Deputation Urges Council Re-Engage Present Constable

Lively Session Largely Attended - 'Nigger in Fence' Charges One Member of Deputation.

A deputation of thirty ratepayers appeared before the Richmond Hill Council Wednesday night and asked that the council reconsider the action taken at the last meeting in dismissing Constable S.A. Barraclough and urged that he be re-engaged. The meeting commenced in the clerk's office where the council sessions are regularly held but before the business had proceeded very far such a crowd was in attendance as to over-tax the seating capacity of the limited quarters and the meeting adjourned to the council chambers in Lorne Hall. The meeting which was postponed from Monday night owing to the forced absence on that night of Reeve Lunau was the centre of much local interest. There has been so much publicity concerning Richmond Hill constabulary and Police Court during recent weeks that the council meeting has been looked forward to with interest for many days. Many citizens came expecting fireworks, and the general impression after the meeting was that no one was disappointed. At times the discussion almost reached a point beyond the control of the chair and several times Reeve Lunau had to pound the table and call the members and speakers to order and to insist that "so and so" has the floor or to issue the strict warning that the speaking must be "one at a time."

At the September meeting the council passed a motion dismissing Constable Barraclough and instructing the clerk to advertise for applications for the position of constable, said applications to be in by October 9th, 30 days after the date of that meeting. The first crossing of swords last night came right off the bat after the reading of the minutes. The minutes recorded the motion of dismissal but said nothing of any instructions for the notification to the constable of the council's action. Councillor Chapman said that his motion stated that the clerk should notify the constable. The clerk stated that such was not his understanding and the Reeve said that such an omission was made in the motion. The contention of councillor Chapman was upheld by a majority of the council and the minutes were amended accordingly and adopted as amended.

Among the communications received by the council was one from Constable Barraclough stating that although he had no official notice, he understood that the council had dismissed him. He said that if there was any misunderstanding as to his duties he would be pleased to have any such misunderstanding cleared away and that it was his wish to cooperate with the council in carrying out their wishes.

A letter from York County Police Chief R.W. Phillips, commended Constable Barraclough as a capable and efficient officer who enjoyed the respect and admiration of both himself and Magistrate Keith of the County court. He said Constable Barraclough was a very valuable County officer and he hoped that the council would see their way clear to have him reinstated.

Ex-councillor F. J. Mansbridge headed the deputation, of citizens urging the reappointment of Constable Barraclough. He presented a petition signed by some ninety citizens and said that if necessary it could have been signed by ten times as many but no canvass had been made. Mr. Mansbridge stated that he had consented to act as spokesman for the deputation and for the petitioners who felt that in view of the fact that no charges of misdemeanor were made against Constable Barraclough his dismissal by the council was unwarranted. He said it was the general feeling that Constable Barraclough was an honest, dependable and efficient officer and that it would be very hard for the town to find a better man for the job. If there was any desire for an adjustment of the duties of the constable that was the privilege and duty of the council to take it up with the officer at any time and in any such matter he was sure that constable Barraclough would be only too glad to meet the members of the council.

Harry Edean said that as he understood the constable was not notified of any dismissal it was not necessary for him to say anything on his behalf.

Ex-Reeve T. H. Trench said he had not signed the petition as he did not like interfering with the council in the transaction of their business, but he always regarded Constable Barraclough as a courteous and capable officer and he would like to see him reinstated.

Ex-Reeve W.H. Pugsley—"I don't know what was the cause of all this trouble. I feel that constable Barraclough is a first class man who uses good judgment in the carrying out of his duties."

Ex-councillor J.A. Greene—"The people of Richmond Hill, the business men and the citizens generally have enjoyed splendid protection during the time of Constable Barraclough. The town has been free from any thieving he said because the law-breakers knew that our policeman was on the job all the time."

James Armstrong said he thought that from what he had seen of the activities of Constable Barraclough that he was doing his duty very conscientiously and very acceptably.

Councillor Sims asked a question which caused a great deal of cross fire and discussion and on which there was a variance of opinion. Mr. Sims asked, was Constable Barraclough paid by the County for work done outside of Richmond Hill. Reeve Lunau explained that Constable Barraclough was engaged by Richmond Hill at the rate of fifty cents an hour and he was to use his own judgment as to the hours he should put in, and that at the end of the month he billed the council for the hours served. The Reeve stated that if he did work outside Richmond Hill for the County he was paid by the County.

Councillor Chapman said he was told that the constable did not receive any pay from the County.

Councillor Davis—"I have it direct from the lips of the constable himself that he does not receive any money from the County for work done outside of Richmond Hill."

Reeve Lunau—O yes he does.

Mr. Sims—There you are, does he or does he not?

Mr. Chapman—Our magistrate told me that he did not.

Mr. Sims—"This council is being accused unjustly. For my part and for anything I've heard from any member of this council no one has said that Con. Barraclough is not all that has been said in his favor tonight. He is a good man, an efficient constable and all that."

Mr. Mansbridge—Then why dismiss him?

Reeve Lunau—Order, Mr. Sims is speaking.

Mr. Sims—Because of the fact that not having any definite stated duties this council felt he was spending too much time on County work when village work was being neglected. Our by-laws were not enforced and tonight we have cancelled one in regard to parking for that reason. As far as I am concerned Mr. Barraclough has every opportunity to apply for the position and all we want is that he play the game and do what the council wants done in the interests of the village. As far as the petition is concerned I think fifty per cent. of the signers would take their names off if it was passed around to day.

Mr. Mansbridge—I venture to say that we could get ten times as many on it Mr. Sims.

Mr. Sims—There has been no sourness as far as the council is concerned, no spirit of revenge, only a desire to have a show down and make sure that the constable does his duty.

A. D. Buchanan stated he had no axe to grind and no brief for anyone but took exception to the remark of Mr. Sims, regarding the petition. Several hundred names could have been secured had a canvass been made.

Councillor Wes. Middleton said that he seconded the motion for the dismissal of the constable because he felt that he was spending too much time in County work and neglecting the interests of the village and the enforcing of by-laws which are on the books. He has the opportunity to apply again and as far as I am concerned Constable Barraclough has always had a square deal from me and he will always have, he said.

Mr. Greene—Could any councillor give me the reason he was dismissed? Mr. Middleton—I've just given my reason if Mr. Greene was listening.

Mr. Greene—There's a nigger in the fence somewhere.

Mr. Pugsley—Someone has his knife in him. (applause).

Councillor Chapman—He wasn't attending to his duties as a village constable.

Mr. Mansbridge—Enumerate them. Councillor Chapman—Yes I will.

One of his first instructions as constable was to guard the school children across Yonge Street at noon. He hadn't been doing that for months. He was instructed to have the safety zones painted on Yonge Street before the 24th of May and they were just painted last week. I have nothing against Mr. Barraclough. He is a fine fellow, a good constable, but has he been attending to his duties? I could name other things he hasn't done.

Mr. Pugsley—Does the council expect the constable to go to every home and get the children from their mothers and bring them to school. I think we have enough to pay for the education of the children without doing that.

Mr. Chapman—No one said anything about going to the homes. That's talking nonsense. He was instructed to be on duty at the school crossings at the noon hour.

Councillor H. Davis said he supported Constable Barraclough, because he believed him to be an efficient officer and that it would be difficult for the town to get as good a man.

Councillor Sims stated, that in view of the fact that through an error Constable Barraclough had not been notified officially of his dismissal he suggested that the applications for the position of constable be not opened on Thursday, October 9th, as planned, but, that they be opened on Wednesday, October 15th, and that in the meantime the clerk forward Constable Barraclough his official notice of dismissal and that in the week intervening he could make application if he wished. That will give him a week if he wishes to apply and if he does I know this council will meet him more than half way.

Councillor Middleton moved, seconded by councillor Chapman, moved that the communications from Constable Barraclough and Mr. Phillips be laid over for consideration on the night of October 15th, when the applications for the position of constable would be opened. The motion carried.

Among the accounts of the evening Constable Barraclough's salary account for the month of September was presented. It amounted to $139.50.

The report of the Police Magistrate submitted showed a total of fines for the month of September of $280, and fees earned on outside cases $66.50, a total of $346.50. This less exchange and postage of $2.07, constable fees $8.50, and telephone $16.30 a total expense of $26.87 left
