T. T. C. Have Permission To Widen Gauge

Work Will Be Commenced in The Near Future

At a meeting of the Ontario Railway Board held on Wednesday the T. T. C. were granted permission to change the gauge of the Metropolitan railroads to conform with the tracks in the city of Toronto, and although it is expected that work will be commenced in the very near future T. T. C. officials interviewed by the Liberal were unable to say just when work would commence. The change of gauge will be welcomed by the entire North Yonge St. district who are looking for a much improved service with a possibility of lower fares sometime in the future when the system gets well established under T.T.C. management. Mr. Harvey general manager of the T.T.C. has stated that the change will have effect of enabling the commission to give greatly improved and more comfortable service at a reduced cost.

The contract for the paving of Yonge Street will be let on Friday and work will be commenced as soon as possible. Department surveyors have been here during the week will have completed their work in the course of a couple of days. Although it cannot be definitely stated it is probable that a ten foot pavement will be laid on either side of the car tracks which will be in the centre of the road. It is also likely that the centre of the T.T.C. tracks will be paved. One side of the road will be constructed at a time which will enable traffic to go through the town although an effort will probably be made to divert a lot of the through traffic along some other highway.

THE ROYAL MINER
The Prince of Wales descended the Haig Coal Mines, Whitehaven, England, recently, rode in the miners' tub, and also handled a pneumatic pick. He is here seen about to go down the pit in blue overalls.

Langstaff

Langstaff Supply Co. Will Operate Grist Mill—Erected One Century Ago Mill Now Purchased by Member of Original Owner's Family.

The grist mill of L. Innes and Son which was erected about one hundred years ago by the late John Atkinson, has been sold to a great grandson of the original owner, Mr. G. H. Duncan of the Langstaff Supply Co. The mill is surrounded by much of historic interest and its sale and removal will doubtless recall many interesting memories to old timers of the district.

The mill will be removed to the Langstaff Supply yards at Langstaff and when rebuilt will be complete in every respect and grinding and general mill work will be carried on. This adds another department of activity to this enterprising North Yonge Street firm and it should prove a great convenience to farmers of this district. We bespeak for the Langstaff Supply Co. the generous patronage of the people of this community.

1927 Crops Promise An Abundant Yield

Although a good many farmers in York County have finished haying there is still a considerable quantity in the fields and the recent heavy rains made the saving of the crops a real problem. Frequent and heavy showers have also delayed harvesting of the wheat crop, and have caused some lodging in the grain crops. Prospects however, remain exceptionally good, subject to more favorable weather being forthcoming. Spring grains promise a good return, and the ample rainfall has helped the crops of grain and roots.

Indications are that the corn-crover is getting good work although corn fields are not as plentiful as in former years. Many farmers have turned to sweet clover as a substitute, and when cutting for hay it has been found advantageous to cut with a binder and to stook up until cured. It is handled much better this way, and can be cared for in bad weather more easily than by curing loose. Barley seems to be a good crop; cutting has commenced in eastern counties, and will be general this week. Apples are looking fair, but a heavy crop is not anticipated. Pastures remain wonderfully good for this time of year, and a splendid aftermath of clover and alfalfa is reported from most districts. Potatoes give promise of being a good crop, as also do mangles and turnips. There seems to be a good showing of raspberries all over, but cherries are light. All live stock are doing well, but milk flow is naturally decreasing. As for the seed crops, alsike promises very good, but alfalfa production is likely to show a considerable reduction, partly owing to rank growth and lodging.

Mixed Tournament for W.H. Legge Cup

The games committee of the local bowling club have announced their intention of holding a mixed tournament on Monday, August 1, afternoon and evening for the Harry Legge cup. All those wishing to participate in the tournament should send in their entries as soon as possible and not later than Saturday night to the following members of the games committee; F.J. Mansbridge, Gid Moodie, A.T. Minnis.

Traffic Heavy On Yonge St. This Year

Motor car traffic on the main highways within a radius of sixty miles of Toronto has broken all records so far this summer, according to the Provincial Highway and county police who patrol and have checked up conditions carefully during the last two months particularly. Over the week-ends the Kingston road, Lake Shore road, Dundas Highway, and North Yonge street accommodate up to 2,000 cars per hour going each way. While the traffic over the first of the month was exceptionally heavy there appears to be no let up to it. The police declare that all records are being smashed.

The traffic on Yonge street from Hogg's Hollow north has been beyond all police anticipation, at times over 2,000 cars passing a given mark in one hour. It is becoming a common occurrence for the county and provincial police to have to regulate traffic into the city from as far north as Willowdale in North York township.

With the highway now opened through to Montreal without a detour, Kingston road has the traffic like that of Yonge street although great relief is provided by the "Y" of the road in Scarboro of Queen street and Danforth ave. Yonge street catches all, and there is usually quite a traffic congestion.

Whilst numerous accidents have occurred the police state they are comparatively few in comparison with the huge amount of traffic.

Oak Ridges W. I. Held Successful Lawn Social

Happy Evening Spent at "Craigmore" the beautiful home of Mrs. and Mrs. J. H. C. Durham, Bond Lake.

"Craigmore," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John H. C. Durham, adjoining Bond Lake Park on Yonge Street, was a picture of loveliness both before and after the electric lights were switched on, on Tuesday evening, July 26th when around five hundred people gathered together at the lawn social, held under the auspices of the Oak Ridges Branch of the Women's Institute. The balminess of the evening made strolling about the spacious lawn and gardens a delight before the entertainment commenced. Many lingered at Loch Bheag watching the playing of the schools of large gold fish, which at this hour in the evening come from their hiding place beneath the beautiful white water lilies, seemingly knowing that their enemy, the king fisher has retired for the night.

The chairman, Mr. Morgan Baker, Reeve of Whitechurch, in his opening address, said, "We hear a very great deal about those who win in contests on the land, in the water and in the air but practically nothing is being told about the good that is being quietly done by the Women's Institutes throughout the land in educational, social and charitable lines. These women do not confine their work to their own neighborhood, they branch out and give a helping hand wherever it is most needed in the towns, cities and in the sparsely North Country."

The rich voice of Miss Ruth Oram of Temperanceville in song was very much appreciated; the well rendered recitations of Miss Ruth Hamilton of Newmarket, were applauded and the violin and piano numbers given by Miss Margaret and Master Gordon Gordon Davidson, of Toronto, show that in the coming generation, there is wonderful talent.

Dr. C. R. Boulding of Aurora, as usual, delighted the audience with his splendid voice, accompanied by Mr. Wilfred Oram at the piano.

The Thornhill orchestra under the leadership of Miss Aileen Atkinson of Richmond Hill, was most generous in alternating the numbers on the programme with their splendid music and again at the conclusion of same which the young folk danced on the green.

Thus apart from the replenishing of the Institute treasury, a very happy evening ended.
