York Market

Popular Market Now Open Tuesday Evenings as well as Saturday Morning

An unusually large number of producers at the York Market Saturday morning with attractive displays of WANTED-Woman wants work as vegetables, fruits and flowers greeted the early buyers. Dairy produce was plentiful and the standard unusually high.

Prices were a little easier but the buyers were so plentiful that the market was early sold out.

The demand for produce was so great that the market committee decided to open Tuesday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. This week the large crowd in attendance bespoke success for the venture. Many customers of the market felt that they could not lay W. Ward Price only operating on Saturday and at in sufficient supply with the Market the convenience of securing first class products direct from the producers. The Tuesday market will give the producers a larger market and should result in benefits to all classes of the community. The average prices on Saturday and Tuesday were:-

It was learned that he had served a jail sentence in Montreal and that after appearing in the police court in Toronto he was ordered to make the distance between himself and the good city as great as possi-

In view of his acknowledged reputation and suspicious actions an effort was made by local citizens to have the authorities lock him up as it was felt that he was not a fit and proper character to be wandering labout the village streets at night. The first attempt was unsuccesful as the constable telephoned was out of RICHMOND HILL - UNIONVILLE town. The second effort was more successful as a constable was located but he was not in possession of the keys to open the portals of the municipal guest room. It was now nearing one o'clock and as the situation appeared to be getting serious the proprietor of a north end service station who recently suffered a loss as a result of visitors in the night accompanied by a volunteer squad located the wanderer walking aimlessly along Church Street.
