

GRATEFUL PARENTS POUR OUT THANKS TO TANLAC

Five in One Family Are Helped—Mother and Father Give Details.

The value of Tanlac as a family medicine and tonic is again very forcefully demonstrated. This time in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kaake, 2436 Kirby Ave. West, Detroit, Mich., where father and mother and every member of the family have been benefited by the wholesome and helpful ingredients of the famous preparation.

Recently, in speaking for herself and children, Mrs. Kaake said: "For more than a year our three little ones—John, age 6; Elwyn, 4; and Margarine, 2,—had been so peaked and lifeless that we were seriously worried about them. Their stomachs were upset, appetites poor, the color had left their cheeks, their nights were restless, and during the day they would just mope around, taking no interest in play or anything else.

"They began to eat and sleep better almost from the first dose of Tanlac, and have picked up now until you couldn't find three healthier or more active children in all Detroit. They eat ravenously, the color of health has returned to their cheeks, and they just want to be on the go all the time. I have also taken Tanlac to build me up, and it never seems to fail."

"As to my personal experience with Tanlac," said Mr. Kaake, "I simply can't express in words the great help it gave me. About a year ago I was a victim of boils, actually having fifty-one on me, and was so played out that I couldn't do a bit of work for weeks. My suffering was almost unbearable. I cared little for food, suffered with severe headaches and stomach pains, and got so weak and nervous that I felt discouraged.

"Tanlac corrected my stomach disorders, woke up my appetite, cleansed my blood and toned up my system so that the boils went away, and nothing of the kind has bothered me since. I have gained 28 lbs., and I eat, sleep and feel like a brand-new man. We have given Tanlac a fair trial and found it wonderful, and if anyone doubts our statement they can write personally. We wouldn't think of being without Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

EASY TRICKS A Parlor Illusion

A trick, very popular with stage magicians, may be performed in any parlor and has the appearance of being a far more elaborate trick than most amateur tricksters attempt.

Three pieces of tissue paper, red, white and blue are shown. The sleeves are rolled up and the hands are seen to be empty except for the paper. The papers are set on fire and while they are burning the trickster crushes them in his hands, extinguishing the flames. He rubs his hands together and produces from the ashes of the papers a small silk American flag.

The trick requires a little care to avoid burning the fingers. Most magicians let the papers—each is a little bigger than a cigarette paper—burn until only a very small bit remains unburned. Then there is little danger.

The flag is prepared for the trick by being rolled into a very small ball. This is pushed into one end of a box of safety matches. The box is put within easy reach but placed so that the spectators cannot see the end in which the flag is hidden.

When the magician takes a match out of the box, he closes it. That forces the handkerchief into one of his palms. The fact that the same hand holds the papers enables him to keep the hand closed without exciting suspicion.

Making it Clear.

Bridget and Michael had been married barely three months, and already Michael had on two occasions arrived home in the early hours of the morning. This did not suit Bridget, as on each occasion she had to come down to admit him.

Michael was looking forward to spending the evening of this particular day in having a "few sociable ones with the bhoys," and this Bridget knew.

"Now look here," she said to her husband at the breakfast-table, "it was two o'clock the following morning when ye came home last night. But I want to be telling ye that if it's two o'clock in the morning when ye come home to-night—or any other night in the morning, you'll have to get up and let yourself in!"

Willie's Wisdom.

Willie was fishing.

"Willie!"

It was his mother's voice, but he was sheltered from the house by trees, and she could not possibly see him.

So Willie went on fishing.

"Willie!"

Still Willie went on fishing.

"Willie!"

Willie began re-baiting his hook. He had just secured the worm when his friend, Bert, approached.

"Don't you hear your mother callin' you?" said Bert. "That's three times she's shouted. Aren't you going in?"

"No," responded Willie, imperturbably.

"Won't she whip you?" asked his friend.

"No," repeated Willie, disdainfully. "She ain't going to whip nobody. She's got company; so when I go in she'll just say, 'The poor little fellow's been so deaf since he had the measles.'"

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. McMahon Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains and backache, and was tired and weak, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the Vegetable Compound. I feel much better now and am not ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman I think feels as I do." —Mrs. J. R. MCMAHON, 153 Harvey St., Chatham, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has for nearly fifty years been restoring sick, ailing women to health and strength. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularities, tired, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. McMahon writes, as well as by one woman telling another. These women know, and are willing to tell others, what it did for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial.

great herds of elephants still gaze astounded at this strange river monster till driven off by the scream of the siren.

Disembarking, the traveler boards an ancient, excessively uncomfortable lorry, which wheezes up the escarpment, taking him to Masindi, and next day, if he is lucky, to Masindi Port. Here he finds other steamers which take him, with a brief railway interlude, to Kisumu, on Lake Victoria, whence the Uganda Railway will carry him without further changes to Nairobi.

But this journey takes at least three weeks, against forty-eight hours' running time by the new road. All over Africa a similar process of acceleration is going on. Besides the road mentioned, various motor roads run from Nairobi, fostered by that enthusiastic body, the Royal East Africa Automobile Association.

Uganda, Tanganyika, Nyassaland and the Belgians in the Congo also have realized the vast possibilities of car and lorry as a means of transport through the heart of Africa.

But these African motor roads are not the black ribbons of shining smoothness which the term conjurs up. They would break the heart of an English motorist in five miles.

One man on the Longido road from Nairobi to Arusha was chased for miles by a rhinoceros; another, in the Congo, charged a sleeping lion, to the great discomfiture of both parties, and the writer once fell over a cliff, car and all, because the road had forgotten to go on.

A more serious obstacle is that these roads can only be used in the dry season, and it will take man years to evolve a macadam which will withstand the African rains. When he does cars will dash about all over Africa and the old happy-go-lucky safaris will vanish with other pleasant leisured things. Commercially it will be a great gain. But otherwise—?
