, is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or relieving colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ills of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

World's Most Ancient Building.

It was King A-an-ni-pad-da of Ur, in Mesopotamia, who built the oldest building in the world which is still standing.

He reigned about 4,500 years before the birth of Christ, and the building is thus about 6,500 years old. Ur was the native place of Abraham and the city of Nebuchadnezzar.

The King's name and title were learned by the chance discovery of a gold scaraboid bead, on which they were engraved.

Mr. C. Woolley, leader of the joint expedition of the British Museum and the University Museum of Pennsylvania, made the discovery during the excavations, at Ur. The little temple which is the oldest building in the world is at Tel el Obeld, about four miles from Ur.

The Official Baby.

The arrival of a party of Swazi chiefs in England reminds the London Chronicle of the visit of a similar deputation in 1894 and its introduction to Queen Victoria, which shook a little even her experienced equanimity.

"We come, O great mother," translated the interpreter, "to bring to thee our babe. Take him, O mother, to thy knees; fold him to thy breast."

At that stage the queen was becoming alarmed. "But where is the child?" she cried. "I don't see him."

"Here, O Mother," said the Swazi, gravely bringing forward a powerful savage six feet tall and weighing considerably more than two hundred pounds. "Here he is."

No one is so-n without faults; he is best who is beset by least.

EASY TRICKS

No. 335
 How To Make A Coin Vanish

This stunt is used by many professional magicians when they wish to cause a coin to vanish. It requires a little skill but the amateur will be able to do it well after half an hour's practice. A half dollar is held between the finger tips and thumb of the left hand. The thumb of the right hand is placed under the coin and the fingers closed over it, and the coin apparently carried away in the right hand. When the right hand is opened, the coin has vanished.

If you will try the trick, you will observe that when the fingers close over the coin, the coin can be dropped into the palm of the left hand. The right hand goes through the motion of taking the coin, every effort being made to duplicate the appearance of actually taking the coin. The left hand, in which the coin is "palmed," drops naturally to the side, the trickster having practiced holding it just as if it contained nothing.

The amateur will find some difficulty in palming the coin. In this particular trick it is better to hold the coin between the roots of the fingers and the first joint. The hand will be slightly curved and a natural position of the hand will be obtained very easily. Much of the success of the trick depends upon the manner in which it is acted. Until the moment when the coin is supposed to vanish, the trickster should act just as if the coin were really in the right hand.
