Born north of Unionville, perhaps no one was better known in this vicinity, where he lived practically all his life. He had the distinction of being the oldest member of St. Phillip's Anglican Church and was always an interested member of the bowling club, where his genial disposition made him a favorite with many. Funeral services in charge of Rev. J. J. Robbins were held to St. Phillip's Anglican Church cemetery on Wednesday last. Three sons, Harvey, Scarboro; Charles of Toronto; Arthur, North West; and

Progress

Your North Yonge Railways system now provides modern, city type public transportation service that is safe, reliable, and economical.

Besides offering satisfactory service to those now resident in the North Yonge districts, your street railway will attract increased population and new industries to occupy land that has been vacant and unproductive. Land values thus created will contribute additional revenue to share the cost of improvements necessary to the progress of growing municipalities.

Transportation services can contribute to the devolpment of a community only in a measure proportionate to the extent that residents of the community contribute to the success of the services through support and goodwill.

Your system is operated on a service-at-cost basis for public service,-not for private profit. The present service is designed to meet the requirements of traffic now offered and the full value of every fare you pay is returned to you in safe, convenient and efficient service. The more fares your system collects, the more revenue is available for the maintenance and development of the services.

To merit your support and goodwill all associated with the system will endeavor to provide service worthy of your preference in safety, courtesy and efficiency.
