

No rest for the wicked—She, "The world is full of rascals. This morning the milkman gave me a counterfeit half dollar."
 He—"Where is it, my dear?"
 "Oh, I've already got rid of it—luckily the butcher took it."—Detroit News.

"The World's Mine Oyster," Said Falstaff

Why, then the world's mine oyster, which I with sword will open," said a famous character of Shakespeare, but the modern version relates to going around the world in a big and comfortable steamship with no sword to open the oyster. These are days of peace and world travelers now planning their tours will be interested to know that one globe-girdling liner will call at ports hitherto omitted from her itinerary—ports rarely touched by cruising steamers. The "Empress of Australia," a 21,850 gross ton vessel, long a favorite with globe trotters, will sail from New York December 1, 1929, on the seventh annual Canadian Pacific World

Cruise. Besides making her regular visits to the highlights of the Mediterranean, to India, Japan, China, Hawaii and other fascinating places, her itinerary this time has been extended to include Athens in Greece, Paknam and Bangkok in Siam, with further calls at Keelung for Taikoku, in Formosa. She will be gone 137 days, visiting 81 ports and places in 24 countries.

Athens is really three towns in one—the twisted lanes of the Athens that was little more than a Turkish village before the Greek War of Independence, the broad straight streets of the modern capital and the interesting ruins clustering round the Acropolis representing "the Glory that was Greece." The Parthenon, one of the most interesting ruins here, was chief among the buildings with which Pericles adorned the Acropolis about 500 B.C.

Bangkok, the capital of Siam, was originally built on floating pontoons or piles on the river's edge, but nowadays well-planned roads and streets radiate from the city in all directions, beautiful Buddhist temples are scattered all over the town, and the Royal Palace is one of the show places of Bangkok.

Keelung, the chief port of the Island of Formosa, is a hive of industry. Formosa is half the size of Ireland and is governed by the Japanese. In its northern fastnesses, still largely unexplored, lived the headhunters. The Japanese campaign of subjugation, however, has all but wiped out these barbarous people. The seat of government at Formosa is Taihoku. Here fleets of junks, manned by coolies, transport the visitors around the town, one of the chief attractions of which is the Governor-General's garden, where the world's most beautiful tropical plants bloom in exotic profusion.
