Thieves Again Busy During their absence from home last Friday, a bold thief visited the premises of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Hopper, and removed an auto tire from the garage, as well as a quantity of this year's hoopy crop. Can You Beat This?

Reeve Lunau visited our sanctum this morning and laid on the desk a fine specimen of an apple. From its fresh appearance we surmised that he had fresh picked it from his orchard and was coming to us laden with gifts—but we did wonder why he didn't bring a basket. To our surprise however he informed us that the apple which is of the Ontario variety is one of the 1926 crop of Francy Bros., Gormley, lot 25, concession 4, Markham. For a limited time—until we yield to the temptation of eating it—this well preserved apple may be seen at the Liberal Office but for the recipe for growing and keeping apples like this from one season to another you'll have to interview Francy Bros.

Eye Strain

Home school work means night work for the average student, because early evening hours usually are taken up with any number of other duties.

Therefore, parents should make sure their child is not subjecting eyes to severe strain or overtaxing which in later years will collect a heavy toll. Great care should be taken by all parents to prevent injury to eyes of their children during school months.

It isn't just enough to think your child's eyes are all right. You should KNOW. The way to know is to have eyes examined by someone qualified to tell you the truth. We have always specialized on children's eye examination. And we never recommend glasses unless it be for health's sake.

Bring your child in this week.

Jerry is a tailor who takes his vacations whenever the spirit moves him regardless of their effect upon his business. Being told by a friend that he should have some excuse to give to customers when he locks up his shop, he had this sign made which he now places on the front door when he is absent: "This shop closed. I am sick, out of town, attending a funeral, gone to a convention, fishing."

The night was ideal there being scarcely any wind and a full moon which peeked through the clouds as the light of the fire began to wane.
