CARE OF THE CHICKS ON RANGE

The simpler the methods of feeding and caring for the chicks that can be adopted the better.

Feeding tests at the Central Experimental Farm have shown equally as good results from hopper feeding as when the chicks were fed at regular intervals, five or six times a day. When the nursery period is past and the chicks are old enough to go without heat they should be given roosts and as soon as they become used to them should be put out on range.

For range a light sandy soil is best. If a field of alfalfa is available on the one hand and a corn field on the other the conditions are ideal.

Do not overcrowd; use airy, well ventilated houses, a mere shelter—a roof with walls covered with wire netting we have found excellent.

Shift the houses and feed hoppers frequently so that the ground where the chicks spend most of their time does not become contaminated.

Keep a supply of pure water, hoppers of growing mash, crimped oats, grit and oyster shell before the flock at all times. Give a full feed of grain in the evening; this is fed either by hand or kept in hoppers which can be opened for a while in the evening and closed through the day.

Chickens kept as described will be reared under ideal conditions with the minimum amount of labour.

Scientifically Designed Balloon Tire Tread

The Firestone tread was not designed with large, massive projections for appearance or to make plausible sales argument. On the contrary, the projections of the cross-and-square tread are small and the rider strips narrow, permitting the tread to yield to irregularities and cling to the road, giving the greatest non-skid surface.

By means of the exclusive Firestone Gum-Dipping process every fibre of every cord is saturated and insulated with rubber, to withstand the extra flexing of the Firestone tread.

If you want the economy, comfort and safety of Gum-Dipped Tires—see the nearest Firestone Dealer.
