HEAVY TRAFFIC ON NORTH YONGE STREET

Traffic was exceptionally heavy on North Yonge Street on Sunday last and it is estimated that it was the worst of the present season. It was orderly however and no serious accidents were reported although there were many complaints made about glaring headlights.

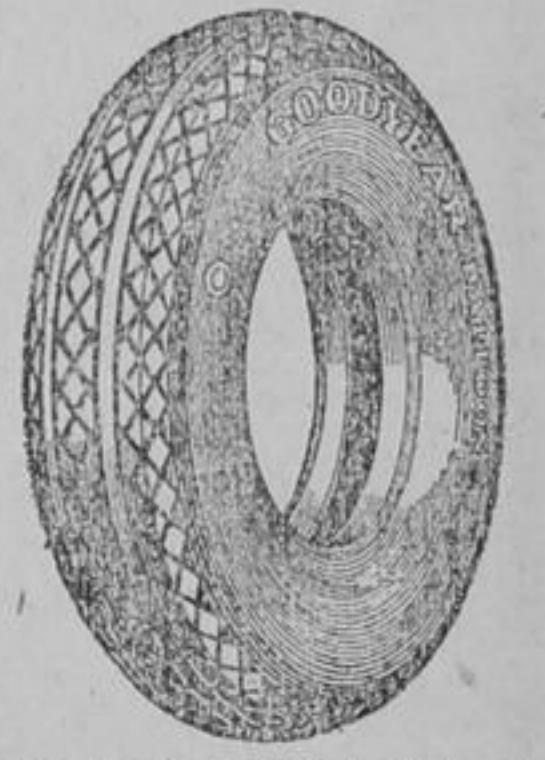

Fender to fender almost the cars came, with their lights making Yonge street brilliant as any part of the down town section on Saturday night, and despite the jamb there were comparatively few mishaps outside the occasional punctures and fender bumping.

At the city limits, where the T.T.C. has laid some new track preparatory to widening the gauge on north Yonge street, the traffic was considerably slackened down, which caused a general hold-up all along the line.

Traffic Officers Montgomery and McKay were busy along the line checking up on those "cutting in" and they had their hands full for the entire night, as many of the motorists appeared exceedingly impatient.

Teacher—"Now, boys, can any of you tell me something about Good Friday?" Tommy—"Yes, ma'am. He was the feller that done the housework for Robinson Crusoe."
