MUNICIPAL BUILDING PROPOSAL A PROBABLE ELECTION ISSUE

After Meeting In Special Session to Deal With Agreement Council Defers Action.

The matter of taking over the old high school for a municipal building was definitely laid on the shelf until the New Year, at a special meeting of the Richmond Hill council on Wednesday night. At the regular meeting last Friday evening, the subject was introduced and the majority favored dealing with it this year and agreed to call a special meeting on Wednesday to take some action. Reeve Lunau favored leaving any action over until after the election. He said that he did not like to sign any such agreement in the dying hours of the council. Councillor David Hill said he did not believe in procrastination and he wanted a poll of the council.

Councillor McLean said he had not been able to go very carefully into the agreement and he would favor holding a special meeting to deal with it. Councillor Chapman said he thought the council should deal with it one way or another and moved that a special meeting be called which the solicitor would be asked to attend.

Reeve Lunau advanced the argument that there was not a full council at the present time to deal with such an important problem. Councillor Hill said that as a council they had been elected to transact the public business. "If this council hasn't got brains enough to deal with business as it comes before it, then it should be shifted," he said. Friday's meeting adjourned with the agreement to meet in special session on Wednesday evening to deal with this matter.

At the meeting last night Reeve Lunau, councillors McLean and Chapman were present and any action on the proposed agreement was laid over for the 1929 council. Councillor Hill was absent due to illness. The general impression this morning is that the council's action will have an important bearing on the coming municipal elections when the proposed agreement is very likely to become a very definite issue. The agreement was drawn up by the instructions of the council and was afterwards altered to coincide with their wishes. No member of the council has ever opposed the agreement in council and all have spoken very decidedly in favor of the proposition. There is every reason to believe that they are still of the same opinion as the only reason advanced for leaving it over until next year was that it was so near the end of the year. It is rumored that those in opposition to the agreement will take the "hustlings" in opposition to the present council who have fathered the agreement and that a real live campaign may be the result.

Election Prospects Are Still In Doubt

The municipal pot which according to all the laws of averages should be starting to "boil" about now, has not even started to simmer. Nomination day is on December 31st and on Saturday next the statutory meetings of all municipal councils will be held.

In Richmond Hill Reeve Lunau is completing his third term as chief magistrate. Whether he has tired of the glamour of office and the responsibility of the position or whether he is still fired with a desire to serve the community and willing to continue as reeve if the electorate is agreeable is not known. So far he has not committed himself nor given any hint as to his intentions. However he has never intimated that he will retire and it is pretty well taken for granted that he will be a candidate for 1929. Councillor McLean has been in municipal life for a number of years but if he harbors a desire to fill the reeve's chair in the coming year he has not yet declared his intentions. Indeed he has not even said whether he will be a candidate for council. Councillor David Hill returned to the municipal arena last January and it was the talk at that time that he would probably be a candidate for reeve in 1929, and thus round off his municipal career which includes many years of service with a term as chief magistrate. Councillor Hill has not made any intimation of his intentions or aspirations but it would create no surprise if he should accept a nomination for the reeve'ship. Councillor Albert Chapman is serving his first year in the council, having been elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. R. Herrington, and he will probably be a candidate for re-election. There has been a vacancy on the council for some time due to the resignation of Gordon H. Sloan.

Outside of the 1928 council there are rumors of many aspirants. For the reeve'ship ex-councillor Greene who was an unsuccessful candidate by a narrow margin two years ago is prominently mentioned. He has made no statement of his intentions to date but as he withdrew last year only because there was no election for the other offices and he did not desire to cause an election it is probable that if there is a contest anywhere this year that his name will be on the ballot somewhere.

Several names are consistently mentioned as probable entries for the council seats. Probably most prominent among these is W. H. Murphy at present a member of the school board and president of the Board of Trade who is being urged to offer himself for election. Ex-councillor Robert Endean is being urged to return to the municipal arena and Henry Davis is mentioned as a probable candidate.

There has been a lot heard about a Board of Trade "slate" for the coming election but although municipal matters have been discussed at meetings of the organization no intimation of such action has been received, and as the next meeting is not until the second Monday in January is not likely that any such course will be adopted. The Board will however take an active interest in endeavouring to create interest in the coming municipal nomination and will strive to have as large attendance of ratepayers as possible at the meeting to hear local matters discussed.
