The Softball Classic

The Newtonbrook Junior Softball team played its first game on Monday evening, May 21st., at Roselawn Park, meeting and defeating the Aura Lee team by seven to five. It was a close and exciting game, as the score indicates. It was "pitcher's battle"; for the fielding of the teams was about equal and the chief difference was in the pitchers. Mossy Jack scored the first run of the season and Charles Proctor is credited with the first hit. Teddy Bennett struck out eleven men. The following is the Newtonbrook line-up: M. Jack, 3b.; E. Young, 1b.; C. Walker l.f.; C. Blakeman, s.s.; Clem Proctor, 2b.; T. Bennett, p.; Chas. Proctor, c.; A. Dowding, r.f.; G. Jack, c.f..

An Empire Day Sermon

After the singing of patriotic hymns, Rev. E. R. Young delivered an Empire Day sermon in the Newtonbrook United Church last Sunday evening, from the words addressed in a vision to Daniel; "Be strong, yea, be strong." It has been said that it is long since the world decided its battles by mere muscle and that mind ruled to-day. Mr. Young said that it was true that this was an age of many inventions, especially was this true of war; it was a contest of machines; machine guns, tanks, airplanes and submarines. But these very things demanded the highest types of physical, as well as mental manhood to manage them. There never was a time when there was a greater demand for steady nerves, clear vision and stout hearts as than there is to day. The coming rulers of the world will be a people strong in body, strong in brain power and strong in soul. Daniel was a good example of a man who was true to the best ideals he had received of his fathers. He was loyal to their highest principles and so, even in a foreign land, he was conspicuously honored. Our young people should be fully aware of the great principles and institutions that have helped our fathers to build this great Empire: the Sabbath, kept for high thought and holy meditation as well as recreation and rest of the body; the Bible which many English statesmen like Premier Baldwin emphasize as the inspiration of the nation's best thought and noblest endeavors. Church attendance and personal discipline were also emphasized as contributing to the building of our national character.

To-day, under the inspiration of such noble-minded people as Nurse Cavell, we are saying that patriotism is not enough. Humanity is looking for service that is world-wide. The Red Cross Society is honoring this month great servants of humanity: Nurse Florence Nightingale and Dr. Henri Dunant. The latter is the founder of our modern Red Cross with its great service to our wounded soldiers and Dr. Dunant found his chief inspiration in the heroic and noble work of Florence Nightingale during the Crimean War. The noble workers in the Red Cross Society have been sufferers in the world others than soldiers and they are planning to minister to them. There are many things yet that are calling for noble-minded, heroic young people and those who are true to the great ideals of the past are most likely to serve and bless the world in the future. If the British Empire is to continue to serve the world it will only be because she continues to bring the best of ideals and offers the best of service to mankind. Hence the call to our young people to be alert and to be wise but also to be truly strong in both body and soul.

When Bruin Makes Friends

Visitors to Jasper National Park, which is Canada's largest and finest national playground, situated in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, have a splendid opportunity of studying the habits of wild animals. For Jasper National Park is a game sanctuary in the finest sense of the word, and guns and hunting dogs are forbidden within its boundaries. It is of interest to observe the manner in which the animals recognize this. (Though it is only comparatively few years since this great sanctuary was set aside, the shy deer and mountain sheep are no longer shy, the black and brown bears have become daily visitors to village and to hotel grounds, and the animal population of the park is increasing by leaps and bounds. However, it is Bruin who demonstrates perhaps most forcibly, how the animals have come to regard man as their friend instead of as their enemy. Now it is a daily event to have one or more bears visit the Lodge grounds in search of the titbits which they know tourists love to feed to them. Nor is it unusual for a golfer playing over the magnificent scenic course which has been laid out in the Athabasca Valley, to meet a bear at the turn of the fairway, or to find a shy deer viewing him with interest as he gets down to line up his putt on one or another of the greens. A short time ago, it was estimated that the mountain sheep population of this 5,300 square mile national park was over 10,000, with an equal number of deer, while the bears are numbered in thousands and are seen at almost any turn of the road. And when once a bear cub has developed a taste for sugar, he is a confirmed visitor to the Lodge grounds—Canadian National Railways photograph.)
