The constant drip of water wears away the hardest stone; the constant gnaw of Towser masticates the toughest bone, the constant wooing lover, carries off the blushing maid, and the constant advertiser is the one that gets the trade.

At present the hole which is a very bad one is decorated with a danger sign in which the council disclaims all responsibility for all and sundry who may disappear in its miry depths. A prominent Yonge Street business man is authority for the following account of an incident which occurred this week. A gentleman who resides just south of the village when coming into town one day spied a hat in the mud and on investigation found that a man was underneath the hat. After an enquiry as to the unseemly situation the mud-bespangled citizen cried, "pull me out Joe, there's a horse underneath me but never mind him." We have no report that the horse has yet been recovered.

That motorist who now looks to his spring overhauling is wise in his generation. The call of the open should be prepared. Wilson and Hargrave 3419 Yonge Street (Just at the top of the hill), as in previous seasons give a timely tip when they ask their patrons to have their repairs done early. High School Notes

The boys basketball teams of R. H. H. S. ended a very successful season by tendering a banquet to Alan White and his team the winners of the school league. Alan after losing the first game of the play-offs came from behind to defeat Herb. Sharpless and overcame a four point lead, winning the round by 3 points.

The banquet was called for six o'clock but as usual started about an hour late. Mr. Stewart, Mr. Smith and the winning team occupied the head table. Everyone had plenty although the ice cream was limited. Even the losing basketball captain (waiters) had "lots."

Next on the program were the speeches. With the exception of those of Mr. Stewart and Mr. Smith, Walt Steckley and Alan White they were a decided failure although Egerton Young did make an attempt on behalf of the waiters. The line-up of the winning team—Alan White, Captain; Keith Ball, Walt Mason, Johnny Helmkey, Ralph Mackil. Ex-pupils for one year and all the school girls were invited to the dance which followed the banquet. Everybody had a good time.

Wife Dies Shortly After Hearing Of Husband's Death.

The sad death occurred on March 19 of James Quinlan at his home Mackinaw Island which was followed shortly by the death of his beloved wife who had just undergone a serious operation in a Chicago hospital and was shocked by the news of her husband's death. The late Mr. Quinlan was a cousin of Mrs. James Gillies, King City to whom we extend sincere sympathy.

General News and Views

This is the mid-season for sports. Hockey for lack of ice, has languished, and baseball still looms in the offing, a subject for the speculations of sporting editors. The cricketer craves warm weather; tennis favours quest less muddy courts, and devotees of the "royal and ancient game" hanker for the greensward in all its emerald brilliance. But the game which holds the heart of the small boy is at its height. This is the season in which marbles reign supreme, and the mud and water not only add zest to the pastime, but are its most necessary adjunct.

Arrangements are being made by the Continuing Presbyterians of Sutton for the erection of a new church for which plans will shortly be completed.

Have you observed that no up-to-date business man neglects his show windows? Some merchants neglect advertising. The window is seen by those who pass the store and by no others. The newspaper carries the show window, as it were, into the homes of the town and district and gives the people an idea of the goods carried, and the prices at which they can be secured.

At a Director's meeting of North Ontario Agricultural Society the matter of changing the season of the Annual Fair was fully discussed and it was decided to hold a Summer Fair this year with dates 28th, 29th the 30th of July.
