Capt. Jenkins and Chief Steward A. Richardson

BELOW S.S. Doric of White Star-Dominion Line

"Hello, is that you Jim?" The new White Star liner 'Doric' had just been warped into her berth in Montreal Harbor and Captain Jenkins was calling an old sea-going friend in Toronto from the telephone which had been connected up as soon as the big ship touched the dock. Incoming passengers find this ship telephone connected to the Montreal 'Main' exchange, a great convenience. They immediately get in touch with points far and near, and the sound of familiar voices gladdens the hearts of expectant friends. "With wireless at sea and quick telephone connection in port," says Captain Jenkins, "our passengers and crew are abreast of the latest world developments by land and sea."
