

Nothing unusual about this of course!

"Oh, hello Jack! When did you come to town?"

Burns had recognized the cheery voice of an old friend over the telephone.

But Jack was speaking from his home one hundred miles away. He had given "Long Distance" the distant telephone number, and she had connected him at once, while he held the line.

Nothing extraordinary about this. Quick Long Distance service is now practically universal. In most cases, connection is made while you remain at the telephone.

Giving the distant telephone number speeds up the service. We shall gladly look up for you the distant numbers you frequently call.

Prize Winners At North York Horticultural Society Annual Show.

Social and Personal

Mrs. J.G. Cornell, of Detroit, with Mrs. Adams and their children, are visiting Miss Edna Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, and family, of Northmount, motored to Cobourg for the week-end.

Mr. Clem Proctor has returned from spending a holiday in Picton.

Miss Mary Hudgins, of Picton, is visiting her uncle, Mr. R.M. Proctor, Talbot Avenue.

Mrs. Sutterby, Miss Gladys, and Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Bolton have gone to Greenhurst, Sturgeon Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Stephenson, and children, have returned from an extended motor camping trip around Western Ontario, visiting Port Dover, St. Thomas, Leamington and Jack Miner's Bird Paradise at Kingsville.

They motored through the great tract of pines called "The Pinery" to Godefrich, then homeward via Owen Sound, Meaford and Wasaga Beach. Mr. Stephenson is enthusiastic in his accounts of the fertility of Western Ontario and the wonderful and varied beauty of her scenery; for farms and gardens, lakes and rivers and tourist camp attractions, the people of Ontario, he thinks, have every reason to be proud of their Province.

A number of Newtonbrook and Thornhill young people, chaperoned by Mrs. Joseph Soden and Mrs. E.R. Young, motored to Wasaga Beach for Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Graham, of Johnson Ave., spent the week-end in Bradford.

Mr. William Linton, of Galt, spent Sunday with his niece, Mrs. A.R. Cade; as also did her nieces, Miss Florence and Miss Aldene Cole.

Mr. J.R. Smith and his sons, William and Harold, motored to Lake Simcoe, where they spent the week-end. The people of this locality are very proud of the showing of the North York Horticultural Society at the C. N.E., for they won first prize for their floral exhibition amidst keen competition with the other Horticultural Societies of Ontario. We extend our congratulations. There is nothing that succeeds like success; so now is the time to join this Society and make it a bigger and better success next year. Mr. W. T. Wells, Newtonbrook, is the Secretary; and he will be glad to receive the names of prospective members.

This same Society had their local exhibition in the Township Hall on Saturday last. A complete list of prize winners will appear elsewhere. One of the most interesting features of the evening gathering was the presentation of two silver cups to junior champions. These cups were given by Mr. John Wanless and the presentation was made to the prize-winners by the President of the Society, Mr. A.W. Galbraith. Master Godfrey Elmer won the most points for his floral display. Saturday was his eighth birthday, his father explained, when the prize was presented and he said the little boy had both worked hard and prayed for success. The second cup was won by Miss Jessie Wheeler, of Ellerslie Avenue.

We are also pleased to note that Mr. W.E. Mackay, of Steel's Corners, has won first prize at Toronto Exhibition with his Delphiniums. North York Township is surely the place to grow flowers, and prize-winners, too.

"We older people, who have no nerve to drive an automobile and who stand agasp at the performances of men in airplanes," said Rev. E. R. Young, in his sermon last Sunday morning, in the United Church, can withhold our opposition to them & drive away our doubts as to their place in human life. A visit to the new Electricity and Aircraft buildings at the Exhibition show that the new generation is determined to fly. We may shudder at the price being paid for the conquest of the air both in beautiful and costly aircraft and more costly lives; but the die has been cast. The air is to be mastered as has the land and sea. The eyes of our young people, our young men and our boys, and our girls, too, are upon the sky and their motto is, "You fly or die."

Mr. Young pled earnestly for a better understanding between the Church and Labor. Both were working for similar ends. They realized the value of Service, the supreme sacredness of human life, the reality of brotherhood. It was the Church and particularly Jesus Christ, who taught men the full idea of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of all men. There was great necessity to-day for all lovers of their fellowmen, who are contending for social order, peace and happiness, to work together. Sunshine and hope are here and there but there are dark clouds in the sky and they press heavily upon large sections of our people. Many of our great men are striving mightily to outlaw war and well they may. It surely is not so long since we saw in Canada our fine men come streaming home ghastly white and others green, gasping and struggling for breath, as we hastened them to Muskoka to give them every chance to live. We had a taste of "gas-warfare" in the last war but we are told that the next will be a real fight with gas and that will not mean soldier against soldier, or sailor against sailor, but our homes and little ones will be attacked. Mr. Lloyd George, who sees the world pretty much as it is, says "The dove and the hawk are chasing one another around the globe to-day but eventually the hawk will get the dove." It is a sad verdict upon our intelligence, faith and endeavours. So both organized Labor and the Organized Church and every other well-wisher of his fellowmen, should stand shoulder to shoulder and toil earnestly, sympathetically, intelligently and in a most loving brotherly way, for the extension of Christ's spirit of love, service and good will. Therein lies the ideal of living conditions; yes, as we see it, therein lies the only hope of living at all.

At the morning service in the Newtonbrook United Church, Miss Irene Smith sang a solo very effectively. Next Sunday morning, Rev. E. R. Young will preach a "Why Go to School" sermon; his subject being "Wisdom versus Folly, or what the Flower said to the weed." In the evening his subject will be: "In a Falling Airplane; or do men, to-day, Pray?" All are welcome, especially strangers and new-comers to the community.

Late Norma Mabelle Cox Myers We are sorry to have to report the passing of Mrs. Norma Mabelle Myers the wife of Mr. Walter Myers, of the 4th Concession, North York. Mrs. Myers was a young woman, though she had suffered for sometime, her death was a shock to the community, where she is both well known and most sincerely beloved. Mrs. Myers died on Saturday, September 1st, and was buried in Thornhill Cemetery on Tuesday following. The funeral service at the house on Tuesday afternoon was very largely attended and there were many and very beautiful floral tributes. Very sincere was the kindly sympathy extended to the young husband, the little motherless boy, Donald, and to the loving mother Mrs. C.A. Cox, of Toronto. Mrs. Myers was the daughter of the late William Cox and was born in the Township of Markham. Beside her husband, little son and mother, Mrs. Myers is survived by two sisters, Miss Stella Cox and Miss Gladys Cox, and two brothers, Mr. Harold Cox, of Toronto and Mr. E.S. Cox, of Willowdale. Mr. Robert Cox, of Lansing is her uncle. The pall-bearers, all personal friends and school chums of the deceased were;—Messrs, Edgar Wilson, Gladstone Wilson, Roy Fierheller, Harry Fierheller, David Howard and William Calhoun.

The Rev. Godfrey S. Scovell, of Agincourt, had charge of the funeral service and paid a beautiful tribute to the life and Christian character of the deceased. He was assisted by Rev. E. R. Young of Newtonbrook.
