THE LITTLE POEM OF LIFE

I:— Thou:— We:— They:— Small words, but mighty, In their span. Are bound the life and hopes of man For, first, his thoughts of his own self are full, Until another comes his heart to rule For them, life's best is centered round their love; Till younger lives come all their love to prove.

—John Oxenham

CIDER

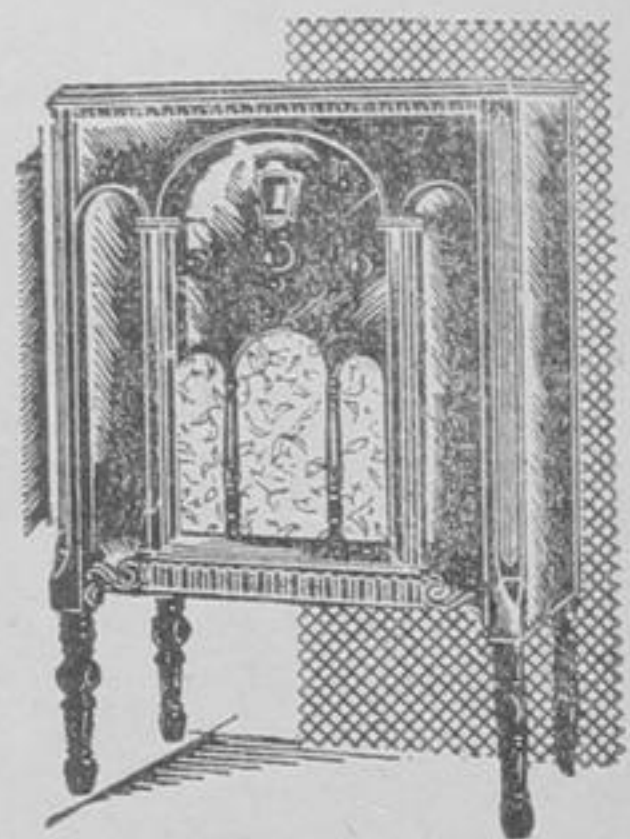

THE CARRVILLE CIDER MILL IS NOW OPERATING R. J. BOWES, Carrville — Ontario

J. E. Smith, Editor of The Liberal, returned on Saturday after attending the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at Halifax. Two hundred and fifty editors from all parts of Canada were in attendance, representatives being present from as far distant as the Yukon. The business sessions were interesting and instructive and dealt with the problems of the "fourth estate" as represented by the weekly newspapers of the Dominion. The convention visitors were royally entertained in the eastern city. A civic welcome by the Mayor was followed by an excursion to the Evangeline Country through the courtesy of the Atlantic Railway. An auto trip as guests of the Kentville Rotary Club to Blomidon and the Look-off was a revelation of the great beauty of the province down by the sea. A band concert in the famous Halifax Public Gardens featured Monday evening and on Tuesday afternoon a tour of the Harbour as guests of the Harbour Commission impressed on the delegates the great possibilities of the development of this Canadian Port by the more generous patronage of Canadian shipping. Wednesday at noon the Government of Nova Scotia tendered a complimentary banquet and at five o'clock the same day the Lieutenant Governor, Hon. J. C. Tory received the visiting press at a Garden Party at Government House. At the close of the convention Wednesday night the Canadian National Railways acted as host at the fine C.N.R. Hotel, the Nova Scotian, which was convention headquarters.

Late John E. Dukes

The death of Mr. John Emerson Dukes which occurred at his home here, Main Street on Wednesday, September 10th, removed another old time resident of this village. Born in Yorkshire, England in 1855, he came to Canada when 21 years of age and since that time has resided almost continuously here. In 1885 he married Emaline Rush, who survives him. Although a man of retiring disposition he made many friends, was a member of the Anglican Church and a staunch conservative. He is survived by the widow, and 8 children, six sons, George James, Victor, Hiram, Robert and Thomas, and two daughters, Mrs. W. Hawkins, and Mrs. Penstone. The funeral services were held at the home on Main Street on Friday afternoon. Rev. J. J. Robbins officiating. Interment followed in St. Philip's Anglican Cemetery.
