

RICHMOND TAILORS

J. A. GREENE

Telephone 5j or Residence 49w

We have an important message for every buyer of tailored clothes in this district. We'll make it short and snappy so read on.

In the village of Richmond Hill we operate a tailorshop we're not bragging about its looks or location—it has no fine marble front or glass to enrich its beauty—it's simply a building good enough to carry on business in and enables us to keep our overhead expenses down to a minimum.

We have been here for the past number of years selling only the highest quality tailoring at a small margin of profit and doing a nice volume of business.

Men of good judgement in all walks of life come here for their clothes for they get not only quality, but clothes that fit, wear and give personal satisfaction.

Good clothes never kept a man back—they've never hindered his progress nor hurt his chances of success. It makes no difference what objective you have in life, good clothes will help you get there. It is one investment that is safe, paying high dividends in self confidence, self satisfaction and public recognition. This is the service that we are selling.

Yours Sincerely,

Richmond Tailors
J. A. Greene

BOWLING NOTES

The first annual mixed tournament put on by the local Ladies' Bowling Club on Saturday last was a very successful event, and about thirty rinks participated in the competition. Mrs. J. H. Jackson, the president of the club, welcomed the visiting rinks and play was started promptly on time. The honors of the day went to a Richmond Hill rink skipped by G. Moodie which won the first prize after several keenly contested games. The second prize was won by a Tottenham rink. All members of the local club as well as visiting rinks are well pleased with the success of the first tournament.

On Tuesday last Godfrey Willis and Gid Moodie took two rinks of "colts" over to Stouffville and in regular league games defeated the seasoned veterans of that town.

F. J. Mansbridge, W. Ward Price, E. T. Stephens, and James McLean, skip attended the Oakville tournament on Wednesday afternoon and were successful in winning two games and only lost their third by one shot. They report that the Oakville club has an exceptionally fine green.

D. Atkinson, H. Murphy, F. Sims, and W. A. Trench attended the tournament at Port Perry on Wednesday afternoon.

The tournament for the W. H. Legge cup will be held on Monday afternoon next with the two games in the afternoon and two in the evening. Entries which are open to any member of the club will be received until Saturday by J. R. Herrington or G. Moodie.
