CHRISTMAS GEMS
Lord, make my life thy song!
Help me to sing
While anvils ring;
Let brain and body join thee in thy toil,
Till love and labour build God's city;
foil
The lust and hate and selfishness and wrong
That spoil the song;
Till heaven's choirs
And pealing spires
Join in thy carillon.
—H. H. Tweedy.
It isn't far to Bethlehem town!
It's anywhere that Christ comes down
And finds in people's friendly face
A welcome and abiding place.
The road to Bethlehem runs right through
The homes of folks like me and you.
—Madeleine Miller

A Merry Christmas to all readers of the Liberal!
Rev. Mr. Polliot, of Riverdale United Church, Toronto, who occupied the pulpit in the United Church last Sunday afternoon preached an appropriate, thought provoking and inspiring sermon basing his remarks on the text, "Sin not against the child," and "Bring him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." He stressed the sacredness of the task of the Sunday school teacher in bringing those in her charge to Jesus Christ. "Even the fate of the nation is in his hands" said he for it is the character of her citizens that makes a nation great.

Miss Kathleen Dennis is spending a few weeks with her parents here. Miss Dennis will give an address at the Sunday School next Sunday. As Miss Dennis always has a bright message we would suggest everyone should be present at the last session of the school for 1930.
Miss Kirkpatrick is spending her holidays at her home.
Miss Mellicent Klinck gave an interesting account of her trip to the coast at the Young People's Meeting on Sunday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Winger and family are spending Christmas with friends at Ridgeway.
The boys and girls of No. 6 had a splendid closing program at their school on Thursday of last week. The event was well attended by friends and parents.

On Friday afternoon the school room of No. 7 was packed to the doors when the pupils entertained for two hours, with Rev. P. M. Peacock in the chair. A feature of the program was a contest in spelling for fourth class and a contest in Mechanical arithmetic for the third classes.

The prizes for fourth class were awarded to Helen Winger, with perfect score; Freda Henderson one error. The prizes in third classes were won by Marjorie Hart, and Alma Farquharson. What is wrong that no boys won a prize? Santa was on the scene with loads of presents.

On Friday evening a fine program was given by the pupils of No. 12, assisted by the Kidd brothers of Bloomington. A full house listened attentively to a carefully prepared program.

The pupils of No. 4 had the largest crowd they have had for many years listen to their rendering of their selections on Monday afternoon of this week. A pleasing feature of this event was the presence of every member of the school board. The boys and girls in each class showed their skill in penmanship and mechanical arithmetic to their attentive friends.

The Misses Brown, of Toronto, are spending a few days with their brother and sister here, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Brown.

Misses Dorothy Valliere and Vera Nichols received their certificates from the United Church a few days ago having passed with marks between eighty and one hundred on "Development of Christian Character."

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Master Woodrow and Miss Muriel visited with Mrs. Louis Nichols on Sunday.

We are sorry to report that Mr. W. Dennie is on the sick list at present. Everyone is apparently so busy preparing for the Christmas festivities that little discussion is heard of municipal matters at our corner.

Again we have reached the time of year when the hours of daylight are on the increase.

'Twas the Night Before Christmas

'Twas the night before Christmas when all through the house Not a creature was stirring not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that Saint Nicholas soon would be there.
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugarplums danced in their heads,
Mama in her kerchief and I in my cap
Had just settled our brains for a long Winter's nap;
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash,
The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below.
When what to my wondering eyes should appear
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver so lively and quick
I knew in a moment it must be Saint Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name.
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now Prancer! and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donner and Blitzen!
To to the top of the porch! To to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle mount to the sky,
So up to the house top the coursers they flew,
With a sleigh full of toys and Saint Nicholas too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof—
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a pedlar just opening his pack;
His eyes—how they twinkled! His dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses; his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up in a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow;
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath;
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly.
He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself;
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread;
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work
And filled all the stockings, then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose
And giving a nod up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight,
'Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night.'

The attendance at the annual Sunday school entertainment in the Community Church on Monday evening was encouraging to teachers and officers who had charge of the concert. The scholars under the guidance chiefly of Mrs. Farrants, Mrs. Huestis and Mrs. Booth, presented a splendid program of choruses, recitations and dialogues. The story of "The Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke was illustrated by lantern slides and given by Rev. A. E. Lunau and Leonard Baker. One of the features of the evening was the presentation by Geruace Huestis on behalf of the Sunday School of a gift to the pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Lunau were also remembered by the W.A. Santa Claus presented every Sunday School Scholar with a gift and Christmas Stocking. The Pastor and people appreciate the kindness of Richmond Hill United Sunday School and Headford congregation in helping to furnish Christmas baskets for the sick and needy at Richvale.
