GENERAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Next week is Fair Week.
We regret that a number of people who are not regular subscribers were disappointed in not being able to secure a copy of The Liberal last week. The way to make sure of getting your copy every week is to become a regular subscriber for $1.50 per year.

Contributors to our news columns and advertisers are asked to co-operate to the extent of sending in all items for publication as early in the week as possible. We make every effort to print all the news and to do our utmost to convenience our advertisers but in order that we may give the best possible service to both it is imperative that items be handed in early in the week. Please remember this and help us and also avoid disappointment, when some news submitted too late does not appear.

Newmarket citizens are planning to hold a demonstration on Dominion Day, July 1st.

The beauty parlor operators say more and more "dainty" men are patronizing beauty parlors for "facials," marcel and other treatments. Well, why not? Did not the woman invade the barber shops for hair cuts? "What's sauce for the gander is also sauce for the goose," to use a time worn expression backwards.

When Toronto was a village with but one brick house, an ancestor of President Herbert Hoover settled on Yonge Street and helped to found the Quaker settlement which still exists near Newmarket.

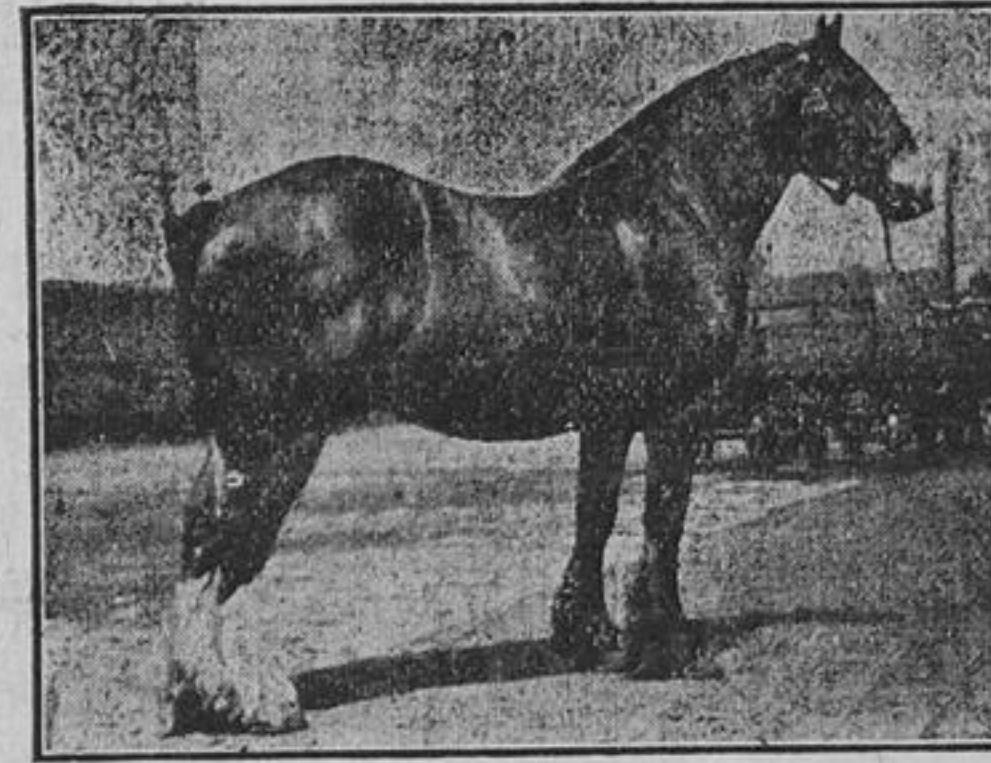

The chicken thieving epidemic which was rampant throughout York County last year threatens to break out again. Although the season is still young some bad thefts have been reported, and are indignant at the manner in which these despicable raids are carried out and there is a persistent demand that the penalty for the offence include the lashes. During the past week thieves visited the pens on the farm of Robert Hope, living north of Stouffville, and made a successful get-away with 125 birds, while Joseph Alsop, over on the Uxbridge-Pickering townline, suffered a similar loss when over 200 birds were stolen. Within a month more than 500 birds have been stolen in this manner, for thieves visited the section of Whitchurch, adjoining Stouffville, and made two successful hauls in April. In one of the April raids the farmer's dog was very sick the next day, indicating that the animal had been doped in some manner. A similar thing happened when Alsop's farm was visited for he owns a valuable police dog, and cannot explain how the thieves got onto the farm without the dog giving the alarm.

The funeral of Thos. Cairns, of Lasky, took place on Friday, May 10th. The attendance was one of the largest in the history of the community. Mr. Cairns was in his 92nd year. He was born on the farm on which he died. His parents came from Scotland about 1835, and were among the first settlers in the Lasky district. His wife predeceased him many years ago, and he is survived by two sons and five daughters.

Big men and big industries are looking to the smaller towns as they have never looked before. In a recent issue of the American Magazine, Henry Ford said: "Is it sufficient for business to pay high land prices and high taxes in congested cities where its workers must pay exorbitant rents? By moving out business could get lower land prices, lower taxes and lower rents—and far better living conditions for its people."
