Dear Reader: —

We're on a bit of a spot and you alone could help us, if you would, to get off of it.

You'll recall that on a couple of occasions during the past three months we have advised you that your subscription fell due on

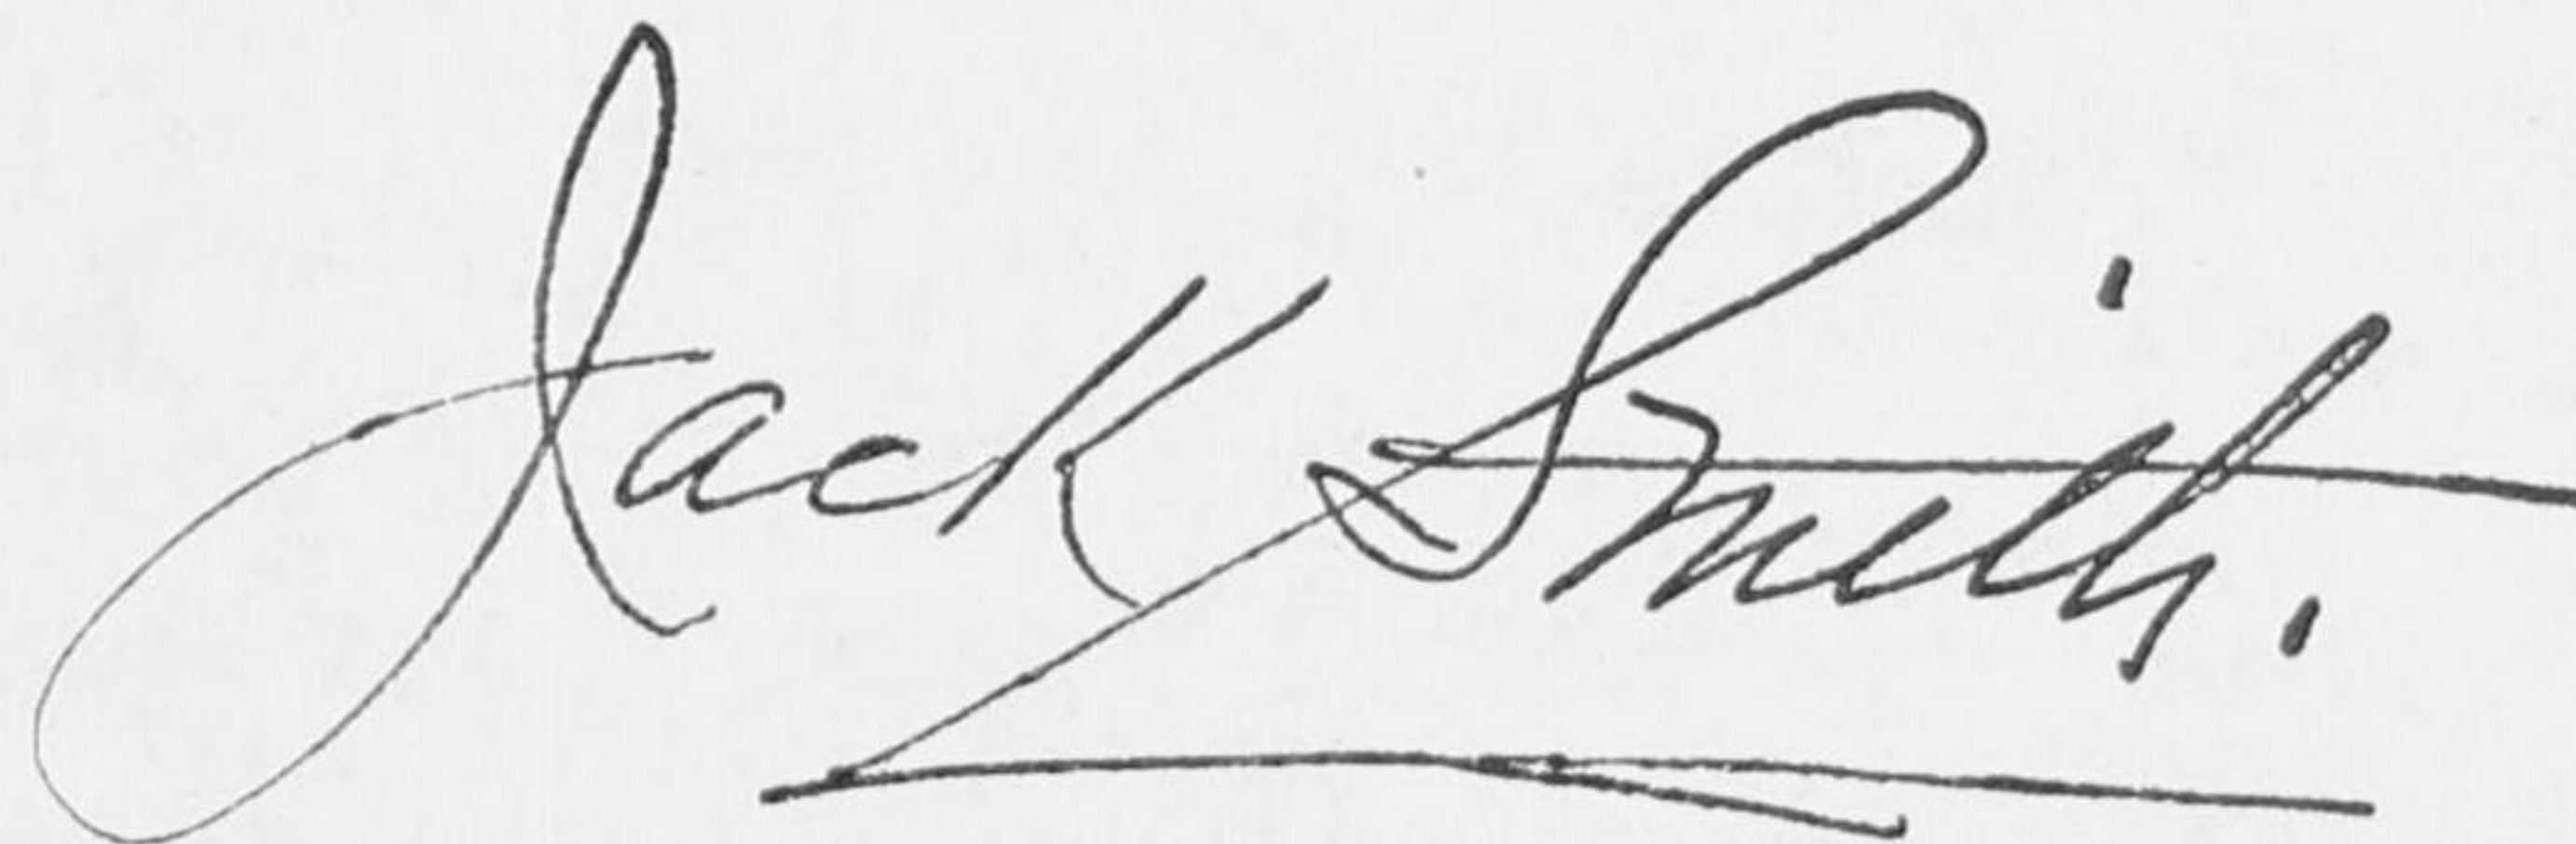

Now, no newspaper likes to remove a good friend's name from its mailing list. But we're up against it in this way.

The regular audit which certifies to our advertisers that we are distributing as many copies as we claim to readers draws a hard and fast line when a subscription is three months in arrears.

So, as mentioned, you can see that we are up against it in so far as a claim for your subscription goes. Will you help, please, to clean up the situation by letting us have your renewal? We'll be grateful — and you will continue to receive your copy of The Liberal regularly.

Might we ask that you let us have this by at the latest, so that we can continue to carry your name on our mailing list after that date.

Yours sincerely,

Publisher
The Liberal
