INQUIRIES SOLICITED

GIVE CREDIT TO THE O.T.A.

The Newmarket Express-Herald in its issue following the 12th of July, asked the following question:

"Will anyone kindly tell us whether it was because of the O.T.A. or in spite of the O.T.A. that the Orangemen's celebration in Newmarket on Saturday in which perhaps 10,000 people participated in one form or another, was the most orderly and the most respectable celebration of its kind in the history of the town?"

The same question could be asked regarding the celebration in Richmond Hill. And Newmarket and Richmond Hill are not exceptions to the general rule. Years ago when liquor was sold openly, celebrations and fall fairs and other gatherings were often drunken brawls. And yet the electors will soon be asked to cast their ballots and say whether they wish the present law wiped off the statute books to be replaced by Government sale of liquor, because some people insist on breaking the law.

NEWTON BROOK

Rev. E. Ryerson Young's stories of pioneer life begin in last week's "Onward." Conditions that met the early settlers are revealed and show how many a religious society was formed, log churches built and young recruits won for the ministry. Young and old will read these Canadian stories with delight.

"One of the literary treasures of the Christian Church," said Rev. E. R. Young, in the Newtonbrook Church last Sunday evening, is Paul's panygeric on love. But its glory is other than literary, beautiful as it may be when so considered. Its chief glory is that it belongs to Christian experience, and to Paul, its crowning glory is its all-pervading durability—"love never faileth."

The preacher then pointed out how prophecies will fail, because all in time, will be fulfilled; tongues and all wonders of conversion will cease, for the time will come when all men will be converted, and knowledge shall vanish away, as mist in the full light of day, but love will not fail but grow more beautiful and perfect, the nearer we get to the heart of the God of love.

Next Sunday evening Mr. Young will give an exposition of the hymn: "Rock of Ages." The subject for next Sunday morning will be "Thou shalt love the Lord—with all thy heart."

In Zion Church last Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Trimble and Mrs. French sang a duet very acceptably.

VICTORIA SQUARE

The majority of the farmers in this vicinity have watched, with a grin of satisfaction, the last loads of hay disappear within their barns.

Miss Mildred Collard is spending a few weeks vacation at Victoria Square, before returning to Chicago, at which place she spent the greater part of last year, as a Nurse in training.

The greater portion of the fair six of our town have left on their annual trek to Lake Musselmanns, where they purpose spending two glorious weeks, free from the onerous tasks of feeding chicks and garnering black currants.

The local baseball nine met Thornhill, at the home field, in an ill-contested game on Friday night. The result was an easy victory for the visitors. The game however did not prove to be nearly so thrilling as did the pugilistic effort, staged afterwards, between two of the prominent officials comprising the personal of our Hills-Square management committee. Their countenances however were not seriously marred, thanks to the timely intervention of a local father, who entered with the roar of a Lion and succeeded in separating them. Not, however before some words were spoken which, (owing to their peculiar nature), I shall not be able to set down. We see the middleweight champion ship who was enabled by his extremely long reach, to drive home a telling blow, while at a discreet distance completely screened by several on-lookers. The recipient was unable to tell from whence it came.

Visits Maple and Teston

Dr. A. F. Mackenzie, a chiropractor, 167 Belsize Drive, Toronto, has arranged for regular visits to Maple and Teston during the summer and fall months. He is already successfully treating a number of cases of chronic and nervous disorders, where drugs have failed to effect a cure, and many of his patients are glad to embrace the opportunity to try this drugless method of combatting the ills of the human body. Dr. Mackenzie can give a strong personal recommendation of chiropractic as his own health broke down under the heavy strain of city mission work, while stationed at the Fred Victor Mission, Toronto, for so many years and he is now almost completely restored. The patients at Teston and vicinity meet Dr. Mackenzie at the home of Mr. J. Piercy, and if a sufficient number of patients are enrolled at Maple to make it advisable, a clinic will be held three days a week in the parlor of Mr. Jones' Hotel where an adjusting table, and violet ray outfit will be installed. A card dropped to Maple P. O., or to the doctor's city address will receive prompt attention.
