County Loses Radial Case But Appeal Again Delays The Start of Local Car Service

Local Municipalities Ready To Start Service As Soon As County Clears Way of Legal Obstacles

RADIAL ABANDONMENT AND DELAY HAS BEEN COSTLY TO NORTH YONGE STREET
DISTRICT

Municipal representatives of Richmond Hill, Vaughan, Markham and North York conferred with Toronto Transportation officials on Monday relative to the operation of the car service as far as Richmond Hill. The decision having been given in the court case brought on by the County it was thought the road was all clear for the purchase and operation of the line. An agreement with the T.T.C. for the operation of the line has been drawn up and is all ready to sign as soon as the way is cleared of legal entanglements.

On Friday last Mr. Justice McEvoy handed down his judgment in the case which was against the County and in favor of the City. The judgment stated that the County had no right to compel further operation of the line by the city. It was thought the decision which had been long and anxiously awaited would settle the matter and clear the way for the too long postponed operation of the cars from the city to Richmond Hill. However it is understood that an appeal has been entered on behalf of the County by the Transportation committee. An appeal likely would mean months more delay, but when County Council meets in regular session on Tuesday next all the members will have an opportunity of determining whether or not the appeal shall stand.

If the appeal is withdrawn by a vote of the County Council the cars should be running on Yonge Street to Richmond Hill before Dominion Day.

That an appeal was entered in the case this week came as a great surprise throughout the North Yonge Street district and residents interviewed expressed themselves in no uncertain terms of disapproval. "The delay has already been costly" is the general consensus of opinion in this district.

According to press reports there is little hope for the County in the judgment handed down by Mr. Justice McEvoy and yet an appeal has been entered. The expense which the taxpayers of the County will be asked to bear relative to Metropolitan negotiations have already reached into thousands of dollars. The cost of the County Transportation Committee in whose hands the Metropolitan Radial question has rested for well over a year must amount to a tidy sum. The cost of legal advisors in addition to the regular County solicitor, the court action, the special engineer engaged have all cost the taxpayers of York County plenty. But the greatest loss of all is the loss which THE NORTH YONGE STREET DISTRICT HAS SUFFERED DUE TO THE UNCERTAINTY OF THE TRANSPORTATION QUESTION AND THE ABANDONMENT OF THE CAR SERVICE THIS SPRING. Real estate has been at a standstill. The district has failed to enjoy the growth and development which should naturally have taken place. Prospective newcomers who would have bought lots and erected homes or at least have rented an acreage and established a home and thus added to the general prosperity of the district have not come to North Yonge Street. MANY OF THESE ARE LOST FOREVER. The yearly annual exodus of city dwellers to the attractive suburban areas has taken place this year as in other years. NORTH YONGE STREET MINUS AN ADEQUATE TRANSPORTATION SERVICE HAS NOT HAD ITS SHARE OF NEW RESIDENTS. The County Council delay in handling the transportation problem is the reason.

Another costly feature of the delay and the METROPOLITAN ABANDONMENT is that the business of the line has been to a considerable extent driven away. The municipalities of North York, Markham, Vaughan and Richmond Hill must eventually pay for this delay in the decreased business which the line will enjoy when these municipalities first take it over.

North Yonge Street residents are hopeful that the delay will not longer be countenanced and that when the County Council meets next week the appeal will be withdrawn and the way cleared for the carrying out of the people's wishes as expressed at the poll by such an overwhelming majority in the vote on May third.

Rev. and Mrs. Halbert Honored By King City United Church

Presentation and Address Express Appreciation of Retiring Pastor and His Wife.

Mrs. Violet Gates and Mrs. H. Hamby were appointed delegates to attend the International S. S. Convention to be held in Toronto the last week in June.

Miss Verna Carson and Miss Hilda Patton are delegates from the Y.P.S. to attend the International Young People's Convention to be held in Toronto on June 27 and 29th.

There will be no service in King City United Church next Sunday evening owing to the union service at Laskay on Sunday morning.

A union communion service of Teston, King City and Laskay United Churches will be held at Laskay United Church next Sunday, June 15th at 10.30 a. m. Conveyances will be available for those not having cars. The members and adherents are requested to attend.

The Y.P.S. met last Tuesday evening with Miss Hilda Patton, Missionary vice-president in the chair. There was a large attendance and a very fine program given. The scripture lesson (po. 24) was read and explained by Rev. A. H. Halbert. Gordon Patton contributed a piano selection and Cyril Benson, Charlie Wicks, John C. Dew and H. Polliott sang a quartette. Miss Linton, of Aurora, gave a very interesting address on "Missions in South America" illustrated with lantern slides. During the evening, Rev. and Mrs. Halbert were presented with a beautiful mahogany floor lamp, also an electric library table lamp. The presentation was made by Mr. Cyril Benson and the address read by Miss Hilda Patton. Dear Mr. and Mrs. Halbert, —

We the members of the various organizations of King City United Church realize that you are soon to enter into a new field of labor. We felt that it would be amiss if we did not in some way express to you our appreciation of your faithful service and wise counsel in the problems connected with all the departments of the church.

We know we are to suffer a loss but we must resign ourselves to the fact that it is God's will that some other part of His great vineyard should gain by our loss. There were times when we have not been as faithful in our duties as we should have been, but for this short coming, we trust that you will forgive us, and now in order to express our appreciation of your cooperation and untiring zeal in God's work, we ask you to please accept these lamps, hoping they may light up your home as clearly as you have endeavored to light up the pathway of our lives. May God's richest blessing go with you and may you be as greatly successful in your labor of love in your new charge as you have been in your work with us. Signed on behalf of The Church, W. M. S., Y. P. S. and the Sabbath School. Mr. Halbert made a fitting reply and thanked the people very much for their kindness and also for their hearty co-operation during the five years he had been with them. Everything had been very congenial and he and Mrs. Halbert were leaving with the very kindest thoughts of the people on King circuit.
