

Here and There

(53*)
Taking turns while the engine was under a full head of steam, Engineer H. J. Storey and Fireman A. Fulkerson, dumped the fire and entered the fire box of the engine to make running repairs of grates displaced from the grate carrier on Canadian Pacific engine 570 at Hope, B.C., recently. They could stand the intense heat only a few minutes at a time, but they succeeded in their work and saved serious delay, bringing their train to destination within a few minutes of scheduled time. They were each awarded 10 merit marks, the railway's recognition of conspicuous merit.

Forty-three years ago May 24 last, the first transcontinental passenger train reached Vancouver over the Canadian Pacific Railway, leaving again next day. That was eleven months after the arrival of the first through passenger train at Port Moody, original terminus of the transcontinental line.

"Judging from present indications, there is every reason to believe that the tourist traffic from the United States and from other Canadian provinces to the Maritimes will reach record proportions this season," says George S. Beer, recently appointed district passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Saint John, N.B.

Three important appointments in the freight traffic department of the Canadian Pacific Railway have been announced by George Stephen, newly appointed vice-president in charge of traffic. They are:—C. E. Jefferson, assistant freight traffic manager, Winnipeg, to be freight traffic manager, Montreal; H. W. Gillis, assistant freight traffic manager, eastern lines, to go to western lines in the same capacity; and Gerald Ham, assistant general freight agent, Montreal, to be assistant freight traffic manager, eastern lines. The appointments were effective from June 1.

A ten day "all expense" tour of eastern Canada, covering 2300 miles, and including a visit to the Toronto Exhibition, world's greatest annual fair, will be conducted from the Maritimes by Professor H. L. Stewart, of Dalhousie University, next August. The tour which will take in most of the points and cities of interest in the territory will be over the lines of the Canadian Pacific, Dominion Atlantic and Quebec Central Railways and by Canada Steamships Line.

Six of the Canadian provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia, have taken advantage of the Farm Loan Act of Canada, a Dominion Government measure under which long term mortgage credit is extended to Canadian farmers. At the end of last March loans to the total amount of $4,851,000 had been approved.

Canada leads in the following:—Fur farming production; wheat and flour exports; world's wheat championships; railway mileage per capita; high grade wheat standards; world's per capita trade; newsprint production of the world; hydro power development per capita; life insurance per capita in the empire; world's largest inland port—Montreal; world's largest smelter of its kind—Trail, B.C.; and largest single-unit grain elevator in the world.

Fascinating Link In Canada's History

We have become so accustomed to a reliable and systematic mail service that even the slightest lapse is considered by most people almost a deadly insult. Very few of us stop to consider the numerous officials concerned or the tremendous detail necessary to this regular and efficient service. The post office, as a matter of history is an interesting and intriguing study.

At the Dominion Archives there is a document which is very illuminating and instructive. It is a way bill of the courier carrying mail from Halifax to Quebec in the winter of 1811. It is addressed to "the several couriers on the route" and reads: "You are hereby ordered to use the utmost diligence in your respective stages to convey in safety and in the greatest possible speed the mail herewith delivered to you. You are to show this way bill to the post masters on your route who are required to note the day of the month and the exact time of the day of your arrival at their offices respectively together with the time when the mail is given by them to set in motion with the name of the courier into whose charge it is given. And the courier will himself set down the time of his arrival at and his departure from any of the places named in this bill at which there is no postmaster. And wherever any unavoidable detention may have happened it must be noted in proper column and certified by next postmaster or by a magistrate or by some person residing where delay happened. And hereof you are not to fail. By order of the deputy postmaster general, John How Pitt."

In the space below columns are ruled off for the entering of the date, time station, distance from the last station, name of the postmaster and the courier in charge and also a wide column for remarks, explanation for the delays along the road which seem to have occurred right from the start. The first entry was made at six o'clock p. m. on December 23rd, 1811, dated at Halifax where John Howe was postmaster and D. Hamilton was the courier. Crambe Hill was reached early the next morning and from there he proceeded to Windsor, Horton, Rye Plain Aylesford, Smithfield, Wilmot, Annapolis, Digby, St. John, Long Reach, Crilmercross Island, Fredericton and Nikiwili. Opposite all these places were entries telling of stormy weather, bad roads and minor accidents and then, at the Indian village at the mouth of the Madawaska River, where the mail arrived at seven o'clock on the evening of December 25th, the courier, according to an explanation written in French, having awaited some considerable time for a guide who didn't show up, gave over the mail into the hands of two soldiers and a further note added two days later by one of them tells of engaging another guide. Whether or not the mail ever reached its destination, nearly two hundred miles further on, is unknown.

HOME GROWN STRAWBERRIES

The editor was pleasantly surprised this morning when Mr. John Espey of the second concession of Vaughan, laid a box of delicious home grown strawberries on the sanctum desk. The berries were a fine sample, large and well ripened. Mr. Espey has a large patch and looks forward to a good crop. "This is good weather for them" he said.

Eaton presiding, following the Devotional exercises and the business. The roll call was responded to by a verse of scripture containing the word "Patience." Mrs. A. G. Gormley favored the ladies with a solo entitled "Beside the still waters." Miss Thynne from Palmerston a guest of the hostess gave a very inspiring and impressive talk on prayer. Other interesting items on the program were, the Bible reading by Mrs. Eaton; the Study Book, with Miss M. Miller as convener, Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Wheatley giving the talks. The meeting closed with prayer, after which in honor of Miss Thynne, Mrs. Gibson served refreshments and a social hour was spent.

That our girls can play ball was evidenced by the splendid game at Thornhill last Friday night, with a score of 21-14 in favor of Unionville. We expect every citizen to become an enthusiastic baseball fan—and give the girls their support, thus assuming the winning of the series by Unionville. A Golf Course in the Clouds

Itself a mile above sea-level and ringed by mountains rising another mile into the air, the 18-hole golf course of the Banff Springs Hotel in the Canadian Rockies is probably unique among the world's outstanding links. Its hazards are unparalleled and as an example there is the drive from the first tee over the foaming waters of the Spray River, shown in above lay-out. The golf club house is a very picturesque building in architectural keeping with the baronial pile of the nearby hotel, a glimpse of which is shown against the background of mountains on the second green. The course which has just been completed, presented enormous difficulties in making, but these were all successfully overcome and grounds that are a perfect pendant to one of the most beautiful and luxurious hotels on the continent are now at the disposal of guests.
