Change of Gauge Held Up Awaiting Vote In Aurora

Richmond Hill Paving Program Must Also Wait.

The proposed paving program of the Richmond Hill council cannot be definitely settled or commenced until after July 27, said Reeve J. Lunau when interviewed by the Liberal this week. The hold up now is waiting until the town of Aurora takes a vote as to whether or not they will pledge their credit to the extent of $10,000 for a share of the freight of a switch to take care of the freight of the Collis Leather Company. A settlement has been arrived at whereby the T. T. C. will be allowed to alter its gauge on the Metropolitan Railway and carry passengers and package freight to the centre of the city without the present change at the city limits if the vote of the people of Aurora is favorable.

The gauge change which threatened to deprive this Aurora firm of its freight connections has been the subject of prolonged negotiations in which the Ontario Railway board is understood to have played the part of mediator. The cost of steam railway connections is in the neighborhood of $30,000 and this, it is said, can be financed by the interested parties if Aurora will pledge its credit for one-third of the amount, the actual payments of interest and sinking fund, however, to be met by the Leather Company, so that there will be no cost to the ratepayers. It is understood that the Aurora council had the power to pledge the credit of the municipality for the amount mentioned but did not feel like doing so without consulting the people.

In the meantime the T. T. C. are held up in their plans to re-organize this radial line and the people and all other municipalities along Yonge St. suffer accordingly. The whole hold up to this improvement of service on Yonge St. which is acclaimed by the vast majority as a great boon to this district has apparently been from interested parties in the town of Aurora and it does seem an injustice that this work should be held up and the mass of the people suffer for the interests of a few.

Richmond Hill is particularly interested in the proceedings not only because of the improved service expected from the radials but also on account of the badly needed improvements to Yonge Street which must wait the change of gauge. The main street of the town is in a deplorable condition and the municipality is getting a lot of unfavorable advertising throughout the length and breadth of the country as a result. The council are anxious to get ahead with the work but as it is expected that the T. T. C. tracks will be moved to the centre of the street no action can be taken. Reeve Lunau has kept in constant touch with the developments and has done all in his power to speed up the work but at the present time that very best that can be hoped for is that work will be commenced after July 27.

The Moderator and Dr. Gandier, the British Consuls, and his own wife have telegraphed him at various times to come out to the coast, 2,500 miles away, for safety, but he hopes to finish the job in time for classes next Fall.

Plans Completed For Richmond Hill Celebration

A Varied Program Has Been Arranged Which Will Be Free To All.

Plans are now complete for the Jubilee celebration in Richmond Hill and as the date draws near the general public are waiting expectantly for July first when as Canadians they can celebrate the sixtieth birthday of confederation. The local celebration will be entirely in the hands of the council who have generously undertaken the arrangement of the program and are providing the necessary funds. With the thought in mind that local citizens, like citizens in the great majority of towns, cities and villages throughout Canada should have the privilege of celebrating this memorable day at home Reeve Lunau has worked untiringly in arranging the details and in preparing a program which will be fitting for the event. In it he has had the support of the members of the council and a large body of interested citizens. Feeling that the Jubilee celebration should be open to all, great and small rich and poor alike everything on that day will be FREE. No admission will be charged to the grounds or to any of the events. This is the procedure that is followed by the majority of celebrations this year as it was the opinion of the central committee that nothing of a mercenary nature should interfere with the whole-hearted celebration of this great day in Canadian history by Canadian people. The citizens of surrounding communities are cordially invited to celebrate the day in Richmond Hill.

Enjoyable Social Event

On Thursday, last through the kindness of Mrs. Will Savage, who provided the motors, the members of the Women's Association of Mimico Presbyterian Church journeyed for a picnic to Mrs. Milton Savages and after lunch they were joined by the W.A. of Richmond Hill Presbyterian church.

During the afternoon, under the leadership of the President, Mrs. Will Savage, and her able secretary of Mimico a varied and amusing program of sports and games was carried out. A number of our local members carried away a great portion of the well-chosen prizes, some of whom now feel qualified to enter the Jubilee races.

At the close of the tea-hour, Mrs. Jamieson of Mimico proposed a vote of thanks to their hostess as through her hospitality and kindness, much of the success of the outing was due. During her response Mrs. Milton Savage said it gave her great pleasure to have them and thanked them all very kindly.
