BUTTONVILLE

Work on the Hydro has commenced in the vicinity. Several houses have been wired and the poles are being put in.

Mr. Bert Nicholls and Mr. Douglas Brown had such a close shave on Friday evening that they did not need one for Sunday.

An innovation in the mode of auction sales was put to the test last Wednesday when the late Miss Galloway's household effects were sold privately by Mr. and Mrs. Galloway of Kitchener.

The programme of the Y.P.S. on Sunday evening consisted of a mock trial of John Barley Corn. He was found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment and to death as soon as possible.

WILLOWDALE

A request was received from S.S. No. 34, Fairbank, at the regular meeting of the North York Township Board of Health Monday evening, asking that the Township nurse, Miss MacDonald, and the M.O.H. Dr. Hill be given permission to make calls to the school for general health purposes, as fifty per cent. of the pupils that attend are residents of the Township. A resolution will be submitted to the York Township Council for their approval of the scheme.

Dr. Hill, in his annual report, reported the water and milk supply to be in good condition. He declared that 168 homes had been quarantined, and 17 schools inspected. The cost of public health administration in the municipality this year amounted to $3,136.25 and a total school attendance of 1,685 was reported.

First Case of Small Pox Reported

The first case of smallpox was reported Saturday in North York Township to Dr. C. E. Hill, Medical Officer of Health. The victim is a twenty-year-old boy, and Dr. Berry, of was also summoned, and is in charge of the case. His condition is reported as being favorable.

Dr. Hill local M.O.H. said that every possible step to prevent the spread of the disease is being taken, and the local Board of Health urges that every one in the township be vaccinated.

Up to the present the origin of the one case cannot be traced.

Your Car Brakes Must Be Right

Inspection of auto brakes is being carried on by Toronto police on the city's streets every day.

A motorist may be stopped by an officer at any moment and the braking equipment of his car will be tested. As a result of this police activity many car drivers have already appeared in the Traffic Court, and there a fine forcibly reminded them that their brakes were not in order and that the operation of a car in such a condition was a menace to the public. Daily "Checking UP"

Four policemen are engaged daily in this "checking up." Each is armed with a small instrument which records with just what efficiency brakes are working. Each man stops cars at random. He attaches the instrument, the driver is ordered to set the car in order and the test is made. The emergency brake is also examined.

If the brakes are not working properly the motorist, whose name and number are taken, is ordered to get them fixed and report back to the police. If no report is made or if the case is a particularly serious one, he is summoned to court.

As well as making this brake inspection the police may also look over the steering equipment and the lighting system for defects. Many Inefficient.

According to the tests made so far, a large majority of motorists drive with brakes which are not working as efficiently as the law requires.

MEASURES OF STABLE SANITATION

Practically all herds are now stabled at night, and very shortly the cows will be inside day and night, and the winter round of chores will start in earnest. This applies to all but a very small part of our wide Dominion. There are a few precautions, often neglected, that will aid in keeping the cows clean and the milk free from sediment. Perhaps the most important of these is to have the platform on which the cows stand of just the right length to fit the cow. Most stables are made with the platform longer at one end of the stable than at the other. It is then just a matter of selecting the longest cows for the longest platforms and vice versa. Where the platforms are the same length it is sometimes possible to make a cow stand back by setting back the front of her manger or the stanchion. Some patent stanchions on the market are so made that the cow can be made to stand just where she is wanted. Clippers are a valuable asset in every stable where a man takes a pride in the appearance of his cows. If at this season the hair is clipped from the flanks and long hairs from the udder, it will reduce by at least 75 per cent the labor of keeping manure from accumulating on the animals. The writer knows of several instances where neighbors have co-operated in the purchase of a clipping machine. The breeder who has buyers visiting his stable should consider the clippers an indispensable part of his equipment. Shallow gutters are a nuisance. We prefer a gutter that is at least 16 inches wide, nine deep next the cow, and five next the passage. This allows room for the manure to accumulate without becoming a nuisance a couple of hours after the stables have been cleared. Changing the dimensions of gutter is not a great chore and will always be labor saver.

Woodbridge

Anniversary services in Knox Presbyterian Church on Sunday last morning and evening filled the sacred edifice to the doors on both occasions. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Lee, of Wychwood Presbyterian church, and the musical exercises were in charge of Knox Presbyterian Church, a sister church some four miles out in the country, assisted by Angus MacLeod, of Bonar Presbyterian Church, Toronto. On Tuesday in the local church the Norval Dramatic Club staged a play, "Safety First," under the auspices of the choir. Rev. Mr. Davies is the minister in charge. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers.
